BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST

¶The world's base-ball championship series was opened in Philadelphia yesterday afternoon between the Boston Nationals and the Philadelphia Americans. Battery for Athletics, Bender—Shank; Boston, Rudolph—Dowdy. Score first inning, 0–0. Third inning, Boston 2, Athletics 1. Fifth inning, Boston 6, Athletics 1. End of ninth inning, Boston 7, Athletics 1.

¶A ton of rock fish was caught on Love Point last week by pound netters.

¶Mr. James W. Chapman will please accept our thanks for a basket of fine Stayman wine-sap apples.

¶Washington College was defeated in the first football game of the season at Haverford, by the strong team of that college.

¶The residence of Mrs. Ellen Beck, on Maple avenue, has been given a new coat of paint this week by contractor Frank H. Howard.

¶A floating theatre with thirty people in the cast, has been giving nightly performances at the Electric Light wharf this week.

¶This week will practically close the tomato season in Kent and Queen Annes. The season has been a short and unprofitable one to most of our tomato growers.

¶Our grain buyers declare that corn will not be a fancy price this season. No quotations are offered yet on new corn, and old corn is quoted at 80 cents in the city.

¶The ladies of Emmanuel P. E. Church will give a muscal and supper November 16 and 17. The musical will be under the direction of Mr. W. W. Chapman Particulars later.

¶A most enjoyable and profitable time was spent at Fairlee Grange on Wednesday evening. A special meeting is planned for the 21st, and an oyster scald in the near future.

¶Three new motor trucks, to be used on the State roads at Cambridge, crossed Chester bridge one day this week. Each truck weighed a trifle over four tons. They came from Pennsylvania.

¶Mr. Geo. T. Peacock, who has been manager at the Peerless Fertilizer Co.'s factory, near Chestertown, for a number of years, resigned his position this week, and is succeeded by Mr. Lawrence Duyer.

¶The large strawrick on the Jarrell-Wickes farm, on the outskirts of town, tenanted by Mr. Page Hickman, was destroyed by fire at midnight on Friday. Mr. Hickman does not know how the fire originated.

¶Mr. Owen C. Smith has rented the residence on Washington avenue now occupied by Mr. James H. Brice, and will remove there with his family. Mr. Smith contemplates engaging in business in Chestertown.

¶The Caroline Sun on Saturday published the following clipping: "Mr. O. Brice, of Chestertown, in an attempt to pass a wagon on the temporary Hillsboro bridge, on Saturday morning last, ran into the railing of the bridge, causing his Ford automobile to turn a complete somersault. The machine, together with Mr. Brice, landed in Tuckahoe Creek, and it was lucky for the occupant that he escaped." There is no such person in Chestertown as Mr. O. Brice, and neither Mr. James Brice nor his son, Mr. James H. Brice, know anything about such an accident. Mr. Brice lives in Betterton.

¶This week will practically close the tomato season in Kent and Queen Annes. The season has been a short and unprofitable one, generally speaking.

¶The next run the Chestertown Automobile club will make is to the big supper to be given for the benefit of St. Dennis' Catholic Church, Galena, November 3rd and 4th. The ladies will be invited to go on this trip.

¶The French Government has purchased 100,000 horses and mules for Cavalry purposes in this country within the past two weeks. Dealers say that horses will be higher in price next year than for years.

¶The Ford car belonging to Mr. Paul Comegys, of Millington, got beyond its occupant's control on Sunday, owing to a dense fog, and ran off a bridge near Millington. None of the occupants were hurt and the car only slightly damaged.

¶The Chestertown Junior Chautauqua has been awarded the Junior Banner by the Pennsylvania Chautauqua Association to the boys and girls of Chestertown who helped to make the Chautauqua week such a success here this summer, and helped make Chestertown the best Chautauqua town of the circuit.

¶The editors of the TRANSCRIPT are indebted to the managers of the "Wild West" show which was held in the back yard of Master Gilbert Byron last Saturday, for complimentary tickets. We very much regret that other duties prevented our attending. Those present, however, tell us many thrilling and interesting stunts were given. The menagerie was disappointing, as their only animal, Ponto, the setter dog belonging to Master John Collins, forsook the management and went in the country for a run.

¶Mr. H. P. Skipper, State Live Stock Commissioner, near Chester river bridge, paid a visit to Centreville on Tuesday and examined the fine herd of cattle of Mr. Wm. McKenney, on the Ashley farm, near that town, and after testing the herd for tuberculosis found nearly every cow infected. Whereupon the herd was condemned and later on shipped to Baltimore where they will be killed. This is quite a loss to Mr. McKenney for the law only allows about fifteen dollars per head for each cow condemned. The inspection was made at the request of Mr. McKenney.—Centreville Observer.

