The Transcript

R.H.COLLINS, T.D.BOWERS, EDITORS.

THE Democrats naturally expected a considerable reduction in the majority in the Lower House of Congress. The great majority in the last Congress was an abnormal one, and it was expected that on account of the return of many Bull Mossers in those states which usually give Republican majorities, there would be defeats for Democratic congressmen. Of course, the Republicans will seek to make it appear that the result of the election is a repudiation of the President's policies, especially the tariff, but right thinking people will see in the result only a return to normal conditions. President Wilson is stronger to-day than ever, and he will make himself so strong in the next two years that he will be triumphantly re-elected in 1916.

MARYLAND did herself proud in the recent election. She elected five of the six Democratic candidates for Congress, and would have elected the sixth but for unfortunate political campaign methods. The State also g ve Senator John Walter Smith a handsome majority of 15,000. The result in Maryland is a splendid indorsement of President Wilson's administration. So far as the result in the nation is concerned the gains made by the Republicans were not unexpected, and the Democrats' control of Congress is a more natural control than an unwieldly and unnatural majority of 145. The disintegration of the Bull Moose vote throughout the nation was an advantage to both the Democrats and Republicans, and during the next two years President Wilson and his Congress will enact such legislation as will insure a Democratic President in 1916, and it will be Wilson.

POSTMASTERS FOR KENT.

For the third time President Wilson on Wednesday last appointed Mr. W. F. Collins postmaster at Millington. Twice has Senator John Walter Smith held up the appointment and prevented its confirmation by the United States Senate, thus retaining Mrs. Walls, a Republican, in office and keeping out Mr. Collins, a Democrat. This condition has existed for about fifteen months. The third appointment of Mr. Collins is a recess appointment and will not require confirmation by Senator Smith, and as soon as Mr. Collins is commissioned by the Postmaster-General, which may be any day now, he will assume control of the Millington office.

President Wilson also appointed on Wednesday Mr. Thomas D. Bowers, junior editor of the TRANSCRIPT, postmaster at Chestertown to succeed Mr. M. Wilbur Thomas, whose commission expired in Aug., 1913 The President has held this appointment until after the adjournment of Congress, for the reason, we believe, that he did not propose that Senator Smith should hold up the confirmation of Mr. Bowers purely on faction political grounds. In the appointment of Mr. Bowers, President Wilson has recognized the TRANSCRIPT, the first paper in this State to endorse him for President, Messrs. Hope H. and L. Wethered Barroll, personal friends of the President, and the entire Anti-Organization wing of the Democratic party, who have consistently given him their support ever since he was first spoken of for President of the United States, and we are proud to-day of our choice.

Mr. Charles Judifind, the third appointment made by the President on Wednesday, is from Rock Hall, and was appointed postmaster of that town to succeed Miss Ida Hynson. Miss Hynson was appointed postmistress of Rock Hall a few months ago through the civil service on a competitive examination, the postoffice department at the time thinking she had obtained the highest average in her examinations, but in looking over the examination papers more carefully it was discovered that Mr. Judifind had made a higher average than had Miss Hynson. Mr. Judefind, however, refused to press his claim for the position, but some of his friends did it for him with the above result. The Rock Hall postoffice has recently become a third-class postoffice which makes it a presidential appointment, while heretofore it was under the civil service. All three of the appointees are capable and competent men for the positions to which they have been appointed, and they are all Anti-Organization men. Mr. Bowers will not relinquish his position with the TRANSCRIPT.

LATER—The above three postmasters have received their commissions which were signed on Wednesday, and are ready to assume charge of their positions at once.

NUPTIAL EVENTS.

GOODING—BRICE.

Charles W. Gooding, Jr., son of Levy Courtman Charles W. Gooding, of Wilmington, Del., and Miss Marie Brice were quietly married Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the M. E. Church at Betterton, Md. Mrs. Gooding, the groom's mother, attended from Wilmington. Miss Brice is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Horace Brice. Mr. and Mrs. Gooding took a wedding trip to Washington, and returned last Wednesday. They will reside at 3304 Washington street, Wilmington, Del.

