HEALTH GIVING OZONE.

Its Process of Formation and the Way It Attacks Microbes.

The pungent, bracing effect of mountain air is largely due to the pressure of great quantities of ozone. Every one knows this and learnedly talks about the ozone in the air, but very few people have the slightest idea of what they are really talking about.

Nature makes ozone by allowing the ultra violet rays of the sun to act upon the oxygen of the air. Briefly, ozone is a particularly active form of oxygen. A molecule of oxygen is composed of two atoms, whereas ozone is composed of three.

As only two elements of oxygen can exist together, the addition of the third sets up a disturbance, which causes it to detach itself from the other two. Being thus detached, the third atom, which is now ozone, wandering around by itself, gravitates with great sureness and rapidity to any bit of foul air or any microbe which may be lurking in the vicinity, for the attraction between ozone and microbes is irresistible.

Like most fatal passions, the outcome is tragic, for the ozone burns up the microbes as soon as they touch each other. This is the reason that ozone is health giving; it may be truly said to eat up disease.—Detroit Free Press.

CUT THE RED TAPE.

Kitchener's Unofficial Methods in the Khartum Campaign.

It was in the Khartum campaign that Lord Kitchener's abhorrence of red tape was first impressed upon whom it concerned. A certain general, who may be called Fussyman, insisted upon issuing a daily order with all due forms and ceremonies. So importunate was he that in sheer weariness Kitchener at last dictated an order. Buoyed up by a blissful sense of importance, Fussyman hurried off to have it duly copied, registered, duplicated, sealed, signed and delivered in the good old style. Meanwhile Kitchener strolling out accidentally met Broadwood, his cavalry commander.

"Oh, Broadwood," exclaimed Kitchener in his softest drawl, "will you kindly take four squadrons and a couple of guns and push on forty miles to clear up the situation, and start in half an hour?"

"Very good, sir."

As the cavalry was jingling out of camp Fussyman came out of his tent with the order of the day. Upon finding that Broadwood's orders were totally different from the formal version intrusted to him by the commander, Fussyman gave Kitchener up as hopeless.—World's Work.

Making History.

When Kinglake was writing his history of the Crimean war he received letters from all sorts of people concerned in the war. One day a letter with a deep black border came from two people in the colonies, husband and wife, describing their grief. Their only child had been killed in the Crimea. They wanted to have him mentioned in the "History of the Crimean War." Kinglake was touched and replied by post that he would do his best if they would send him the necessary particulars. Again a letter, also black bordered, full of thanks, but with the following conclusion: "We have no particulars whatever to give you. He was killed on the spot, like many others, but anything you may kindly invent will be welcome. We leave it entirely to your imagination."—London Opinion

Perpetual Motion.

Alderman Curran of New York city worked his way through Yale college. During his course he was kept very busy by the various jobs he did to help with his expenses. On graduation he went to New York and was even busier than he had been in New Haven.

After some months of life in New York a friend met him and said, "Henry, what are you doing?"

"I have three jobs," replied Mr. Curran. "I am studying law, I am a newspaper reporter, and I am selling life insurance."

"How do you manage to get it all in?" said the friend.

"Oh," replied Mr. Curran, "that's easy enough. They're only eight hour jobs."—Youth's Companion.

Cunning of the Fox.

A fox on emergency will sham death to perfection. A master of hounds once noosed a fox in a whip as he bolted before a terrier. The fox appeared to have been strangled. When held up by the scruff of the neck his eyes were seen to be closed, his jaws gaped and the body hung limply down from the hand. He was placed tenderly on the ground only to dash off to covert.—London Standard.

A Little Different.

Miss Vane—I know he was talking to you about me. Now, wasn't he? Miss Speitz—Well, yes. Miss Vane—I thought I heard him remark that I had a thick head of hair. Miss Speitz—Partly correct. He didn't mention your hair, however.—Exchange.

Friendship.

A friendship that makes the least noise is very often the most useful for which reason I should prefer a prudent friend to a zealous one.—Addison.

Quite Reasonable.

"That rich Mr. Smith is going to build a home that will cost $3,000,000."

