ALL HANDS WANT IT!

What? Why the Newnam Piano. And when once the musician's hands touch the keys of this marvelous instrument, all other piano's fade into distance. If you think this is only a selling argument, come in and try any piano in stock. A few chords sounded on the Newnam will be sufficient to convince you that this is "the" piano for you.

Elgin Watches For Women

PRACTICAL time-pieces. We emphasize this because some folks are apt to regard the tiny dainty models made for women as something merely decorative.

EVERY one has a double roller escapement—a device affording greater protection and service—used only in Elgin watches for women. No expense is spared in making every grade and size of Elgin watch the best of its kind. That is why we unhesitatingly recommend the Elgin watch for women.

LOCAL MATTERS

Another Matinee.—We state elsewhere in this issue that the last Matinee of the season was held at Radcliffe Park last Saturday. Since the article was printed the management has decided to give another matinee next Thursday, Nov. 5, and it promises to be even better than the one held last Saturday. Everybody remember the date please—next Thursday.

Farm Laborers.—I have had a number of requests during court to furnish German laborers to work on our farms. I will be in my office, Keyser Building, Baltimore, on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 4th and 5th next, and if anyone will call there on those days or notify me by phone on those days, it will be very easy for me to furnish them with such farm laborers.—L. WETHERED BARROLL.

For a Worthy Cause.—At the regular meeting of the Federated Club Oct. 27, it was decided to form a unit to undertake some branch of work for the Red Cross. The first meeting will be held Wednesday, November 4th, at 2 P. M., at the residence of Mrs. J. D. Bacchus. Meetings will be held weekly thereafter. An urgent invitation is given to any one interested to meet and work with them in this great and worthy cause.

The Gunning Law.—In reply to a letter received from one of our prominent gunners this week in reference to the Federal and county game laws, we state that the season for shooting rabbits and partridges begins November 10th and closes December 24th. The Federal law applies only to migratory game—such as wild ducks, wild geese, etc., and does not conflict with the county game law in any manner. A lack of space prevents the publication of the two laws.

To Be Hostess.—Miss Elizabeth Tilghman Hemsley, of Baltimore, was elected on Monday Maryland hostess at the Panama Exposition to be held in San Francisco next year. There were quite a number of applicants for this coveted place, and the contest was a spirited one. Miss Ida C. Crew, of near Lankford, was an applicant for the place. We should like to have seen Miss Crew win the honor. She is a lady of charming grace of manner, and is in every way qualified to do the honor of such a responsible position. Miss Crew had many friends working in her favor, and she was a close competitor.

Experienced authorities say that the price of poultry and eggs will be unusually high during the winter. The Peerless Fertilizer Co. has been kicking up a stink during the past week unloading fish tankage. It is no bad odor about it, it is a stink, pure and simple. This reminds us of a joke one of our prominent business men played upon himself last year when the same stink spread its wing over the entire town. The gentleman, upon getting a whiff of the stink, thought he had a dead mouse in his office. He immediately had his entire office ransacked—books and papers moved; even the chimney hole collar was removed in an effort to find the dead mouse. While he was in the midst of his ransacking, a gentleman walked in the office and told him the Peerless Fertilizer Company was unloading fish tankage. You can imagine the rest.

A serious accident was narrowly averted Thursday evening of last week when Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Jarrell's auto nearly collided head on with another machine on the State road near town. To escape the collision Mr. Jarrell ran his car into the roadside, hoping to avert the accident. Unluckily, however, one of the concrete culverts happened to be in his path, with which he collided, one of the wheels being demolished. Mrs. Jarrell was thrown to the road by the collision, being somewhat bruised and shaken up, but escaped serious injury.

Mr. Frank Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Turner, of Worton, has been appointed superintendent of the Produce Exchange here to succeed Mr. Elliott, who resigned several weeks ago. Mr. Turner is fully qualified to make a great success of the local exchange. He is the son of Mr. A. S. Turner, one of the most experienced grain buyers in the county, and has had sufficient training under his father to enable him to make the Exchange just what it should be. ### SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Royally Entertained by St. James M. P. Church.

The annual convention of the Kent County Sunday School Association was held in St. James M. P. Church on Wednesday. More than 150 delegates and friends were present from all parts of the county. The convention began at 10 A. M., and from that time until the benediction was pronounced at 9 P. M., there was something of especial interest all the time. The following subjects were ably discussed:

The Bible as a book for children and guide for men and women.—Miss Cora Middleton.