WHITE—PATTON.

Announcements are out for the wedding of Mr. G. Vickers White, of Salisbury, and Miss Elizabeth Johnston Patton, of Philadelphia, on Wednesday, October 28. Mr. White is a native of Salisbury and widely known, having been associated with the Salisbury National Bank for a number of years. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry Patton, of Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. White will make their home in Salisbury. They will be at home on North Division street after November 15.

MARYLAND DEMOCRATIC.

Elects Senator John Walter Smith by a Majority of 15,000 and Returns Five Out of Six Congressional Candidates to the 64th Congress.

NEW YORK AND PENNSYLVANIA SWEPT BY REPUBLICANS.

Congress Will be Democratic in Both Houses by a Good Working Majority.

The result of the election in Maryland on Tuesday was a strong endorsement of the Wilson administration and stamps Maryland as a rock-ribbed Democratic State. Senator John Walter Smith was re-elected to the Senate by a majority of 15,000, while five of the six Congressmen were elected. Senator Jesse D. Price's majority in the First District was materially reduced because of the reappearance on the ballot of the words "Democratic" and "Republican" after the names of the candidates in all the nine counties of the Shore, where there is a very large negro vote. The ballot was particularly an easy one for the negroes to vote, and they turned out almost to a man to vote.

Kent county, as usual, rolled up a majority of more than 300 for both Senator Smith and Senator Price, showing that both factions of the party were earnestly behind both candidates for election.

The vote on the bond issue was an overwhelming victory for schools. Here also the negro vote played a most conspicuous part, their vote being almost solid for the bond issues.

The official vote in Kent county is as follows:

	First District, First Precinct	First Dist., Second Precinct	Second Dist., First Precinct	Second Dist., Second Precinct	Third Dist., First Precinct	Third Dist., Second Precinct	Fourth Dist., First Precinct	Fourth Dist., Second Precinct	Fifth Dist., First Precinct	Fifth Dist., Second Precinct	Sixth District	Seventh District	Total

RESULTS ELSEWHERE.

New York elected its full Republican ticket by a heavy majority, as well as a Republican United States Senator. Pennsylvanian, Connecticut, Ohio, New Jersey, Delaware and other usually Republican States, returned to the Republican fold, due to the disentagration of the Bull Moose party. The great majority of the Democrats in the House has been cut from 145 to 33, while the majority in the Senate is increased from 10 to 13. "Uncle" Joe Cannon is again elected to Congress from Illinois, while David J. Lewis, father of the Parcels Post, is elected from the Sixth Maryland District after a great fight. It would have been a publit calamity to have defeated Lewis, as he is one of the most useful men ever elected to Congress from Maryland.

The next Congress will be:

House—229 Democrats, 196 Republicans, 7 Progressives, 1 Socialist, 1 Independent and the complexion of one New York Congressman in doubt. The Democrats have a majority over the Republicans of 33, and a majority over the combined parties of 23.

Senate—Democrats 54, Republicans 38, Progressives 1, with 3 doubtful. The Democrats in the Senate will have a majority over the Republicans of 16 and a majority over the combined parties of 12.

Price's majority over Duer for Congress was 303.

The Kennedyville School Bond Issue won by a majority of 966.

The County School Bond Issue won by a majority of 738.

Senator Smith's majority over Carrington was 292.

MARYLAND WEEK EXHIBITION.

In Fifth Regiment Armory, Baltimore, November 17th to 21st.

Plans are under way to make Maryland Week this year a record-breaker in point of attendance from the counties of Maryland. Among other things, in addition to unusual excellence of exhibits, railroads have been asked to establish excursion rates for the week, and merchants of Baltimore will be invited to conduct one big bargain day in all stores for the benefit of county visitors. There will been tertainments, of course, and a general appeal will be issued to all residents of Baltimore to seize the opportunity to invite their country relatives and friends who otherwise might not attend, for house parties.

