IS DEADLY ENEMY OF PEACH CROP

Timely Spraying For Brown Rot Saves $35,000 Crop For One Grower.

T. B. SYMONS, Maryland Agricultural College.

During the season of 1912, J. G. Harrison & Sons, Berlin, Md., practically lost their whole crop of peaches on 10,000 trees through the attacks of Curculio and Brown Rot. In the year following, the Horticultural Department of the Agricultural College conducted a demonstration in the same orchard. As a result, the crop was saved with a net profit to the owners of $25,838, due without a question to the thorough methods of spraying employed.

A BANNER CROP.

Indeed, too much importance cannot be attached to the sprayings for fruit protection against insects and disease. Often the whole crop is lost through injury by Curculio, followed by Brown Rot. The Curculio winters in the adult stage, appearing just as the foliage develops on peaches and plums. It feeds upon the foliage for a little while, then, the female beetle, laying her eggs, does the principal injury to the fruit by making a semi-circular cut in which its eggs are laid. The egg hatches in a short time and the small larva makes its way into the center of the fruit and there develops. The fruit rots and drops, the larva, escaping into the ground and later developing into the adult beetle.

The beetle is controlled by spraying with Arsenate of Lead at the rate of 2 pounds to 50 gallons of water. This poison is usually combined with the self-boiled lime sulphur wash, a fungicide which will control Brown Rot.

The self-boiled lime sulphur is made by slaking 8 pounds of lime in a sufficient amount of water, and adding 8 pounds of sulphur when the lime begins to slack. The mixture must be kept stirred and the water added as needed, to keep a pasty condition until the lime is all slaked. The heat generated by the slaking lime causes the sulphur to mix physically with the lime in a very fine state, but should not be continued long enough to form much of a sulphide compound as shown by the mixture taking on a yellow or brown color. The mixture is then strained into the spray barrel and the arsenate of lead added.

CAUTION:—The Concentrated Lime Sulphur Solution, such as is used in dormant or early spring spraying should not be used on peach or plum foliage under any circumstances.

Where Brown Rot has previously appeared, the first application of the above mixture should be made just after the fruit sets and before the shucks are off the peaches. A second application two weeks later is very necessary and a third treatment a month before the fruit is ripe is very desirable. Not only will this treatment prevent injury from Curculio and Brown Rot, but also from Peach Scab and other diseases.

The instruction in the summer school is free to all teachers and others of the State. This means that those who enroll for the work will have living expenses only. The summer school is within the financial limits of every rural teacher of the State of Maryland.

WHAT TO PAY FOR YOUR FERTILIZER.

How To Figure the Cash Value Of a Fertilizer From the Analysis Given.

W. E. HANGER, Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

When we buy commercial fertilizer we are buying food for our crops just as we buy feeds for our livestock. Its value per ton to us depends largely on the kind of materials used in its make-up. Fertilizers are generally spoken of as 2-8-4 or 1-8-5 fertilizers according to their analysis, which means in the case of the 2-8-4 fertilizer that it contains 2 per cent. Nitrogen, 8 per cent. Phosphoric Acid, and 4 per cent. Potash. So when we have the analysis given, we ought to have a good idea of what a ton of a fertilizer is worth.

A simple and certain rule to follow is to multiply the per cent. of nitrogen by three, which in this case would be 2 times 3 or 6. Then add to this figure the per cent. available of Phosphoric Acid and that of Potash, which would mean with a 2-8-4 fertilizer, 6 plus 8 plus 4 or 18. By placing the dollar sign before this last figure, giving us $18, you will have the approximate cash value of a 2-8-4 fertilizer. If the amount of ammonia is given instead of the nitrogen multiply the per cent. of ammonia by 2¼ instead of 3.

To the value of the fertilizer we must add the cost of mixing the materials which is commonly reckoned at $5 a ton and this added to $18 will give $23 or close to what the selling price of a 2-8-4 fertilizer ought to be. We, of course, take it for granted that the fertilizer offered is up to its guarantee. If you have any doubts, you should write to the State Chemist at College Park for the standing of the fertilizer you think of buying.

BRAZIL AND ITS COLORS.

Flag Day There Has Now Become the Great National Festival.

In the republic of Brazil, where the ruling language is Portuguese and a welcoming hand is extended alike to the European and the Asiatic immigrant, great attention has been paid for some years to the cultivation of a spirit of patriotism.

The cult of the flag has become more and more ardent in the hearts of that people, and the "feast of the flag" each recurring November is celebrated with more and more pomp and enthusiasm all over the immense empire and on every Brazilian ship, wherever it may be. In a country noted for its numerous saints' days the celebration of Flag day has become the true festal day.

