A TRUE STATEMENT OF FACTS

DO NOT let the false representations of others fool you. In all of my dealings with the public for the past 20 years it has been my aim to cut prices, to share profits with the people. Others have tried to follow me, and upon finding that I would undersell them at every turn, some have resorted to low, underhand methods. They have tried---and in some cases succeeded---to get firms to stop selling me their branded goods. When this did not succeed, they made false accusations against me to the public. And this fails also.

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS

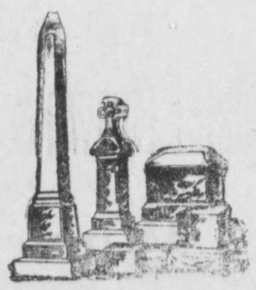

Chestertown Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this Chestertown citizen's advice.

Mrs. Frank Robinson, Front street, Chestertown, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills certainly live up to the claims made for them. They benefited me after doctors' medicine and all else had failed. I was often dizzy and nervous and my back and head ached. The kidney secretions also annoyed me. When I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I immediately began using them and they did their work well, giving me prompt relief. I am now strong and well."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Robinson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Pro's., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE ART OF SELLING.

Real Salesmanship Is a Light That Can't Be Obscured.

The boss wants lookers, because he knows the looker of today is the buyer of tomorrow and he wants to make the lookers feel that his store is "the best place to trade," which is only another way of saying that it is the best place to do one's looking. He also knows that the looker of today can sometimes be converted into a buyer before the day is over. All he requires to accomplish what he desires is salesmanship among his salespeople.

Does he get it? Not from all of them. If he did there would be less need for commissions to inquire laboriously into the relation between shopgirls' wages and shopgirls' chastity, for real salesmanship will get the money wherever it is practiced and by whomsoever it is practiced. Real salesmanship is one light that can't be hidden under a bushel. It's a light that can't be obscured. It's a light that will shine above department heads and floorwalkers and reach clear up to "the old man" in his private office, if you keep it burning long enough.

What is salesmanship? No one quite knows. But if you will take care of the lookers, if you will make all the lookers pleasantly remember what you showed them and how you showed it to them when they were merely looking, you will have mastered one very important branch of retail salesmanship.—Collier's Weekly.

SPEED OF GAME BIRDS.

The Hazel Hen Said to Be a Wonder In a Short Spurt.

What is the fastest game bird that flies? Of course, in seeking an answer to the question, as a writer in the Scotsman points out, one must assume equal conditions of atmosphere and cause for flight, for all creatures, human or other, seek their highest rate of speed under the influence of fear.

A recent writer declares that in a race of, say, 200 yards he would back a bird which, though not found in Britain, is indigenous to most of the rest of Europe and is especially familiar in Scandinavia—the hazel hen or gelinotte.

Yet, curiously enough, this is one of the forest haunting birds which, like the American "fool hen," usually fly up into a tree when flushed and, rejecting further attempts at escape, elect to be shot sitting. "But," says the writer referred to above, "on the rare occasions (and that they are rare I readily admit) when one catches a gelinotte in the open I have never seen any bird fly so fast nor move its wings with such extraordinary rapidity."

Next to it at any rate one must surely place the teal, which has a marvelous knack of getting under way quickly. Some experienced observers would give the third place to a bluerock pigeon—the wild, not the Hurlingham variety.

Queer Connection.

"No system of physical exercises yet invented," says Oliver Onions, the novelist, "can compare for one moment with silk stockings for giving an erect carriage to the female head."

Never be unemployed, never be trifingly employed, never while away time.—John Wesley.

He goeth better that creepeth in his way than he that runneth out of his way.—St. Augustine.

SIMPLY ROBBED THEM.

Mean Trick a Political Boss Played Upon His Ward Heelers.

A veteran politician when the subject of political graft and blackmail came up told of the experience of the boss of a certain city who was something in the way of a collector himself.

One day near the close of a hot campaign he managed to round up some $5,000. With a couple of his pals he had a bibulous celebration. About 2 in the morning he was clinging to a lamppost and trying to call a cab when two of his heelers hove in sight. He knew they would rob him if they suspected he had money. Bracing himself, he greeted them with:

"Hello, fellows; lucky you happened along. I'm dead broke and want a cab. Get one and take me to my hotel and I'll make good."

When they reached the hotel the drunken boss sleepily asked the clerk to give each of his companions a $5 bill. At the same time he drew from his trousers pocket a huge roll of bills and, throwing it at the clerk, told him to "keep that wad of stuff in a safe place until morning."

Disgustedly the heelers watched the safe door close on the young fortune that had escaped them, while the boss sank into a chair.

"Oh, you thief!" angrily shouted one of the heelers as he shook his fist under the nose of the boss. "That's the meanest double cross you ever gave a friend in your whole crooked career. You said you was broke and you had thousands in the wad. Confound you, there's no one a fellow can trust these days. That money belongs to us by rights and you've robbed us of it."—New York Sun.

Woman's Advantage.

A woman can take a plume and wear it on one side of her hat one day, on the other side another day, on the front of her hat another day and on the back another day. She can wear it curled round the rim, under the rim, across the crown or straight up in the air. But if a man happens to put his hat on with the rear end in front he looks like a durn fool.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Scoop.