Maryland Week in November.

The Maryland Week show will be held November 16 to 21, at the Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore. Maryland week includes the Maryland State Horticultural Society, Maryland Crop Improvement Association, State Dairymen's Association and State Bookkeepers' Association. One of the interesting features will be the essay contest open to boys and girls of the state who attend the public schools. The subject selected for the boys is: "Why the Maryland Farmers' Boys Should Remain on the Farm." The winner will receive $20 in gold. For the girls the subject is: "How Social Conditions in Rural Life in Maryland Can Be Bettered by the Daughters of Maryland Farmers." The winner will receive $20 in gold. Premiums are offered for the best wheat, corn, oats, hay, forage crops, grass and clover seeds, buckwheat, barles and tobacco, and all kinds of fruits and dairy products. With the prospects for a large crop of apples this year, it is expected that this disply will be the largest in the history of the association.

PROF. BESLEY IN CHESTERTOWN.

Delivers an Interesting Lecture on the Preservation of Forests.

Prof. W. F. Besley, Chief of the Bureau of Forestry of John Hopkins University, addressed some of the ladies and gentlemen of St. Paul's Church, also some interested ladies and gentlemen of Chestertown, together with the Federated Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard last Thursday evening.

Prof. Besley brought his lantern and slides and gave a most interesting talk upon the law passed by the last Legislature for the preservation of the forests. "Maryland is taking a most advanced stand among the States in this matter," he said. "The law declares that all trees along the highways and streets belong to the public and not to the individuals and that none of these trees can be cut or in any way multilated without the consent of the State Board of Forestry. Mr. Harry L. Boyd, who has recently been chosen forest warden for Kent county, will enforce the law."

There were some interesting slides showing how the new State Board of Forestry was rendering practical assistance to the owners of woodland and how they were encouraging the planting of trees by furnishing them at cost. The new board is also making arrangements for fire protection of the forests.

Prof. Besley was enthusiastic about the old oaks in St. Paul's church yard, and some members of the parish are hoping to have these fine trees "doctored."

A committee was appointed at a meeting of the sewing society of St. Paul's last Wednesday evening to undertake this work.

The new law also prohibits the placing of signs along the road sides. This does not apply to the signs giving directions placed along the road by the Automobile Club.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

JAMES S. HARRIS.

Mr. James S. Harris, one of Kent's most prominent citizens and farmers, died at his residence near Still Pond Wednesday morning at one o'clock A. M. after a short illness from heart trouble, aged 76 years. Mr. Harris is a man who will be much missed in this county, as he was prominent in most of its enterprises. He was a moving and inspiring spirit in progressive methods of farming and fruit culture. A leader in the agricultural societies of the county and State, having held the highest offices in these organizations. He was also active in church work and a devoted member of the Still Pond M. E. Church. He received his education in the public schools of this county and has lived here all his life except two years spent in Baltimore and two years in the mining districts of California. Mr. Harris is the owner of several fine farm in this county, and died possessed of a fine estate which he had accumulated by intelligent industry. For many years he has been a director of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland and was one of its most useful members.

In politics he was a Democrat, and always took an active and prominent part in the councils of his party. He has held the office of a member of the School Board, Chief Judge of the Orphans' Court, and in 1905 he was nominated and elected to the Maryland Legislature, and renominated and elected in 1907, both times without opposition in either the nomination or election. He enjoyed the utmost confidence of all classes of citizenship of his county. He was always ready and willing to lend assistance to his fellow man.

In 1866 he married Miss Margaret Grier, of Baltimore, who survives him with four sons: James G., Carson W., Arthur L. and Walter Harris. Funeral services were held at his late residence at two o'clock yesterday, conducted by Revs. L. E. Barrett, of Chestertown, and F. X. Moore, of Still Pond; interment at Still Pond cemetery. The bearers were his four sons, nephew and grandson: James G., Carson W., Arthur L. and Walter Harris, L. Harris Crewe and Rodger Harris. Wm. H. Krusen, of Still Pond, undertaker in charge.

MRS. ANNA CRANE.

