ALL HANDS WANT IT!

What? Why the Newnam Piano. And when once the musician's hands touch the keys of this marvelous instrument, all other piano's fade into distance. If you think this is only a selling argument, come in and try any piano in stock. A few chords sounded on the Newnam will be sufficient to convince you that this is "the" piano for you.

Elgin Watches For Women

PRACTICAL time-pieces. We emphasize this because some folks are apt to regard the tiny dainty models made for women as something merely decorative.

EVERY one has a double roller escapement—a device affording greater protection and service—used only in Elgin watches for women. No expense is spared in making every grade and size of Elgin watch the best of its kind. That is why we unhesitatingly recommend the Elgin watch for women.

Choice of three sizes and several grades in filled and solid gold cases, priced from $15.00 to $75.00.

LOCAL MATTERS

Named to Farmers' Congress.—Governor Goldsborough appointed last week delegates from each of the counties in the State to the 34th Annual National meeting of the Farmers' National Congress, which has been in session in Fort Worth, Texas, since last Wednesday. The delegates from Kent are Wm. G. Smyth and Fred H. Cornelius; from Queen Annes, Charles M. Lloyd and Harry P. Skipper.

The Proper Alumnus Spirit.—Miss Ruth Clauson, a graduate of Washington College, accompanied her brother to Washington College recently and saw that he was matriculated as a student. Miss Clauson has a great fondness for Washington College and for President James W. Cain, and the spirit manifested in inducing her brother to become a student at her alma mater is the kind of spirit which, if manifested by every Alumnus of the college, would fill its halls to overflowing. And this is the kind of spirit that every Alumnus should manifest. Let "Win one for Washington" be our motto, fellow Alumni.

BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mr. George French is improving his pretty home on Mill street with an attractive dress of paint.

R. Groome Parks, attorney for Mike Butler, has decided to remove the suit for damages against Chestertown, for $10,000, to Centreville.

Kennedyville is enjoying a building boom. There are four new and attractive dwellings in course of erection in the progressive town.

H. Sachs & Son have organized a "Pressing Club." Get Billy and Joe to tell you about it. And it is to your advantage to join that club.

The drough in this county is again serious. Many wells in various sections of the county are dry, and late potatoes and pastures are suffering terribly.

Mr. H. J. Kragle, an expert jeweler and graduate optician, of Clearfield, Pa., has accepted a position with Mr. J. S. Kreeger, the Cross street jeweler.

The October term of the Circuit Court will convene on Monday. There are a number of important cases on the dockets and the term may be a long one.

Vansant & Newsome have installed a new hat case made at home by Contractor W. T. Pippin. Other improvements have been made in this neat and up-to-date store.

Dan Prettymen, employed at Mr. B. F. Rash's, while hauling in hay Monday, upset the wagon and broke his left arm. Dr. H. B. Simmons set the broken bones.

Messrs. Biggs & Peacock, the well-known local trainers, finished racing at Mt. Holly, N. J., last week and their string of fine racers is now in winter quarters.

The Rock Hall Council Jr. O. U. A. M. No. 149 will celebrate their 19th anniversary in Rock Hall lodge room Thursday evening, Oct. 22, at 8 o'clock. State Councilor E. M. Thomas, of Baltimore, will be present and make an address.

The 233-acre Nicholson farm on Bohemia Manor, Cecil county, has been purchased by William Price, of Middle Neck, for $19,000.

Mr. John H. Moffett, of Worton, is advertising some fine Rhode Island Red Cockerels for sale, and Mr. Thomas D. Bowers has four fine Buff Rock Cockerels which he will sell cheap.

County Commissioner W. Fletcher Melvin is the latest to join the automobile fraternity. He has purchased a five passenger Ford touring car from Mr. J. F. Thompson, agent.

Mr. Arlington L. Sparks has a beautiful doll on display in his window on High street which is being raffled off at 10 cents a chance for the benfit of Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The floating theatre, which showed to crowded houses here last week, has gone to Centreville with a wad of Chestertown money. We wonder if the patrons got "value received" for their money.