Commenting on this, Le Bresil Economique of Rio Janeiro says: "Our people are imaginative and simple. A flag undulating in the breeze as it passes by to the strains of martial music, that the officers salute with the sword and before which everybody uncovers, speaks more strongly to the heart of the people than any dry historic date which presents nothing in the concrete and which to the ignorant recalls nothing of significance."

The lesson of the flag is taught to all the children of the schools in Brazil, and on Flag day they gather in the public squares of the city and town and, as in the United States, sing patriotic hymns.—Indianapolis News.

COLLEGE HAZING.

It Was Called "Wrecking" In Carthage In St. Augustine's Time.

At most American colleges it is called "hazing;" at West Point it is called "crawling" and at English schools "fagging" is often applied. When St. Augustine was a boy they called it "wrecking."

In a translation of his "Confessions," for which I am indebted to a learned clerical friend, St. Augustine relates what the boys did at the University of Carthage:

"I would take no part in the wild doings of the 'wreckers,' a cruel and devilish name, which was looked upon as the stamp of the best set. I went about with them, and of some of them I made friends, yet I always disliked their ways of going on their wreckings, their wanton attacks upon the shyness of freshmen and the unprovoked affronts with which they carried on their malignant amusement. Nothing could be more like the conduct of devils, and what name could be fitter for them than 'wreckers.'"

That sounds as if the Carthage sophomore was fully as much endowed with self importance as the American sophomore. I may add that St. Augustine's criticism of "wrecking" is one more ancient proof that "boys will be boys."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Labby's Long Walk.

In "Bohemian Days In Fleet Street" is this Labouchere incident, which happened when he was in the diplomatic service and was sent on a mission to St. Petersburg:

Before starting he had a dispute with the foreign office about his expenses. The foreign office had its idea of the scale; Labouchere had his. But the office refused to reconsider its decision. Labouchere took his leave, crossed the channel and was to all appearance lost. A week after the appointed time he had not arrived at St. Petersburg. A representative of the foreign office was sent out on his trail. He was traced to Paris and from thence to Vienna, where he was run to earth. In reply to his discoverer he coolly said, "The foreign office refused to pay me my expenses, and I'm walking to St. Petersburg."

Precocity.

Little Willie is really too precocious. I met him the other day with his school bag under his arm.

"Well, well," said I, "and so you go to school now, eh?"

"Sure, Mike!" said little Willie. "Ain't I over six?"

"And do you love your teacher?" I asked.

"Aber nit!" said little Willie. "The old hen's too old for me."—Washington Star.

Adam's Apple.

The projection in the front of the throat in men, denoting the position of the thyroid cartilage, is styled "Adam's apple." It develops rapidly usually when the voice "breaks," being comparatively small in both children and women. The name arose from the tradition that when Adam attempted to swallow the apple in paradise it stuck in his throat, giving rise to the swelling since seen in all his adult male descendants.

Ladies Be Careful.

Fashionable hats this season will call for all kinds of decorations and many of them will call for birds of various kinds perched on the turbans. The ladies of Maryland will have to be careful about wearing stuffed birds on their hats or else they will be called upon to pay a fine of five dollars each for every such bird found in their possession. Even old birds that were worn several years ago cannot again be used without trouble.

The first case was tested in Baltimore last week when a milliner was found with a stuffed oriole in her window. She had to pay a fine of five dollars.

The state game Warden has been tipped off that birds of various hues are expected to come into vogue this season. Three hundred inspectors all over the State have been instructed to watch the milliners to see that the law is not violated. This is why George Miller, an inspector, viewed the display of fall millinery in Mrs. Horwitz's window, at 542 N. Gay St., Baltimore, as well as all the other millinery display windows. In Mrs. Horwitz's window he spied a little black and yellow bird and swore out the warrant.

The birds campaign will be actively waged in the State, said Mr. Miller. All persons having stuffed birds in their possession will be arrested and subject to a $5 fine. All persons found with red birds, caged, in their possesion will also be dealt with.

SUMMING UP THE EVIDENCE

Many Chestertown People Have Been Called as Witnesses.

Week after week has been published the testimony of Chestertown people—kidney sufferers—backache victims—people who have endorsed many forms of kidney, bladder or urinary disorders. These witnesses have used Doan's Kidneys Pills. All have given their enthusiastic approval. It's the same everywhere. 30,000 American men and women are publicly recommending Doan's—always in the home papers. Isn't it a wonderful, convincing mass of proof? If you are a sufferer your verdict must be "Try Doan's first."

Here's one more Chestertown case.

Mrs. I. M. Blyman, High St., Chestertown, says: "One of our family had backache and other symptoms of weak kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally procured from Toulson's Drug Store and they gave relief."

Mrs. Blyman is only one of many Chestertown people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys brother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Blyman recommends the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores.