John L. Toole, the famous English comedian and practical joker, and Mr Justice Hawkins, who was afterward Lord Brampton, were great friends. They were at supper together one evening discussing the events of the day. The judge incidentally mentioned that he intended on the morrow giving the man he had been trying fifteen years because he deserved it.

As Toole was leaving he blandly inquired:

"Oh, would you mind calling at the newspaper offices and telling them about that fifteen years? It will be a tip for them—exclusive information you know—and will do me no end of good with the press."

"Good gracious! No, sir!" exclaimed the judge, who took the precaution of accompanying Toole to his hotel and seeing him safely to bed.

Circumstances Change.

Lawyer—You have an excellent case, sir. Client—But a friend of mine said he had an exactly similar case and you were the lawyer on the other side and you beat him. Lawyer—Yes, I remember that; but I will see that no such game is played this time.—Puck.

MAY DRAIN TREASURY

If Claims for Leased Oyster Beds Are Paid.

With decisions of courts in the county circuits declaring areas leased under the old Haman-Seth law to be natural bars under the Shepherd law and hence public property, a depletion of the State treasury is in sight if the act is not repealed or amended by the next Legislature. Under the provisions of the Shepherd law lessees under the old law have a right to apply to the State for cash redress if the areas held by them are declared by the courts to be natural beds.

Thus the Circuit Court for Somerset county has declared Carmol bar, in the Manokin river, to be a natural bar. The next proceeding will be to resort to condemnation proceedings with the object in view to dispossess the Cox brothers, the lessees, and to return the bars to the dredgers and tongers. By these proceedings the Messrs. Cox are given the power under the Shepherd law to apply to the State for compensation for the property of which they would be dispossessed by the State's legal machinery. It is said that they are already fixing their compensation at $40,000. As Carmol bar is only one of hundreds in dispute and as the same proceedings are to be resorted to as is proposed in the case of Carmol bar, it is evident that the State treasury cannot stand the strain.

The last General Assembly did not make an appropriation with which to meet demands upon the treasury for compensation following the condemnation proceedings. Hence those expecting such compensation will have to wait for action by the next Legislature.

Before the convening of the next Legislature the Court of Appeals will have passed upon the constitutionality of the Shepherd law on appeal from the Circuit Court for Somerset county. This decision will probably be handed down after the close of the January term.

The Shellfish Commission is proceeding along the lines mapped out for it by the Shepherd law. It is making resurveys of oyster areas on the Western Shore of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. It is also preparing to lease areas over which there is no dispute. These beds are classified as barren bottoms and when leased will not cause further controversy. There are about 1,000 such acres.

For Relief of Tuberculosis.

By sermons, lectures, motion pictures, exhibits and many other methods, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis will enlist thousands of churches, schools, and lodges of the country in a simultaneous educational movement against tuberculosis during the week of November 29th. The campaign is to be known as the Fifth Annual Tuberculosis Day Movement.

A special circular entitled "What is Tuberculosis Day" has been prepared and is being widely distributed. The plan of Tuberculosis Day, as explained in the circular, does not necessarily comprehend a special sermon on tuberculosis on November 29th. If a church, school or lodge gives the subject attention in any way during that week, this will help in the national educational movement.

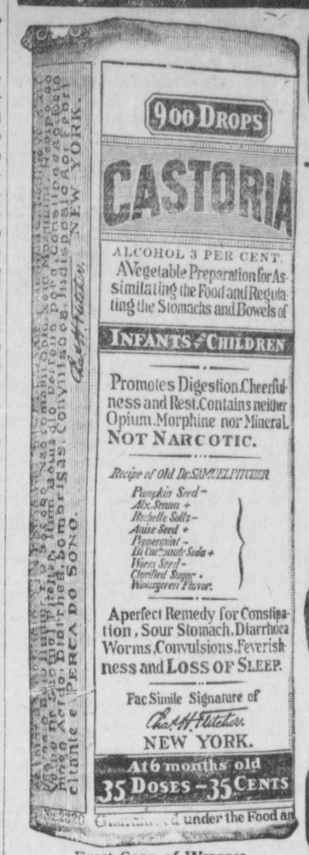

Outlines for lectures or sermons on tuberculosis and "stock" talks on this subject will be furnished free to ministers and others who can use them. Literature for distribution in the churches, schools, lodges, and elsewhere will also be given away in large quantities. Persons wishing such literature, either for the preparation of sermons or talks on tuberculosis, or for distribution in public meeting on Tuberculosis Day, should get in touch with their local anti-tuberculosis society, or if that is not possible, with the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 105 East 22d street, New York City.

Washington College Loses.

With only about six seconds of play the Maryland Agricultural College football squad defeated Washington College by the score of 3 to 0 on the local gridiron Friday. It was a great game, with that occurrence which makes the game so exciting as the climax. Both teams played like mad to win, and it bid fair to be a scoreless game when the psychological moment arrived and M. A. C. took advantage of the opportunity to score a goal from field. The result of the game was somewhat of a victory for Washington after all. M. A. C. had defeated Johns Hopkins 14 to 0, and Western Maryland by a one sided score. Washington defeated Western Maryland 8 to 0, and was defeated by Johns Hopkins 14 to 6. To hold M. A. C. to 3 punts in the face of M. A. C.'s former victories, was a splendid showing, and though a streak of luck gave the game to M. A. C., the locals put up as strong a game and deserved to win. Now we trust that Washington will administer a decisive defeat to St. Johns next Saturday.