Mrs. Anna Crane, widow of the late Dr. Crane, of Millington, died at her apartments in that town Wednesday night after years of lingering illness, aged 82 years. Mrs. Crane had lived all her life in and near Millington. Possessed of a lovable and kind nature, her life has been full of many kind deeds to those in distress. She is survived by two sons and one daughter, Messrs. John and Heber Crane, of Philadelphia, and Miss Anna, of Millington. Funeral services were held at Holy Cross P. E. Chapel, Millington, on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock, conducted by Rev. Mr. Birnbach. Interment at the Millington cemetery.

MRS. EUGENIA WICKES.

Mrs. Eugenia Wickes, wife of Mr. Robert Wickes, died at the residence of her husband, near Rock Hall, Wednesday, Oct. 7th, after a lingering illness, age 39 years. Funeral services were held at her residence yesterday at 2 P. M., conducted by Father Urner. Interment at St. Paul's. The bearers were: J. Biddle Hossinger, Harry Nicols, Allan A. Harris, Dr. W. O. Selby, Elmer E. Leary and Carroll Wilson. C. L. Dodd undertaker in charge.

Tree Warden for Chestertown and Vicinity.

Under a new State law all the trees standing within the right-of-way of public highways and along the sidewalks of incorporated towns become public shade trees, under the care and protection of the State through the State Board of Forestry. Heretofore the authority over such trees has not been clearly defined, generally the property owner who owns the abutting property claimed them as his trees, the town or road supervisors, as the case might be, claimed a certain amount of jurisdiction because they were along the public highway or street, while the pole line companies, which have a franchise or permit to use the roads or streets, claimed that whenever such trees interfered with their wires they had the right to cut or trim them. This has led to much ill feeling and many controversies and has proven very unsatisfactory. Now the status of these trees is clearly defined, and they are recognized as part of the improvements of the road or street, belonging not to the individual but to the public generally.

This new law makes it a misdemeanor for any one to cut, trim or in any way injure one of these trees without a permit from the State Board of Forestry. The purpose of the law is to prevent the mutilation or reckless cutting of these trees, which add so much to the attractiveness of the streets and roadsides and are a source of comfort to the people. It takes many years to grow shade trees and they are worthy of the very best care and protection of the State.

For the town of Chestertown and the outlying sections the Governor of the State, upon recommendation of the State Forester, has commissioned Mr. Harry L. Boyd to act as the local tree warden. Every one interested in the protection of trees should co-operate with Mr. Boyd in this good work to see that the law is strictly enforced and to see that the community receives the full benefits under its provisions.

Choral Club to Render Queen Esther.

Under the efficient direction of Mr. William Walter Chapman, the Chestertown Choral Club is meeting promptly at 7.30 Tuesday evening of each week in order to become properly trained for the beautiful cantata, "Queen Esther", which will be rendered in the near future.

About forty are present each night and it is quite likely more voices will be added as the play progresses.

It is quite an undertaking to perfect an entertainment of this sort and Mr. Chapman is to be commended for the success he is having with the local talent and for the energy he is contributing to train the voices of local vocalists.

Merchants Protest to Manufacturers of Abe Cohen's Price Cutting.

We have received several letters from different firms in which they state that the local merchants protest against my carrying certain brands of goods owing to the fact that I sell the same goods for less money. The success of my business has been based on the foregoing methods, and I propose to continue the same in the future.

To prove to the public that I am the master of my own business affairs I will introduce the greatest profit-sharing sale ever held in this county, and want every man, woman and child to participate in same. Read every line of page 8. ABE COHEN.

IN THE CHURCHES.

"Rally Day" on Sunday, October 11, a Christ Methodist Protestant Church, Dr. W. R. Graham, pastor. Preaching by the pastor at 10.30 A. M. and 7.30 P. M. Special Rally Day exercises in the Sunday school 2.30 P. M.; Christian Endeavor service 6.45 P. M. Mid-week service Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

The Young Men's Club, of Christ M. P. Church, was pleasantly entertained yesterday evening at the home of the president, Mr. Charles N. Satterfield.

President H. H. Klinefelter is arranging a fine program for the County Sunday School Convention to be held in St. James M. P. Church on Wednesday, October 28th. Christ M. P. Sunday school elected eleven delegates after the session of Sunday school last Sunday. They are: Miss Mary Davis, Mrs. C. N. Satterfield, Mrs. Thomas D. Bowers, Misses Clara Usilton, Fannie Baker, Mary Knight, Maud Duyer, Joseph N. Wheatley, Chas. N. Satterfield, Fred G. Usilton and Thomas D. Bowers.

"Peace Day" was observed in all the churches of the town on Sunday and appropriate sermons were preached by the pastors. Interesting exercises were also held in the Sunday schools, C. E. and Epworth League meetings.

