Black, Campanella Lead Vanguard Of Tan Stars To Hot Springs Resort

By SAM LACY
AFRO Sports Editor

What is perhaps the largest contingent of tan sports personalities ever to assemble at Hot Springs, Ark., at one time was beginning to converge on the famous midwinter resort this week.

Leading the vanguard—which promises to number six by the middle of next week—were Joe Black and Roy Campanella, the quarter-million-dollar battery of the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

Black, Campy Lead

Black and wife Doris left their Brooklyn home Saturday evening and arrived in Hot Springs on Monday.

Campanella, accompanied by wife Ruth and their three children, left St. Albans (N.Y.), where they live, early Saturday morning. They stopped off at Farmville, Va., for a brief visit with the parents of Mrs. Campanella, then continued their journey to the resort.

Doby, Irvin Due

Later this week, outfielders Larry Doby of the Cleveland Indians, and Monte Irvin of the Fayetteville effort with 15 marks New York Giants, are due. In his last conversation with the AFRO, Larry said that he and Monte plan to leave their New Jersey homes on Thursday or Friday of this week.

Paige Frequent Visitor

Also slated for the baths are pitcher Satchel Paige of the St. Louis Browns and outfielder Sam Jethroe of the Boston Braves.

Satchel is a frequent visitor, having made a practice of conditioning himself for the coming baseball even in the days when he was performing in the Negro American League.

Jethroe recently underwent a minor operation and figures to get an early start on his spring training program by taking the baths.

Barons, Clowns Tied As NAL Defense Leaders

CHICAGO — The Birmingham Barons and Indianapolis Clowns with team fielding average of .952, finished the 1952 season in a tie for the defensive lead in the Negro American League.

Bias Fading In Baseball In The South

ATLANTA—Opposition to the use of colored players in organized baseball in Dixie is gradually disappearing.

Clubs fielding mixed teams won't be the general practice in the south this year; neither will they be glaring exceptions to the general rule.

Generally, a survey by the Associated Press showed, colored players are being hired for one or two reasons: (1) a belief that they will boost attendance; or (2) some particular colored player is a better ball player than the best available white man.

It also is a general rule that a fun star playing on a team in the South must be outstanding; not merely an ordinary performer.

Teams scattered from the Carolinas to Texas plan to use colored players in the 1953 season, and some have been using them for several years. There are areas, however, which still are closed to mixed baseball teams.

The survey showed that colored players will be used or given tryouts this season in the Texas League and the other six organized leagues in the Lone Star State, in the South Atlantic League, the Tri-State, Gulf Coast, Florida International and possibly other leagues.

HU President Held As Accuser, Judge

Charge Made By Attorney Of Coach Edward Jackson

WASHINGTON

A week prior to the meeting of the Howard university board of trustees, which upheld Coach Edward L. Jackson's dismissal, Jackson's attorneys made an urgent appeal for a hearing before the board.

The appeal charged President Mordecai Johnson as the apparent accuser and judge in pushing the dismissal of the coach.

A five-page letter, forwarded to Dr. Johnson by Harry S. Wender, attorney, asked for a full opportunity to appear before the board last Tuesday.

The letter charged President Johnson as assuming the position of accuser and judge in the dismissal of the coach, and added that the president's opinion was in complete contrast to that of Dean Sk. Clair Price, who was supposed to the firing.

No Evidence Presented

The allegation was made in the letter that "apparent no actual evidence was presented to the board of trustees" by the president.

The official Howard university statement, in Friday's AFRO pointed out that all the evidence was studied by the board of trustees which made its decision.

The letter also asked President Johnson to furnish Mr. Wender with a copy of Dean Price's original recommendation to the president of the university as of Oct. 11, 1950.

The standard lie detector equipment for the examination of Coach Jackson and such other witnesses as may testify, before the board of trustees was requested by Mr. Wender.

Charges of unlawful entry was made in the removal of personal property belonging to Coach Jackson from his office on the campus on Dec. 6, 1952.

