EVEN

The boy—the unassuming boy. The unsuspecting, confiding, unsophisticated boy, is rapidly learning where to come and hand over his confidence and have his Suit or Overcoat made by dealers who have a reputation built by meritorious trading. The boy is learning his lesson by comparison with those WE'VE been serving, and they're pining their faith to people with a favorable history.

The more mature in years are not so susceptable, and having the advantage of past experiences, have learned our way of trading some time ago. This class have been coming to us from the beginning.

Our trade is increasing daily from the fact—we have shown a large percentage the superior qualties in fabrics and workmanship.

No large upkeep is the reason. Think this over and come see for yourselves.

Respectfully,

W. E. MOODY,

Special Representative for Kent and Queen Annes Counties of the International Tailorng Co. of New York, Chicago and London,

(Nextto Robert McWhorter's)

CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND.

Mrs. Price's Will.

The will of Mrs. Sarah L. Price, who died at her home near Galena last Saturday week, was admitted to probate in the Orphans' Court on Tuesday. The will provides for the sale of the valuable farm of which Mrs. Price died possessed, and the proceeds of said sale to be distributed as follows after payment of her just debts, etc.:

$400 each to her daughters, Sarah Lavinia Wood, Fannie, Grace and Susan Dixon.

$200 each to her daughters, Elsie, Mollie and Blanch Dixon, and $200 to Elva Hobson Price.

To her son, Emory H. Camp, she leaves all the farm implements, cattle, hogs, etc., on her farm.

To her daughter, Susan Dixon is left the house and lot in Galena, and to her husband, Walter Eugene Price, she leaves all money in bank at the time of her death. Hope H. Barroll is named executor in the will which bears date of Sept. 10, 1913, and was witnessed by W. B. Copper and Harry F. Jefferson. Mrs. Price was one of the best known women in the First District, and she was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her.

Heaviest Mail in History of Postoffice.

During the Christmas rush the mails at the Chestertown postoffice were the heaviest in the history of the office. For the week beginning on Friday, December 18th, to Friday, December 25th, both dates inclusive, there were received and dispatched from the office 870 nearly full bags of mail and 184 separate packages. This vast volume of mail was handled each day with promptness by the office force and rural carriers, and the character of the efficiency of the service is manifest when we state that the great mass of packages and other mail matter were handled with such exactness that only two packages miscarried, and they were redelivered within a half hour after the first attempt. The heaviest mail was handled on Wednesday, December 23d, when 59 bags of mail and 8 packages were received at the office at noon, 24 bags and 4 packages sent out in the afternoon and 24 bags and 6 packages were received at night. 29 bags and 2 packages were sent out in the morning mail on December 23. The postoffice force is to be congratulated upon its fine work, and the rural carriers certainly earned their pay.

AGAINST MESSRS. BECK AND HAMMOND.

Attorney General Poe's Decision Declares Their Appointments Illegal.

In an official opinion given to State Comptroller Emerson C. Harrington on Thursday by Attorney General Edgar Allen Poe, the latter holds that State Senators Edward M. Hammond and William W. Beck, counsel to the State Tax Commission, are ineligible to serve as such, becaue they were members of the Legislature creating the office and also that the commission in selecting counsel had no authority to choose more than one lawyer. Messrs. Hammond and Beck were appointed in June at salaries which were afterwards fixed at $1500 a year each, but their salary order was not sent to the Comptroller by the commission till the middle of the present month. Senator Hammond was in Chestertown on Thursday evening in conference with Mr. Beck.
