LIME UNEQUALED AS A SOIL IMPROVER

Should Be Worked In During Cultivation.

W. E. HANGER.
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

Farmers everywhere have now started their spring work. Manure spreaders are busy getting manure out on fields to be plowed for corn. No doubt many are thinking of using lime on their fields. Why not use it on the field to be planted to corn? This is an excellent plan because the lime can be spread on the land after plowing and worked into the top layers of the soil at the same time that the seed bed is being prepared.

The mistake is often made of using too light an application. Not less than a ton of burned lime or two tons of ground lime stone or oyster shells should be used per acre. Such an application as this need not be given oftener than every once in five or six years so that the cost for lime would not be more than 50 or 60 cents an acre per year.

While the good effects of lime may not be very evident on the corn crop, it will no doubt increase the grain crop following and certainly stimulate the growth of clovers and grasses the following year. Probably in no other way can a like amount of money be expended to greater advantage.

In buying lime it has been found that if pure burned lime costs $2.75 per ton at the kiln, then hydrated lime or slacked lime should be $2.10 and ground limestone $1.50 per ton. What kind you should use depends entirely upon its quality, price, and the distance it can be hauled to advantage.

WE SHOULD HAVE BETTER GRASS YIELDS

Seeding Timothy To Itself With Liberal Top Dressing Doubles the Yield.

NICKOLAS SCHMITZ.
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

The yield of timothy hay in Maryland, both in quality and in the tons per acre is far below what could be profitably produced on the land now in meadow. In fact, farmers have harvested so many unsatisfactory crops of late years that they are inclined to try something new as a forage crop if anything can be found that would be an improvement on timothy, red top, or the clovers.

The remedy, I believe, is not to be found in a new crop, but in better cultural methods than those we already have. Recent experiments at the Maryland Experiment Station indicate that a much improved yield may be secured by seeding grass to itself in the early fall and by the proper use of fertilizers in the spring. These tests carried on in three fields, one of timothy, one of red top, and one of a mixture of timothy, red top, and clover showed that phosphoric acid when applied alone as in raw bone, acid rock, or any other material had very little effect on timothy, red top, or any other grass. On the other hand, nitrogen or ammonia, especially as found in Nitrate of Soda, regularly gave a large increase in yield.

Taking into account, the ease of applying the fertilizer and the quality of the hay, the best results were got ten by using equal parts of nitrate of soda and acid phosphate at the rate of 250 pounds of each per acre. As compared to strips of grass adjoining that had no fertilizer used on it the yield in 1912 was 1.33 tons per acre as against 2.94 tons where the above mixture was applied as a top dressing. In 1913 the yield was .97 tons, as against 2.93 tons or over three times the yield on land where no fertilizer was used: 250 pounds of nitrate of sode was found to be the most economical amount to use in making the greatest profits possible by top dressing.

The fertilizer should be applied as soon as the grass starts to grow.

BONE NECESSARY TO HEALTHY CHICKS

Builds Up the Framework Of Their Bodies and Keeps Them Healthy.

ROY H. WAITE.
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

All growing animals require mineral matter with which to build up a framework to support their bodies. The more rapidly an animal matures the larger the proportion of mineral material required in its feed during this growth. Most animals mature slowly enough so that they get sufficient ash from the ordinary feeds, but chickens grow very rapidly and if one isn't careful in feeding more flesh will be formed than can be supported by the bird's bones.

LEGWEAKNESS IN CHICKS.

A small flock of chickens on free range will usually get plenty of bone forming material from the bugs and insects they pick up, but in the case of large flocks there isn't enough to go around, especially if kept on a restricted run. Lime and ashes will help some, but are not enough. The safest plan is too keep some ground or granulated bone in a dish before the chicks at all times.

They will eat very little, but this little they want badly. Let's not have any weak-legged crooked-breasted, bump-backed, loose-feathered, unhealthy looking creatures in our back yards this spring. A few cents worth of bone will work wonders.

NEGRO'S BODY FOUND

In Mr. H. Clay Lusby's Woods. Had Been Missing a Week.

While walking through Mr. H. Clay Lusby's woods near town on Monday afternoon between five and six o'clock, Julian Brown and two other colored boys discovered the body of Andrew Johnson, colored, lying across a log in a stream. On Tuesday night of last week, during the performance of Kit Carson's Wild West show on the fair grounds, Constable Jack Jester and Deputy Sheriff Mark Perkins discovered a crap game in which Johnson was a participant. The officers raided the game, when all three of the participants made their escape by running towards Radcliffe marsh. The officers pursued them and Constable Jester arrested one of the negroes, after firing a shot in the air to frighten him. Mr. Jester says he did not see Johnson and did not know he was in the game until his body was found on Monday in the woods. Deputy Sheriff Perkins pursued the others and fired several shots in the air to frighten them but failed to get only one man. They were arraigned before Police Justice Kendall, who adjudged them not guilty. It is believed that Johnson, who had been drinking heavily, found his way to the woods, and fell in a drunken stupor across the log in the stream causing him to drown. State's Attorney Vickers was notified and on Monday evening accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Perkins he went to the scene and examined the body. On Tuesday morning Coroner Frank Smith summoned a jury of inquest of which Mr. Clifton L. Jarrell, was the foreman, and after reviewing the remains and questioning Brown and those who discovered the body, the jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning, no marks of any kind having been found on the body to indicate murder. Johnson had been missing for a week. Nothing was thought of his absence, however, other than that he was endeavoring to elude the officers.

Jewish New Year.

The Jewish New Year, known in Hebrew as Rosh Hashonah, will begin on Sunday evening and last until sunset Monday, The Orthodox, who celebrate two days, will also observe Tuesday.

New Year's Day ushers in the most solemn season of the Jewish year. It begins on the first day of the seventh month, a number of holy import on the Jewish calender.

According to the Biblical precept, the holiday should be observed by the blowing of the trumpet, the holding of a holy convocation and rest from servile occupation.

The blowing of the shofar serves the double purpose of calling the people to remembrance before the Lord and to arouse them to their shortcomings and to their duties in which they may have failed.

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.

Chestertown Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisious matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this Chestertown citizen's advice.

Mrs. Frank Robinson, Front St., Chestertown, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills certainly live up to the claims made for them. They benefited me after doctors' medicine and all else had failed. I was often dizzy and nervous and my back and head ached. The kidney secretions also annoyed me. When I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I immediately began using them and they did their work well, giving me prompt relief. I am now strong and well.
