Zeta Phi Beta Sorority In Second Annual Presentation

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Thirty young women of Greensboro and nearby towns made their bow to society here on Saturday, Feb. 21, at the second annual debutante ball sponsored by Beta Nu Zeta Chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.

The event, held at Windsor Community Center, was witnessed by some 400 admiring guests who later joined the debs, their escorts and proud parents in dancing to the music of Max Westerhard's orchestra.

Anna Harris Queen

The ball climaxed a week end of thrilling activity for the honorees, who were entertained by the debs of 1952 at a get-acquainted reception at the Barnes Building on Friday evening, and had their rehearsal and luncheon at the center Saturday afternoon.

Chosen queen for the occasion was Miss Anna Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Harris of Greensboro. Runners-up were Miss Mary Burdell Knight, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Blackburn of High Point, and Miss Arnetta McKee, daughter of Mrs. W. F. McKee of Greensboro.

Mrs. Mary G. Williams, basileus, presented members of the sponsoring sorority, last year's queen, Miss Florine Irvin, and her attendants, Misses Ethel Hamilton and Grace Fisher.

Twins In Group

This season's debs were presented by Mrs. Melba D. Whitley, local Zeta grammateus. They included Misses Dorothy and Gwendolyn Harris, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Harris of Greensboro.

Each dressed in a white net evening gown and wearing rhinestone accessories, the debutantes stepped from an elaborate archway at the east end of the hall and received a boquet of American Beauty roses from their respective escorts.

Miss Harris, the queen, after being escorted by Mr. Alvarado B. Irvin, was escorted to her place in the debutante circle, and the grand march followed, led by Miss Ruth Comer and Normal L. Humphrey.

Sorority Officers

Mesdames Lucile H. Avera and Saliye D. Williams were co-chairmen of the ball. Officers of the sponsoring group are:

Mary G. Williams, basileus; Thomasena N. Miller, anti-basileus; Melba D. Whitley, grammateus; Geraldine M. Mitchell, corresponding secretary; Olive A. Bobo, tamias - grammateus; Saliye D. Williams, tamias;

Top-Drawer Socialties Spark Conference

Gadabouting in the U.S.A.

By Lulu Jones Garrett

You can pin the memo that whenever a gang of Guardsmon get together, the scribes can sharpen up their pencils ... last week's gathering in Washington being no exception.

Of course you've already been told of the gorgeous gowns, the flares of parties and whatnot ... but did they inform you that:

Bob Rhone, New York attorney and bachelor-about-town, fetched lovely Carolyn Ellison, formerly of Philly and now enscoused in the Capital ... the wife of Dr. O. Ellison, but not now working at it? That Baltimore's Junky Wood's fiance, Dorothy Cooper (also of the Monumental City) was wearing his engagement ring on her right hand at the dance, Friday night?

That everyone was wondering why the retirement (from the social arena) of popular Norfolk dentist, "Mouse Hodges," who hasn't been on the circuit since September? That everyone was saying that Norfolk's "Crow" Riddick has another Mrs. Riddick, but weren't sure of the bride's moniker?

That Grant Reynolds had the most popular table (for a spell) at the closed party on Saturday night ... what with the shake dancer atop?

That the gang was mighty pleased to hear that Evelyn Nickens is expected to leave St. Phillips Hospital, Richmond, within the month? She was badly injured en route to the Baltimore Guardsmen's Thanksgiving affairs in an automobile accident.

But to the news of other towns:

Dr. and Mrs. Jean C. Randolf (Maggie) of Detroit, cleared up their marital troubles the legal way, last week. The John Harrises (Ella) of Chicago added a new cord to their tie ... a baby daughter who arrived at Michael Rose Hospital in the Illinois city.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Powell (Margaret Dunn) and a little babe, Patricia, are ensconsed in New Britian, Conn., where he has garnered a residency on General Hospital of that city. He's just out of the air force.

Baltimoreans are welcoming to the circuit, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams, both of whom have been tucked in with illness for more than a month. She's a Baltimore public school principal, he's in the P.O.

Add to proud parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Johnson of Nashville, Tenn., who have a brand new son. And the Horace H. Terrys of Henderson, N.C., gitts.

