ANA Unveils Portrait Of Col. Mary Mills

Registered Nurse Honored By Coworkers In New York

NEW YORK—A life-size portrait of Lt. Colonel Mary Mills, R.N., Chief Nurse Officer of the United States Public Health Service Mission, in the near East, with headquarters in Lebanon, was unveiled on Thursday by 176,000 American nurses, Mrs. Porter said that "the Association feels very honored to pay this tribute to Colonel Mills, an inspiration to all members of her profession."

LT. COL. MARY MILLS

Mrs. Elizabeth K. Porter, president of the American Nurses' Association.

The unveiling was done at the Hotel Henry Hudson, following the day's meeting of the Advisory Council of the NA, which was attended by the representatives of the 53 state and territorial organizations.

Following the unveiling ceremonies, remarks were made by Miss Mary Beattie Brady, director of the Harmon Foundation and the AMA's president.

Serving In Lebanon

In speaking for the Nurses' association, which represents

Last year she returned for a short visit to her home in North Carolina to visit her brother, Charles Mills, and shortly after was given her present assignment as head of the U.S.P.H. Nursing Program under Point IV, in the near east, with headquarters at Beirut, Lebanon.

Colonel Mills' portrait is one of a collection of 33 oil paintings of outstanding colored Americans by Mrs. Betsy Garves Reyneau and the late Mrs. Laura Wheeler Waring.

Others in the collection that have already been seen at exhibits throughout the country include, Dr. Ralph Bunche, Joe Louis, Marian Anderson, Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, Judge William H. Hastie, the late Dr. Charles R. Drew, Mordecai W. Johnson, president of Howard university, A. Philip Randolph, Drs. Howard Thurman, Alain LeRoy Locke, Charsing H. Tobias, and the late George Washington Carver and Harry T. Burleigh.

Also Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, Mary Church Terrell, Walter White and the late Attorney, Charles H. Houston of Washington, D.C.

Attended NYU

A native of Wallace, N.C., Colonel Mills received her basic training in a 52-bed hospital of Lincoln Hospital, Durham, N.C., and received her license in October, 1933.

She also holds a certificate in Midwifery from the Lobenstein School of Midwifery, New York City, and a B.S. and M.A. degree in Public Health Nursing from New York university.

A former instructor in the North Carolina college—Colonel Mills was commissioned as Senior Assistant Nurse Officer in 1946, and shortly after was sent to Liberia with the United States Public Health Service Mission, which is a part of the Point IV program.

Liberian Decoration

During her five and a half years of service in Liberia, she was awarded one of the Liberian's government highest decorations, Knight Official in the Humane Order of African Redemption, which is now in the hands of Congress, as an American citizen cannot accept a foreign country's decoration until first approved by the Legislature.

One of the Colonel's outstanding contributions to Liberia was her establishing the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial Children's Ward at the hospital in Monrovia.

The ANA was chosen for the unveiling of the portrait by the Harmon Foundation, "not only because ANA represents 176,000 American nurses, but because of

MRS. C. ROSENBERG FOSTER

Mrs. C. R. Foster, Artist, Author, Visits In Baltimore

BALTIMORE

Mrs. C. Rosenberg Foster, retired teacher from Chicago, stopped in Baltimore to visit friends. She was here after attending the inauguration in Washington.

Widely known for her unusual delving in the arts, Mrs. Foster currently is lecturing at Hunter-Williams university and Fisk university, was married to Dr. Foster the day after she was graduated from Fisk. He died in 1941 after practicing dentistry for over 31 years.

Color Without Paint

Mrs. Foster gained fame a few years after the depression for her type of art work which is a study of art with things which have become useless such as chicken bone, egg shells, coffee grounds, seeds, peanut shells, pencil shavings and the like.

Her collection is valued at $20,000 and Mrs. Foster says that she has willed it to Fisk university.

Praised By Mrs. Roosevelt

The day after her exhibit at the Drake, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt devoted her newspaper column, "My Day," to praise for Mrs. Foster's wares saying that they could be used with value in any schools which have limited funds for occupational work.

Others who have written to praise her for her craftsmanship include Dr. William Johnson, superintendent of Schools in Chicago; C. C. Willard, principal DuSable High in Chicago; Robert Presley of Los Angeles, Dale Carnegie, A. W. Clevenger of the University of Illinois and scores of others.

Mrs. Foster, whose father was a native of Berlin, Germany, plans to take a trip around the world on a freighter if she can get her second book published.

Nurses Push Integration Call For End Of Discrimination

NEW YORK (ANP)—Officials of the American Nurses Association recently took action to make integration among nurses an actuality.

Mrs. Elizabeth Killeffer, president of Tennessee State Nurses' Association, state branch of the ANA, in her 1952 address called for the end of discrimination and unfair treatment of colored nurses. Among other things, she said:

"Discrimination against any member or any minority group violates the best that is in all of us. Because TSNA has members who are colored it is every member's obligation to do all that can be done to prevent discrimination and unfair treatment to them because of their race.

Part Of Organization

"They are a valued part of our organization with much to contribute to nursing. It is true that we cannot wipe out all prejudice and change the pattern of behavior of all citizens overnight. We can, however try to plan for the futuro so that this group may participate fully in TSNA."

The TSNA removed its racial barriers to membership in 1946.

The ANA House of Delegates at the 1952 biennial convention approved the proposed project of the Interprofessional Committee to develop means of making complete integration among nurses an actuality.
