"It Is Wonderful"

MRS. SARA MARSHALL
699 S. Avondale Rd.

Mrs. Sara Marshall of 699 S. Avondale Rd. says: "It is wonderful—the easy credit policy at Lincoln. I have found no store in Baltimore to make the offer Lincoln Credit Clothing and Shoe Store makes. Here you can get nationally advertised Saks New York Shoes with No Money Down! You can also get Jarman Shoes for men, and Chapman's for children with No Money Down. With an easy shopping policy of this kind, it is no wonder more and more people are shopping at Lincoln.

"You know Lincoln also has a complete line of latest New York style ladies' wear. You can open a charge account in a few minutes, and take the clothes or shoes home with you. Payments are only $1.00 weekly."

Mrs. Ike Cuts Cake At USO

At the nation-wide celebration dedicated to USO's more than one hundred thousand volunteers, Wednesday, the First Lady, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower cut the huge birthday cake.

The scene of Washington's salute to the USO on its 12th anniversary was the USO Lafayette Square Club. And at an early hour the crowd had filled the USO halls and overflowed into the street.

The program began with a moment of silent devotion. Chairman Joseph D. Kaufman, USO National Capital area committee, made introductory remarks.

The "Story of USO" was told by Mabel R. Cook, first vice chairman, USO National Capital area committee. How clubs all over the land try to make a "home away from home" for service men and women, and how a soldier finds advice or a friend in USO volunteer workers, were also explained.

Charms Crowd

Stealing the show at the celebration was Mrs. Eisenhower. With a pretty word and a smile she cut the USO's birthday cake, and joined in the song, "Happy Bfthday to USO."

The First Lady's gracious ness charmed the crowd. And as she left the club with a warm handclasp for somebody on the right or another on the left, she gave a true demonstration of what the USO represents.

For the cake-cutting ceremony Mrs. Eisenhower wore a smart black suit, white gloves and hat, a large white orchid, pink-tipped, and the pearl choker she holds so dear.

Among the volunteers who have contributed many hours to USO work are:

Misses Mabel Hood, Hattie L. Jenkins, Sadie Beckowitz, Nan Hammond, Flora Chatman, Margaret Sullivan, Josephine Pettiford, Jay Smith, Juanita Grimes, Sallie Tancil;

Mesdames Pennell Grosborg, Anna Mae Byrd, Freddie Nalley, Catherine Warner and others.

The LaFayette Square USO is one of the four in the Washington Area. And among the staff workers there are Assistant Directors J. R. Brown and Oscar Kertz; Secretaries Trula Waters, Martha Jane Keffer, and Edna Sutton, a former medical stenographer at Howard University.

Among those attending were:

Brig. Gen. Stoyte D. Rose, commanding general of Bolling Air Force Base; District Commissioners Donohue and Camalier, Recorder of Deeds John B. Duncan, Mrs. Eliza Wyche Allen of the National Capital Chapter of War Mothers; Mrs. Allen's daughter, Mrs. Sarah Ashe of Norfolk;

Mrs. J. R. Brown, wife of USO Assistant Director Brown; Shep Allen, Col. West A. Hamilton; Joyce Brome, S. A. and Angela Allen, WAF, stationed at Fort Meyers.

Cherry Hill Art Club To Observe History Week

Drawings in charcoal and pencil by members of the Cherry Hill Community Center's Henry O. Tanner Art club, will be one of the features of the Negro History Week celebration.

George T. Faulkner, Bureau of Recreation staff member is working with the youth members of the art club.

The lobby of the community building at 2700 Spelman rd. has been turned into a "Wall of Fame" where members of the art club have hung their drawings. Awards will be made for the best drawings on the "Wall of Fame." The judges will complete their decisions on Feb. 20.

Special Program

Another feature of the History Week celebration at the center will be in the form of a program to be held on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The Songsters Glee club will present three special numbers. The Choral Speech Club will present Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and James Weldon Johnson's "Creation."

There will be an oral portrait of Ira Aldridge and Richard B. Harrison given by Charlie Oakes and Lillie White. Scenes from "Porgy and Bess" and "Carmen Jones" will be presented by Clyde Smith and Mildred Lee. Catherine Dorsey, John Milburn and Jacqueline Williams will appear in a musical interpretation of "Opportunity."

Program Participants

Youth members scheduled to take part in this special program are: Una Amos, Audrey Amos, Ann Randall, Elinor Hartlow, Theresa Ellis, Barbara Mason, Martha Martin, Mary Scott, Ernestine Thornton, Catherine Brown, Geraldine Risper and Patricia Wiggins.

Also, Cleoda Jackson, Esther Larkins, Margaret Graham, Odessa Jornson, Robert Harris, Curtis Woodson, Clufton Sutton, Ronald Jenkins, and Macklin Parker. Eleanor Alexander will be mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Alice M. Caster, Bureau of Recreation staff member will be in charge of the program.

Symposium Held At Art Museum

"Space for Living" is the subject of a symposium being staged at the Baltimore Museum of Art Tuesday, Feb. 17 at 8:15 p.m.

Frederick Gutheim, nationally known Washington writer and planning consultant, will be moderator of a panel ocomposed of Edward M. Beneach and J. H. Leroy Chambers, interior designers; Alexander S. Cochran and Francis H. Jencks, architects.

Making interiors more livable, in keeping with todays way of life, is the problem set for this symposium. Participants will attemp to set forth basic principles of design to guide homemakers in their attempts to create both practical and pleasant living areas.

She's National Guard

South Baltimore Notes

By GEORGE W. HILL

William O. Gardner, 2420 Huron st., Mt. Winans, celebrated his 75th birthday, Jan. 31. Guests included:

William Matthews, Wilmington, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Gardner, Mrs. Rosa Jackson, Miss Beatrice Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. William Polk, Moses Chinn, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Hebron, Mr. Trilby Wicks, and Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, all of Baltimore.

At the recent cornerstone laying of Mt. Winans Elementary School, George Hill was one of the guest speakers. He pointed out that besides good schools and good churches, a community also needs good homes.

By request of Houston Jackson, assistant superintendent of schools, a copy of Mr. Hill's speech was sent to Mayor D'Alesandro who reportedly stated "that all efforts will be made to make the Mt. Winans area better community."
