IF YOU HAVE MONEY which is only paying you 4 per cent. and desire to invest in land which is a safe and sure investment with every prospect of increasing in value, you should send for my list of farms, containing the most desirable farms in the upper Eastern shore of Maryland. For 10 years I have had the privilege of offering for sale some of the best properties in the two counties and the below properties have no equal for their price.

15 Acres, three miles from Worton, near the water. three or four acres in woodland, 6-room dwelling for $1000. A great bargain.

I HAVE FOR SALE—Mrs. Pearl Boggs' home on Queen street, occupied by Mr. Samuel Hicks, of eight rooms. This section is daily improving, and this property can be bought at a bargain.

J. Waters Russell,
Chestertown, Md.

EVEN

The boy—the unassuming boy. The unsuspecting, confiding, unsophisticated boy, is rapidly learning where to come and hand over his confidence and have his Suit or Overcoat made by dealers who have a reputation built by meritorious trading. The boy is learning his lesson by comparison with those WE'VE been serving, and they're pining their faith to people with a favorable history.

The more mature in years are not so susceptable, and having the advantage of past experiences, have learned our way of trading some time ago. This class have been coming to us from the beginning.

Our trade is increasing daily from the fact—we have shown a large percentage the superior qualties in fabrics and workmanship.

No large upkeep is the reason. Think this over and come see for yourselves.

Respectfully,

W. E. MOODY,

Special Representative for Kent and Queen Annes Counties of the International Tailorng Co. of New York, Chicago and London, Chestertown's Finest Home a Prey to Flames.

The palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Jarrell, on Washington avenue, was totally destroyed by fire at 4.30 o'clock on Wednesday morning, together with the entire contents. It is believed, however, that the fire had been burning since early Tuesday evening, as Mrs. Jarrell remarked to her husband just before retiring about 9.30 o'clock, that she detected the odor of smoke in the dining room. Mr. Jarrell went to the cellar immediately and examined the furnace, and returning up stairs he remarked to his wife that the furnace was alright. Mrs. Jarrell retired and for a time read a paper, while Mr. Jarrell remained in his den for a while to read. Mrs. Jarrell was awakened about four o'clock by the thumping of the radiator in her bedroom. She started to her husband's room to awaken him and found the house filled with smoke. She cried to her husband that the house was on fire, and she rushed for her children and mother, Mrs. Emma Snitcher, while Mr. Jarrell rushed down stairs towards the cellar. He was halted by fire and dense smoke, and as he turned to go upstairs to his family he found the entire interior filled with smoke and flame, and he was compelled to leave the house by a side door. Mrs. Jarrell and her mother succeeded in getting the seven children dressed before the flames reached her bedroom, but the flames made such headway that both Mrs. Jarrell and her mother, as well as the children had to be taken from the second story porches by means of ladders. They were cared for at the home of Mr. and Mrs Harrison W. Vickers nearby. Mrs. Jarrell displayed wonderful presence of mind in her trying ordeal. When she knew that her family and mother were safe, she raised the window and called for help. An oyster vendor from the country was passing in a double team, and he stopped and offered assistance. She told him to give the alarm down town, which he hastily did, but by the time the fire apparatus arrived and there was an adequate supply of water, the beautiful home was doomed. The firemen directed their efforts towards saving the stables, garage and henneries, as well as surrounding property. Every particle of clothing in the house except what the occupants were able to throw on and grab in their haste to get out, was destroyed, including Mrs. Snitcher's valuable jewelry, gold watch and chain, and a chest of silver containing between $400 and $500 worth of silverware. Mrs. Jarrell saved her jewelry and money, but little clothing. This property was one of the finest homes on the Eastern Shore. It was erected about seven years ago by Contractor W. T. Pippin at a cost of $25,000 and with its rich and handsome furnisings and interior finish, it was a most beautiful home, representing a valuatian of about $35,000. It was a distinct ornament to the town, and its destruction is a great loss, not only to the family, but to the community generally.

There was an insurance of $18,000 on the house carried in companies representive by James G. Beck, and an insurance of $3,900 on the furniture and household goods carried in companies represented by J. Arthur Bradley. Mr. Jarrell's family is with relatives and friends, and he has not definitely settled upon future building plans. They have rented the Hotel Imperial for the balance of this and next year, and moved there yesterday.