Mr. James T. Crew and family, of Betterton, have moved for the winter months from the main building of their hotel to the Annex. They are prepared to accommodate any guests with board and comfortable lodging.

Dr. E. A. Scott and Mr. Harry Todd, of Galena, have joined the automobile ranks, the former having purchased a Buick from Davis Bros., while Mr. Todd has purchased a Ford from Mr. J. F. Thompson.

Mr. Frank Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Gill, of Chestertown, has been appointed rural route carrier at Galt's. Mr. Gill took the examination more than a year ago, and will make a capable official.

The firm of W. S. & A. M. Culp was the second lowest bidder for the erection of the big armory in Elkton. The successful bidder was Levi Patterson, ex-County Commissioner of Cecil county, whose bid was $26,450. The Culp firm's bid was $28,000.

Mr. Charles E. Kirby, one of Chestertown's hustling merchants, has had an up-to-date slaughter house erected on Mr. J. Gale Usilton's farm directly on Radcliffe Creek. Mr. Kirby will, from now on, have all his slaughtering done at home.

Wheeler's big three-ring circus will show in Chestertown on the fair grounds this afternoon and evening. Big street parade this morning. The owner of the show is thinking of renting the fair grounds for winter quarters for his outfit.

Among those who have recently purchased new autos are J. Waters Russell, and John M. Connor, of Galt's who bought Fords, Mrs. Claude F. Parks, who bought a six-cylinder Buick from Graham, Clements & Sutton, and Mr. Walter T. Pippin, who has purchased a "Saginaw."

Mr. Wm. McKenney, Jr., of Centreville, was quite painfully injured on Sunday evening on the State road in Queen Annes, while riding in a runabout auto with Messrs. W. L. Holton, Jr., and Robert Price. Mr. McKenney was riding on Mr. Price's lap when the car skidded, throwing Mr. McKenney to the road, tearing his clothing and bruising his arms and limbs considerably. He is rapidly recovering.

Masters John Collins and William Smith won the wireless station outfit offered by the clothing firm of Vansant & Newsome for securing the greatest number of votes given with cash purchases.

Now is the time for our farmers and property owners to insert their advertisements in the TRANSCRIPT against trespassing. The charge is moderate, and we can also furnish trespass notices at small cost.

The next big matinee of the season will be held at Radcliffe Park next Saturday afternoon, commencing at one o'clock. Some of the best horses on the peninsula will be entered in the four good races which will be carded.

There will be a special meeting of the Fairlee Grange in their hall at Fairlee on Wednesday afternoon next at 4 o'clock. On Saturday, October 24th, at 1 o'clock the grange will hold an oyster scald on Capt. Middleton's shore. All Fairlee grangers are invited to attend both occasions.

Washington College foot-ball squad will go to Baltimore to play Johns Hopkins University team to-day. Boys, don't let Paul Wilkinson, Joe Branham and Frankie Bowers beat you. You know that Wilkinson boy has got some punch, and Bowers is as slippery as an eel. So go after 'em.

Hope H. Barroll, Esq., has sold to Mr. Wm. A. Hyland the Jennie Reigel property, situated in Galena and which Mr. Barroll offered at public sale recently, but withdrew for want of a sufficient bid. The price is private. This property adjoins the property of Mr. Hyland in Galena.

We sincerely hope that the teachers of the county will urge a number of their pupils to write competitive essays on the subjects mentioned in last week's TRANSCRIPT for Maryland week. A prize of $20 is worth going after and we feel sure that Kent has a boy and girl that can prepare a prize winning essay Let's get busy and try.

The inclement weather prevented the general parade of the school children yesterday. However the Chestertown High School, Worton school, a part of Massey and Hunesville schools braved the elements and gave an interesting parade. The Chestertown Band furnished good music. The athletic sports were held at the school in the afternoon.