"The Teacher With Her Class"—Prof. J. L. Smyth.

"The Class With its Teacher"—Mr. Joseph N. Wheatley.

"Sunday School Management"—Rev. B. W. Kindley.

"Missionary Education in the Sunday School"—Mrs. Wm. E. Moore.

"What the Average Sunday School can Do," Miss Maggie Wilson.

These splendid addresses were interspersed with interesting reports of committees, heads of departments, etc., and with splendid music. Master Schofield, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schofied, of Still Pond, and Miss Flora Wheatley, of Chestertawn, rendered beautiful solos in the afternoon, and the instrumental music in the evening was rendered by members of the Rock Hall M. E. Church delegation.

The convention was one of the most largely attended in the history of the association, and much interest was manifested in the proceedings. In the absence of the president, Mr. H. H. Klinefelter, the vice-presidcnt, Mr. Fred G. Usilton, conducted the sessions. The ladies of St. James maintained their unrivaled reputation for hospitality by serving a sumptuous dinner and supper—roast pig, duck, and delicious country ham being conspicuous features of a splendid bill of fare. The entertainment of the convention was simply elegant, and everybody enjoyed themselves to the limit around the tables under a big tent comfortably heated by oil stoves and large lamps. The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Joseph N. Wheatley; vice-president, A. C. Loud; secretary and treasurer, Miss Emma Shafer; statistical secretary, Mrs. M. E. Newsome.

At the hour of going to press on Friday, the case of A. Leon Brown vs. John G. Westcott for $5,000 damages, was being tried. This case was given to the jury on Saturday just prior to adjournment. The jury brought in a sealed verdict for the defendant, Mr. Westcott, on Monday morning.

The first case called on Monday was that of State vs. Jas. A. Urie for maintaining a nuisance in Rock Hall. A plea of not guilty was confessed by the State after Mr. Urie had made a public statement in court that he would refrain from keeping his place of business open on Sunday, which seemed to be the cause for Mr. Urie's indictment by the grand jury. The mayor and council of Rock Hall agreed that the case could be dismissed upon the promise from Mr. Urie. S. Scott Beck was counsel for Urie, Vickers for State.

The following cases were disposed of on Monday:

State vs. John Linsey, charged with carrying concealed weapons. Plead guilty. Court; trial. S. S. Beck for Linsey, H. W. Vickers for State.

After most of the evidence had been submitted, by mutual agreement of counsel, the case was compromised by the payment to the company of $400. The amount of of the note upon which suit was instituted was $517.

WEDNESDAY'S SESSION.

Vansant, et al, garnishees of Benj. F. Jarvis, tried before the court consecutively. This case was temporarily discontinued and the case of Samuel G. Caldwell vs. Penn. R. R. Co., for recovery on a consignment of cattle, was taken up in order that the jury in the Caldwell case might go home for the night. A night session was held at which the cases of Hicks and Jas. D. Davis & Bro. vs. L. R. Vansant, et al, garnishees of Benj. F. Jarvis, were concluded. The court rendered a verdict for the defendants. Barroll & Barroll for Hicks and Jas. D. Davis & Bro., Wm. W. Beck for defendants.

At the session on Wednesday the court pronounced sentence upon the following: John Lindsey, 6 months in House of Correction. Ben Scott, 1 year in House of Correction. Caleb Reed, 1 year in House of Correction. James Green, 2 years in the Maryland Penitentiary. He is the man whom Caleb Reed shot, and he is now under the care of the jail physician, Dr. H. L. Dodd.

The entire morning session was occupied with the trial of the case of Sam'l G. Caldwell vs. Penn. R. R. Co. Barroll & Barroll for Mr. Caldwell, Wm. W. Beck for Railroad Company.

A night session was held on Thursday evening at which the Caldwell case was concluded. The jury rendered a verdict for Mr. Caldwell in the sum of $150 and costs.

For the remainder of the evening session the court was engaged in hearing two registration appeals. The petition of John M. Toulson was refused, while the court granted the petition of Daniel Mckee and ordered his name placed upon the registration books.

FRIDAY'S SESSION.

Court convened at 9.30 o'clock. The case of Charles W. Kibler & Son vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for recovery for loss of weight in a cargo of grain shipped to Baltimore was begun before a jury and occupied the attention of the court as we went to press.