Every energy will be directed toward the county attendance. The press of the State generally will be asked to promote local organizations along this line, and the managers of the event look forward to a huge movement toward the common center, from every town and village and from every farm section of the good old State.

The Maryland Week Exhibition will be held at the Fifth Regiment Armory on November 17th to 21st. It will be, as last year, under the auspices of the Maryland State Horticultural Society, and affiliated with this organization will be the Maryland Crop Improvement Association, Maryland State Dairymen's Association and Maryland State Beekeepers' Association. In the order-named, these organizations will hold their annual meetings on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with three sessions daily, in the Armory gymnasium. The formal opening on Tuesday night will be with an appropriate program in which national government, State, city and various rural interests will be represented.

Secretary T. B. Symons, of the Horticultural Society, has just returned from a trip through Western Maryland, and finds that there, as in other parts of the State, growers are saving a nice lot of fruit for the exhibition, putting it in cold storage to be ready for the event. The premiums this year, a list of which can be obtained by addressing the Secretary of either organization at College Park, are larger and more numerous than ever, and competition will be splendid, following the fine success of last year. Granges and Farmers' Clubs desiring to enter the Club Exhibit Contest, should notify the secretary at once so that space can be reserved.

The prizes for club exhibits have likewise been increased, and in addition, prizes are offered for all exhibits in each club exhibit; so that such an exhibit can be made by any organization with practically no cost.

Last year the Maryland Week Essay Contest proved such a winner that it will be one of the leading county attractions again in November. There will be two contests—one for boys and one for girls—and any boy or girl attending school anywhere in Maryland is eligible. School teachers throughout the State are invited to encourage all their scholars to enter, and the plan has the hearty approval of school authorities, who realize the value of such mental training for students. The prizes will be $20 in gold for the boy and girl winning in the State-wide contest and a medal for the winner in each county. The officials reserve the right to publish the prize winners under the names of the authors.

This year's subjects for boys will be "Why the Maryland Farmer's Boy Should Remain on the Farm." For the girls the subject will be "How Social Conditions in Rural Life in Maryland Can be Bettered by the Daughters of Maryland Farmers." All essays must be of not less than 1,000 and not more than 2,000 words written on one side of paper approximately 8x11 inches in dimensions, and must be in the hands of Secretary T. B. Symons, College Park, Md., not later than 6 o'clock P. M., Monday, November 9th. Dr. M. Bates Stephens, State Superintendent of Education and Prof. C. S. Richardson, of the Department of English, Maryland Agricultural College, and a judge to be appointed by the Governor will award the prizes.

A floor plan has been prepared for the exhibition that will show the resources of Maryland as they never have been shown before. In the center, surrounded by stately columns, will be a huge floral exhibit designed by the most original minds in Maryland's floriculture, and for this exhibit prize flowers of all kinds are being carefully brought to perfection by expert treatment. Flanking the floral exhibits and backing up to the rear of the immense hall will be fruits, from products of the Maryland apiary, in arrangement orderly and graded, in quantity profuse to point of extravagance. Nothing that grows in our State will be lacking.

In one corner of the hall—the Armory officials have granted extraordinary permission for the purpose, the State Dairymen will have a "stable" of half dozen fine cows, which will be fed, cared for and milked for the purpose of showing results of scientific care both in food value and purity of the milk supply.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

GEORGE T. DURHAM.

An attack of acute peritonitis following appendicitis caused the death of George T. Durham, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Durham, prominent residents of Millington, Md., at Delaware Hospital early monday morning. The boy arrived at the hospital Saturday morning, the appendix having been broken during the journey, causing peritonitis. No operation was performed. Undertaker Chandler took chare of the body and it was removed to the home of the parents in Millington on Monday for burial.

Black's Items.

A game of ball between Galena and a picked nine from Black's, played at Galena election day, Nov. 3, which proved very interesting, both sides contesting for every point. With Biddle, of Black's, pitching for that team, the Galena boys could not hit him. His work was first-class. Galena had Beck, of Millington, as pitcher, who was knock out of the box. Score 14 to 15 in favor of Black's.