The tomato season closed this week. C. W. Kibler & Son, who represented Numsen & Co., shipped 70,000 baskets from Deep Landing, and 55,000 baskets from Rolph's. The season was longer and better at Deep Landing than last year, beginning August 14th and closing October 15th. This is the first year the firm has handled tomatoes from Rolph's. The growers in Smithville section, we understand, averaged six tons per acre.

The new road on Cross street from High to the Pennsylvania depot is completed, and the work of improving Queen street is being pushed rapidly. Superintendent Adkinson is giving the town an excellent job. The property holders along the new High street driveway are seeding their grass plots, and when the grass begins to grow next spring that thoroughfare will be the prettiest of any town in the State.

Chestertown's fall rose and dahlia display is gorgeous. Among those who have fine displays are Mrs. Thomas D. France, Miss Fannie Baker, Mrs. Fred G. Usilton, Mrs. Rumsey Anthony, Mrs. C. C. Jones and Mrs. Thomas D. Bowers. Within two weeks the magnificent chrysanthemum, the queen of all flowers, will be in bloom, and there will be some fine specimens. Mrs. Belle Smith and Mrs. Wm. H. Lambert have a number in full bloom now and they are beautiful.

It would be a capital idea if one or more of the Granges in Kent county would prepare an exhibit of farm products for the display in the Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, November 16 to 21, during Maryland Week show. Kent county has been backward in this respect. One of the most attractive features of the great York fair, which we attended last week, was the complete and beautiful exhibit of the Loganville, Pa., Grange. They had everything raised on the farm or in the garden, from a mammoth watermelon to sunflower seed, and as we examined that fine corn, which yields 125 bushels per acre—70 pounds to the bushel, we formed the impression that Loganville Grangers are some farmers. Kent county can make just as creditable an exhibit in Baltimore and it should do so.

The Rt. Rev. Wm. Forbes Adams, D. D., will visit St. Paul's Church for Confirmation Sunday, October 18. Service at 11 A. M. The offering for the Bishop. Everybody welcome.

Rev. Wilson Sutton, late curate of Trinity Parish, New York, and who has been taking a past graduate course in Oxford University, England, has returned home, because the European War has closed the University. Rev. Mr. Sutton will preach in Shrewsbury Church to-morrow (Sunday) morning at eleven o'clock.

Rt. Rev. Wm. Forbes Adams, Bishop of the Diocese of Easton, conducted service and confirmed a class of two in Shrewsbury Church on Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock. Following the service a splendid luncheon and reception were given in the rectory by the ladies of the parish. Quite a number of the members of Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chestertown, attended the service and luncheon.

Rev. T. Manley Sharpe, rector of St. Luke's P. E. Church, Church Hill, has changed the hour of service for the third Sunday in each month at St. Luke's from 7.30 P. M. to 3 P. M.

MARRIED.

DAUGHERTY—SEIGEL.—At the M.E. parsonage, Chestertown, Wednesday, October 14th, 1914, by Rev. Louis E. Barrett, D.D., Alfred Daugherty and Miss Barbara Seigel, both of Philadelphia, Pa.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

HENRY W. DAVIS.

Following an illness of five days, Henry W. Davis, 607 East Lombard street, Baltimore, died Saturday at the Franklin Square Hospital from an attack of typhoid fever. Mr. Davis was born in Locust Grove, this county, 58 years ago. He was well known in this locality and once he ran for sheriff of Kent county. Shortly after the great Baltimore fire, in 1904, he went with the State Bank of Maryland, in Baltimore, as a night watchman. He served in the capacity up to about a week ago, when he became ill. He is survived by one son, Edger S. Davis, of Rock Hall. The body was shipped to Rock Hall Monday and the funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon.

MRS. MARY R. BEASTON.

