NEW BIRD LAW IS DRASTIC.

State and National Law to Be Enforced.—Federal Inspector is Alert.

The state game warden has just issued special instructions to his deputies regarding the enforcement of the game law, and a federal inspector is now on the Shore and is expected in Kent any time, if not already here.

Gunners are invited to read the following carefully and also to see the advertising columns for those properties whose owners forbid trespassing.

The game warden furnished the following official opened and closing dates and other data relating to hunting wild game in Kent county:

Duck, goose and brant, November 1 to January 31.

Quail or partridge, rabbit, squirrel, woodcock, November 10 to December 24.

Wilson or jacksnipe, September 1 to December 15.

Reedbird and water rail, September 10 to October 31.

Yellowlegs, September 1 to December 15.

Summer or woob duck, November 1 to Jaauary 31.

The above open seasons for quail, rabbit, squirrel, woodcock, goose and duck of all kinds apply throughout the state. All county laws in conflict with these dates are repealed. The federal regulations, which cover ducks, geese and brant, and other migratory species, fix the open seasons named for these. Under these regulations swan are protected at all times until 1918. The federal law also prohibits shooting between sunset and sunrise, and the minimum penalty for violation of any of the federal regulations is $100, and a prison sentence may be given in addition to the fine.

All the migratory insectivorous birds, including robins, meadowlarks, killdears, nighthawks or bullbats, flickers and woodpeckers are protected at all times by the federal law. The cranes and herons are also protected under this law.

The state law also protects practically all the song and insectivorous birds.

The sale of game is prohibited in this county except to a resident of the county for his or her personal use, and game must not be shipped out of the county. The penalty is $10 for each bird or animal sold, shipped or received for shipment. This law is a new law and entirely cuts out the sale of game to dealers.

It is unlawful to hunt game on Sundays or when there is snow on the ground; also unlawful to trap, net or snare any game bird or waterfowl. The state law bag limits, which apply in Wicomico county are: Quail, 15; woodcock, 12; squirrel, 12; rabbit, 12; jacksnipe, 12. Penalty $5 for each bird or animal killed in excess of these limits.

Non-residents must have a license to hunt in this county and the fee is $10. Licenses are obtained of the clerk of the court.

It is unlawful for any person to buy, sell or have in possession any wings or plumage of protected birds.

The state wildfowl law should be carefully noted, as the penalty for its violation is extremely severe. It is unlawful for any person to unnecessarily disturb wild fowl on their feeding grounds, or when bedded in the waters of this state, or to pursue kill or shoot at wild fowl from any boat (except duly authorized and licensed sneak or push boat) or to pursue, shoot or gather any wounded or dead ducks, geese or brant in any boat propelled by or equipped with engine or sails. Penalty $100 to $200 and confiscation of boat and guns in possession of person violating this act.

Particular notice is called to the fact, under the federal regulations, there is no open season for swan or cranes.