PEREGRINATORS

In Baltimore, this week, Morgan State College Faculty and Trustee Wives club, were in the midst of plans for a talent and style show on Friday, the 13th (March, of course)

The "wives" will furnish the talent and they'll garner models and clothes from Charm Center. Flossie Dedmond and Beryl Williams have written a skit which star Madge Hibler and Talmadge Hill and which will be directed by Waters Turpin. Marie Frazer and Frances Hill are chairmen of the program. Louise Lamb is president of the club.

Dr. and Mrs. Everett White of Richmond, Va. were in Baltimore, this week. He came up for a check-up at Johns Hopkins. Bishop and Mrs. E. C. Hatch, Weston.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Jackson of Buffalo jockeyed off to Cincinnati, Ohio, over the week end for Shriner dongs, including the Friday evening ball.

And Nadine Lane, social worker with the Children's Placement Bureau, NYC was in Boston for the pleasant duty of being bridesmaid for her sister, Wilma, who became Mrs. Luther R. Manning Jr. Her son of the senior Luther Manniggs of Inwood, L.I., N.Y.

CUPIDOODLING

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Yancey of NYC have announced the engagement of their daughter, Beverley Ann, to Sylvester S. Davis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis of Cleveland, Ohio.

It is to be a June wedding.

The bride-elect is a student at Howard University and is employed in the University College of Dentistry. Mr. Yancey, a graduate of Western Reserve University, is a senior medical student at Howard. He served as a pilot in the air force during World War II.

Also announced is the marriage of Rose Marie Billings and Lester Rushin Jr., in Columbus, Miss. They've been Mr. and Mrs. since Jan. 26.

Mrs. Rushin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Wellington of Birmingham, Ala. is instructor of piano at Talladega College. He's son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester K. Rushin Sr. of Birmingham and a petty officer in the Naval Air Force.

Wed in Reading, Pa. on Friday were Betty L. Bell (daughter of the Harry Bells Sr.) and Nathan Walker of Youngstown, Ohio. She an Ithaca College of Music grad, and he, an art student at Western Reserve. Exchanging vows in Philadelphia, last week, were the Rev. George Oakley and Miss Roena Sanders.

WITH THE LADIES

Myrtle Gillispie, freshman at Kentucky State college, recently won the college's Campus Sweetheart title. She's a sophomore at Baltimore's Douglass High and was crowned at the annual "Sweetheart's" Ball. She is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Gillespie of Lexington.

Violinist Penelope Johnson has chalked another first owning a sight-seeing guide's cap and opening her own agency. Her firm plans to take 10 hotels in the midtown Manhattan belt for combined tours and deluxe offerings to members of all races.

PATY PRATTLE

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Moore's cocktailer for 100 guests of the mid-winter meeting of the Chicago Dental Society, in the windy City, still has a guests gasping.

The New Jersey Shoe chapter of the Howard University Alumni association has scheduled a formal dance on the 6th at Sea Girt Inn, Sea Girt, N.J., to garner funds for scholarships for deserving charter Day.

When the Moles met in Washington, last week, Texas cocktailer at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Millender (for representatives of six chapters) that topped that town's entertaining.

The Shaw University Student Council scored at a semi-formal reception, Dr. and Mrs. Moore, of Laurinburg, N.C., their "Miss Shaw" for '53.

Mrs. Roosevelt To Visit Bethune

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Plans were aired here on Tuesday for the visit to Bethune Cookman College and the City of Daytona Beach by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Twenty persons met Tuesday at the invitation of Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune president emeritus of the college to discuss plans for the reception for Mrs. Roosevelt who will be in Daytona Beach on March 17 and 18.

Appearing also during this two day fete will be the celebrated Marian Anderson, international famous singer. Date of her appearance will be given

It was decided that an invitational dinner will be held the evening of Tuesday March 17 in Faith Hall, dining hall on the college campus. Mrs. Roosevelt will attend a trustee meeting on the next day, March 18, it was revealed and then be taken on a tour of the city that same day. Later she will leave for New York City by plane

The dedicatory former First Lady will be guest of honor at an open meeting during the evening of March 18 - just prior to her flight to New York.

Dr. Richard V Moore president of the college, said that City Manager LeRoy Hasiow informed him that the city will participate fully in the program and the plans that are being made for it.
