Althea 9th In U.S. Net Rankings

NEW YORK — Rankings in women's tennis for the 1952 season, released over the week end by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, placed Althea Gibson, of this city in ninth position.

Miss Gibson, born in South Carolina and raised in Harlem, where she learned to play the game, thus became the first colored racqueter ever to be named among the top ten players of the world. Last year, she was ranked eleventh.

It was another first for the Harlem star, she having also earned the distinction of pioneering for her race at historic Forest Hills and Wimbledon.

Named above her were Maureen Connolly, San Diego, Cal.; Doris Hart, Coral Gables, Fla.; Shirley Frey, Akron, Ohio; Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Cal.; Nancy Chaffee Kiner, Palm Springs, Cal.; Anita Kanter, Ventura, Cal.; Pat Canning Todd, LaJolla, Cal.; and Baba M. Lewis, Newtonville, Mass. In tenth place was Julia Ann Sampson of San Marino, Cal.

Although Miss Gibson won no major tournaments during the past year, she again was crowned champion in the American Tennis Association, and performed well both indoors and outdoors on the national tourney circuit.

At The Ringside

By LUIX VIRGIL OVERBEA

CHICAGO (ANP) — Middleweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson apparently is on the threshold of a new life for him. He will remain in the spotlight, but he will have to do a lots more work to keep it shining on him.

Although Robinson, judging by his quotes, is tired of the boxing ring and would like to get out, there is still something about the roars of a fight fan that makes him want to linger for just one more fight.

When he retires, Robinson apparently wants to end his career with a brilliant victory so he may achieve everlasting glory. He probably would have retired last summer if the heat had not caught up with him, forcing him to lose his chance for the light-heavyweight championship of the world.

Would Have Quit

The ringsider believes that if Ray had won that bout, he definitely would have retired from the ring, leaving two titles vacant.

Ray's victories through the years have been so many and so brilliant that there really is little he can do that he already has not done. The only opponent worth opposing him in the 160-pound division is Randy Turpin of England. It appears that they will fight next summer in London.

Such a fight will give Robinson a great purse, and if he wins, it will give him redemption for the poor showing he put up there in 1951 when he lost his title to Turpin. Apparently his pride encourages Ray to return to London and show the British people what a great fighter he really is.

Last Bout

Robinson probably will make this bout the last. If he wins, his name should have great drawing power if he chooses to return to the entertainment field. Yes, the Sugar man is one smart ring hombre who has it made.

Tourney Coming Up

Although Ray Robinson, the middleweight king, says he will fight once more, the International Boxing Club is proceeding with bouts for what they think will be a vacated 160-pound crown.

Robinson has until Dec. 19 to bring in proof positive that he has contracted to defend his title or else New York will permanently vacate it. The rule, you know, is that each champion must defend his crown at least once every six months. Robinson's defense last came in April.

According to IBC plans, the tourney will be conducted on domestic and foreign fronts. Here in the United States Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu would meet Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N.J. Overseas, Randy Turpin of England would face Charles Humez of France.

The winners of these two fights would then face each other for the title.

Press Syndicate Rates Fla. Top Eleven; Va. State 4th

By ANP

By virture of playing the nation's most rugged schedule during the 1952 football season, the Florida A and M Rattlers have earned the rating from the Pigskin Huddle as the nation's leading football team.

Rated almost-even with the Rattlers were the nation's only two undefeated teams, the Lincoln (Mo.) Tigers and the Texas Southern Tigers. These two squads played each other to a 13-13 stand still on Oct. 25.

Trojans No. 4

Coming fourth were the Virginia State Trojans, until the last game of the season, the nation's only squad with a perfect record. This team ended the season with the best defensive record, allowing only 35 points to nine opponents, shutting out seven of them.

Prairie View's once-beaten Panthers are ranked sixth, and Morris Brown's thrice whipped Purple Wolverines are rated seventh. Once stopped Bethune Cookman and Maryland State are rated eighth and ninth, and Southern, 10th.

Met 7 Of Best 12

Rounding out the Huddle's baker's dozen are A and T, Grambling and Texas College.

How do the Rattlers happen to earn the top rating when they suffered two defeats this season. Of the top 12 teams in the nation, Fameee met seven of them, losing to Bethune-Cookman on a fluke safety and to an aroused Southern eleven.

The Rattlers met these teams while they were yet unbeaten: Morris Brown, Prairie View and Virginia State. Their only two setups were Benedict and Fort Valley. Their other non-rated victim was Allen which lost only to the top teams this season, and did defeat Morris Brown.

Spartans Trounce Dukes As League Season Opens

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — The Lapham Park Major Community Basketball League got off to a fine start on Wednesday evening with two fine games being on the schedule. This league, which is one of the best social center leagues in the city, boasts an array of teams such as the Milwaukee Kakers, Geronimos, Spartans, Trojans, Dukes, Clowns, Jets, and the Milwaukee Boys Club.

The league will play the feature game each evening at Lapham Park. The public is invited to see its favorite team in action. There is no admission charge.

In the first two games of the season the favorites came through with flying colors. The Vagabonds, champions last year have entered a team in the Municipal Leagues so the title race at Lapham Park is wide open.

Scott Is Star

The Spartan team won a thriller from the Dukes by a score 34 to 26. Although they had a big advantage due to their height, the Spartans were unable to cope with the smaller Duke team's speed. But the last quarter told the tale as the Spartans scored 12 points to 7 for the Dukes.

S. Scott, forward on the Spartans, was the star of the game by scoring 10 points for the winners. Ricky Simmons of the Dukes scored 11 points but was outplayed by Scott on defense. G. Goodloe, tall center was the difference. He put in three fast baskets in the last quarter to put the game on ice.

In the other game of the evening, the Clowns outlasted the Trojans in a battle that was nip and tuck until the last minute, the final score was 40 to 30. The score was tied at the half at 15 all but the second half was different. The Clowns came out fighting mad and their star forwards, Curtis Dalton and Warren Easter soon poured it on and scored 18 points between them.

The Jets will play the dark-horse of the league, the Geronimos, who have looked good in practice and definitely will be in the final fight for the trophies. Marvin Sprewer, the main stay of the Geronimos looks exceptionally sharp this year and should be one of the best players in the league. He will be ably supported by John Moses, Willie Foster and Earl Reed.

Hawk Cagers Win Debut By 101-46

PRINCESS ANNE, Md.—Maryland State College Hawks opened their 1952-53 basketball season with a rousing 101-46 triumph over the Wilmington YMCA Big Five here Monday night.

Leading from flag fall to finish, the shore college quint reached the halfway mark with a 43-21 lead. Coach Vernon McCain's substitutions were plentiful and on what they showed, exciting contests are promised for opponents of the Delmarva aggregation.

High scorer for the night was Gordon Harris, Keystone state product, who bagged 18 points. Frederic Douglass was runner up with 17 markers.

The Hawks are currently on their first Eastern swing where they must face Providence College, Hartwick and Scranton University.

Faculty Honors Dunbar Eleven

The city champion Dunbar High School football team was entertained by the school faculty recently, honoring its fine season performance in which it won six games and lost but one, that, a 14-12 decision to Armstrong, of Washington.

Dr. Carrington L. Davis, former principal of Dunbar, was the main speaker.

He emphasized the necessity of not only developing a strong body to withstand the vigors of the game, but also a good mind. Dr. Davis warned that concurrently with football promess there should be scholarship. Many great leaders received their start on the football field.