Mrs. Roberta E. A. Straughn, wife of Rev. S. L. Straughn, died at her home, Roland Park, Baltimore, September 24th, aged 60 years.

Chestertown M. E. Church, Rev. L. E. Barrett, D. D., pastor. Services next Sunday, Oct. 11, as follows: 10.30 A. M., preaching by the pastor, subject: "The Great Question and the Answer;" 2.15 P. M., Sabbath school and pastor's Bible class; 7 P. M., Epworth League song service; 7.30 P. M., preaching by the pastor, subject: "The Young Man and His Pleasures." Prayer meeting every Wednesday evening at 7.30. All invited.

In accordance with the proclamation of President Woodrow Wilson, which requested all christians to observe last Sunday as a day for prayer in behalf of world peace, the majority of churches in Kent county arranged for special prayer services, at which time earnest pleas were made for the cessation of hostilities in Europe. Many ministers delivered sermons in conjunction with the prayer services, and large crowds attended nearly every church. The day was observed throughout the Nation as "Peace Day," and prayers were offered for peace in every church, practically, within the United States.

Christ M. P. Sunday school will observe Rally Day to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon. An interesting program has been arranged.

American Road Congress.

"Overstopping all other road problems in its importance is that of maintenance," says Logan Waller Page, director of Public Roads and President of the American Highway Association. "The destructive agencies of traffic and the elements are unceasing in their activities, and it is idle talk of permanent roads any more than to speak of a house, a fence, or a railroad ties as permanent," says Mr. Page. "The public roads to-day, by reason of the exceptionally destructive traffic conditions, are more costly in constuction and this is continually increasing with the advance in the prices of labor and material. It is criminally wasteful, therefore, to invest large sums of public money in building the highways demanded by traffic, unless the investment is conserved by adequate maintenance. Without such adequate maintenance a road costing anywhere from $5,000 to $15,000 per mile may go to ruin in a year or two, thus involving a permanent loss of considerable magnitude.

"When it is considered that the aggregate expenditure on roads in the United States is well over $200,000,000 annually, the seriousness of the question is apparent. I look to the conference of highway officials which will be held during the Fourth American Road Congress, which meets in Atlanta, Georgia, on November 9, to devote much attention to road maintenance, and that the accumulative moral effect of their findings will go far towards bringing legislatures and county boards to a realization of the necessity for prompt and efficient action. The roads should be classified and suitable, in organization and money, provided according to the importance of the representative classes of roads."

One of the questions which the Congress will discuss is that relating to the revision of road laws. A complete compilation of the road laws of all the states will be available for the session devoted to legislation and it is expected that in outlining bases for revision, maintenance will be given particular attention.

CHAMPION RIDING EXPERTS.

Wheeler Bros. Circus Shows Replete With Great Equestrian Feature.

The new and wonderful European arenic features that have been added to the Wheeler Bros. Shows appearing here Saturday, October 17, are many and varied, but none stand out so prominently in the brilliant galaxy of star feature acts as the Leroy-Sexton Troupe, now seen for the first time in America. These clever people are acknowledged the champion riding experts of Europe, and appear in what is classed as the only original equestrian acts known to the circus for the past century. Their simplest feats are not within the range of accomplishment of the average equestrian, and their more heroic efforts are the bane of envious rivals. They are noted for treir dextrous individual and conjunctive performances, which embrace a series of riding and athletic stunts entirely new to the American arena, concluding with simultaneous bounding leaps from the ground to the backs of horses. The certainty of execution with which all their feats are accomplished gives a finished touch that is so frequently lacking in ordinary riders. The Leroy-Sexton Troupe are not alone, however, in the Wheeler Bros. equestian contingent. There are many other riders of both sexes whose names are synonymous with the best and greatest in equestrian achievements and the majority of whom are progeny of illustrious riding families, thus combining acquired skill with hereditary genius. They represent every school and style of riding—bounding, jockey, somersaulting, hurdle, menage, and race riders and heroic horsemanship of the frontier.

A Company of genuine Cossack Riders in native costume, give an exhibition of Daring Whirlwind Riding, which has never been equalled. Postively the greatest act of its kind ever offered by any traveling organization.

Foot-Ball.

Haverford College defeated the Washington College boys at foot-ball last Saturday on the former's grounds. The score was 9 to 0. Our boys put up a good game. A forward pass and a drop kick by Haverford did the trick. The Washington College boys were unable to score because they could not hold the long forward passes. The punting of Brown, a Chestertown boy, was the feature.