"Your arbitrary actions toward Coach Jackson, even to the extent of deliberately denying him his civil rights guaranteed by contract with the university, and of not allowing him to remove his personal belongings from the university, are inexplicable and apparently unlawful," the letter stated.

Seeks Personal Property

The letter asked that the coach's personal belongings be returned to him, and listed items taken from his desk, contained in his bookcase, safe and files.

Among the items listed as impounded by President Johnson and his staff were:

Letters, memoirs from trips, statements and correspondence with the Murray Brothers Equipment company, hotel statements canceled checks, personal letters, notebooks, receipts, physical education material, memoranda, lower half of checks received from the university, address, advertisement material and an address book.

Taken From Bookcase

Bookcase — Books with his name written on the inside, pamphlets, brochures, catalogs. Files—personal letters and personal notes, coaching and physical education materials, copies of material that may be helpful to the coach's case, including letters to and from the business manager and prospective students.

Safe — brochures containing statements and exhibits, originals of which were handed to President Johnson on Nov. 14, 1952.

Also denied, was a request in the letter that the counsel for Coach Jackson be allowed full opportunity to examine the university records and other witnesses, under oath, as may be necessary.

W. Salem Rams Hex N.C. Eagles

DURHAM, N.C.—Winston-Salem Teachers' College defeated North Carolina College's basketball team here Tuesday night 56-47.

The victory, the Rams' second this season over the Eagles, also snapped a seven game winning streak.

Willis Johnson of Winston-Salem, hooped 19 points in defeating the Eagles. The Tarheels' Vanntie Sam Jones and Terry Harrison, were held to 16 and 15 markers respectively.

Coach Clarence Gaines's Winston gang started slowly but caught fire in the last frame as the Eagles seemed to fall apart at the seams.

Fire Kills 1, Injures Two

Retired Postman Burned To Death

SAUGUS, Mass. — William S. Allen, 69-year-old retired postal worker, was burned to death in a fire that destroyed his home at 28 Osprey rd., early Friday morning.

His daughter and her husband, Simm Hopkins, 28, were cut and burned as they smashed windows and rescued their three sons, William, 9; Simm Jr., 8, and Louis, 5 years old. The tots were uninjured.

Mr. Hopkins said he and his wife, Pauline, 26, were awakened by the persistent honking of an automobile horn outside the house. They found the lower part of their home a mass of flames.

He groped his way into one bedroom, and snatched William from bed, while Mrs. Hopkins caught up Simm Jr. They wrapped the children in blankets and stumbled through the smoke and flames down the front steps to the street.

Wife Collapses

As Mrs. Hopkins reached the street, she collapsed from smoke inhalation and severe cuts and burns.

Stopping only long enough to fill his lungs with fresh air, Mr. Hopkins plunged back into the burning house, crawled to the second floor, found his youngest son, Louis, wrapped him in a blanket to protect him from the flames and reached the sidewalk as the fire apparatus roared up.

Before he collapsed from smoke and all the strain, he told the firemen his father-in-law was in an upper bedroom.

Body Found in Bed

But the house by that time was a mass of flames, precluding any possibility of firemen entering to rescue the aged man, and when the blaze was brought under control, firemen found his body still in his bed. He had died from the smoke and flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins were carried to Lynn hospital for treatment.

Boston Braves High On Bruton

Manager Says Bill's Faster Than Jethroe

BOSTON (NNPA)—The Boston Braves are boasting of a colored rookie, Bill Bruton, who can get down to first base faster than Sam Jethroe. Charlie Grimm, manager of the Braves, thinks Bruton will be Boston's regular centerfielder.

"There isn't anyone around, Grimm, said Thursday," who goes from first to third quicker than Jethroe. But getting down that line from the plate, Bruton would beat Sam.

"I had Bill at Milwaukee when I was managing down there for a month and a half last year," Grimm recalled. "He's got a real good chance of moving in center. He's got everything defensively. Speed, of course, and a good arm. It all depends on his hitting."

In the American Association last year Bruton hit at .325 clip. He started out in the Braves farm system in Class D four years ago, has moved up and hit well each year.