Mrs. Mary R. Beaston, widow of the late John T. Beaston, of Bohemia Manor, Cecil county, died at her home in Middletown, Del., Sunday, October 4, after a long illness, aged 72 years. She is survived by two sons and a daughter—J. Cayot and A. Lindell Beaston, of Kent county Md.: Miss M. Lionne Beaston living at home. The funeral took place the following Wednesday with Requiem Mass at St. Francis Xaviers Church, near Warwick. Rev. C. A. Crowley, assisted by Rev. J. J. Mooney, officiating; interment was made in adjoining cemetery.

MRS. MARY S. BIGGS.

Mrs. Mary S. Biggs, widow ex-Governor Benjanin T. Biggs, and mother of Mr. Wm. B. Biggs, the well known trainer, died at her home in Middletown, Del., on Monday, in the 85th year of her age. Funeral services were held from her residence in Middletown, on Thursday with interment in Bethel cemetery.

Carroll Elburn, aged 22, of near Rock Hall, died of acute indigestion while on the bay fishing Monday night. He leaves a wife and infant child.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a special meeting of the official board of Still Pond M. E. Church held Sunday, October 11, 1914, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, Our Heavenly Father, in his wise providence, has removed from our midst Brother James S. Harris, our distinghuished and efficient co-laborer in the Master's vineyard. And

WHEREAS, His departure has resulted in an irreparable loss to his family, the church and community at large. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we can but feebly express our loss by his death, for his clear business perception, wise council, generous aid, genial companionship and keen interest in the work made him a most valuable member of the church and its official board.

Resolved, That we tender to his sorrowing family our tribute to his personal worth and valuable service, and pray that they may find in this dark hour the light of faith, and in this great sorrow the comfort which comes from God.

F. X. MOORE, Chairman.
F. B. HARPER, Secretary.

NUPTIAL EVENTS.

Among the fashinoable weddings in Baltimore recently was that on Wednesday evening of Miss Marguerite Vertner Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dalton Thompson, of North Carolina, and Mr. Warren Adams Stewart, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyland P. Stewart, of Baltimore. The ceremony took place at the Severn. Invitations were limited to members of the two families. The bride's father is well-known in this county, where he formerly resided.

Will of Late James S. Harris.

The will of the late James S. Harris was filed for probate in the Orphan's Court on Tuesday. It disposes of a valuable estate as follows:

To his widow, Mrs. Margaret Harris, he gives a dower interest in all his real and personal property. She also gets the household furniture absolutely. To his son, Arthur L. Harris, he leaves a specific legacy of $5,000 and the George or Creek farm, containing 124 acres of land more or less, in the Third District. To his son, Walter B. Harris, he leaves the "Blooming Field" farm in the Third District, containing 357 acres. To his son, James G. Harris, he leaves the "Howard" farm in the Third District, containing 370 acres, provided the said James G. Harris, pay to the son, Walter B. Harris, the sum of $1,000 within two years from the testator's death without interest.

The son, Carson W. Harris, is given the home farm, where the deceased resided at Coleman's Corner, containing 210 acres. The rest and residue of the estate, both real and personal, is devised as follows: One-third to his widow absolutely, and the remaining two-thirds is to be divided equally among the four sons.

Carson W. Harris is named as the executor of the will, which bears date of February 19th, 1913, and witnessed by Wm. W. Beck and Allan A. Harris.

Election Supervisor Badly Hurt.

Dr. Landers, of Crumpton, accompanied by Mr. George I. Harrison, Election Supervisor for Queen Annes, left Crumpton on Tuesday morning for Centreville. When near Salem Church in Queen Annes, the steering gear of Dr. Landers' car refused to work and the car skidded across the road striking a stump on the roadside, which caused the car to turn turtle. Both gentlemen were caught under the machine. Dr. Landers was only slightly bruised, but Mr. Harrison was quite badly hurt, so much so in fact that he was taken to a Baltimore hospital on Wednesday afternoon to determine the extent of his injuries. It is stated that Mr. Harrison's right arm is badly fractured and he is otherwise hurt. The front of the machine was badly damaged. Dr. Landers and wife accompanied Mr. Harrison to Baltimore, and have given him every attention since the accident.