"That looks as if the plumbing was included."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Discretion of speech is more than eloquence.—Bacon.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Mr. Josiah Massey has returned to his home in Queen Annes from a Baltimore hospital, where he had been undergoing special treatment for several weeks to an injured hand. We are very glad to report that Mr. Massey is able to be out and his many friends here were glad to see him in Chestertown on Tuesday.

J. Leeds Barroll, Esq., of Chestnut Hill, Pa., has been visiting his brother, Hope H. Barroll, Esq., during the week.

Miss Edna Sparks is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jack Brown, in Delmar, Del.

Clarence W. Perkins, Esq., of Baltimore, visited his brothers, Messrs. E. F. and Thomas W. Perkins, last week.

Among those who attended the automobile show in Baltimore last week were: H. R. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Skipper, R. G. Nicholson, Capt. Cosden, J. F. Thompson, Owen C. Smith, Walter U. Lusby, Irving Sparks, P. M. Brooks, Carl Bordley, M. P. Brooks, W. S. Collins, P. G. Wilmer, T. G. Wroth, Wm. E. Moody and C. W. Kibler, Jr.

Mr. Russell Wheatley is substituting for Professor Frazier Russell at the Maryland School for the Blind, during Mr. Russell's examinations at Maryland University Law School.

Cashier W. F. Russell was in Baltimore on business, last week.

After a faithful service of more than 25 years, Capt. William Spear Brownley, Company L. Fifth Infanty, Maryland National Guard, has at his own request been placed on the retired list of officers of the guard. Captain Brownley became a member of the regiment in April, 1889, when he enlisted in Campany B. He was first sergent and later second lieutenant of Company L. during the regiment's service in the Spanish-American War. Mr. Brownley is well known here, where he was employed for several years in the Chestertown bank of Maryland. He is a guest of Mrs. Wm. R. Pippin.

Miss Lillian Gale is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carey Reinhart, near Fairlee.

Rev. O. B. Rice, of Pomona, who went to hear Billy Sunday last week, writes. Rev. Mr. Sunday is a wonder and is surely needed in this day and time. I wish there were more preachers like him. I spent all of last week in Philadelphia hearing this mighty man and am convinced he is sent of God to do the work he is doing.

Mrs. Mary N. Sewell and Mrs. Myrtle Schaffer, of Baltimore, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Sewell's daughter Mrs. Webster Hadaway.

Marriage licenses were issued last and this week for Russum Robinson and Mildred Palmer Brown, of Kent; John Kennard Aldridge and Grace Mariam Walbert, of Kent; Harvey W. Morris and Josephine H. Loud, of Kent.

Miss Maude Miller, of the West, is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. N. Satterfield.

Mr. John Hilyard, of Wilmington, Del., was a guest of his son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McIntire, last week.

Mrs. Harrison W. Vickers, Jr., and little daughter are visiting her brothers in Philadelphia.

Misses Annie H. Stam and daughter, Miss Louise, have returned from a visit of several weeks with her daughter and son, Mrs. Richard Hooker and Mr. Rudolph Stam, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Walter Simmons, of Cecil county, has been visiting his home folks here during the week.

Mrs. Katie Hurlock is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ramie Ziesel, near Galena.

Former Sheriff John W. Duyer, who has been ill of pneumonia and other complications for some weeks, is resting comfortably. He is manisfesting remarkable vitality for one of his advanced age.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Vannort have been spending a part of the week with their daughter, Mrs. James W. Chapman, in Baltimore. Mr. Vannort attended the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Tolchester Steamboat Company while in the city.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

MISS BEATRICE RASH.

Meningitis, superinduced by acute facial neuralgia, caused the death in Philadelphia last Wednesday week of Miss Beatrice Rash, a trained nurse. The body was taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. James Thompson, at Booker's Wharf, Queen Annes county, and the funeral services were held there Saturday, interment being in Centreville. Miss Rash was 26 years old.

CAPT. ANDNEW GRAY.

Funeral services for Capt. Andrew Gray, who died Thursday of last week, at the age of 80 years, were held Saturday at the home of Dr. F. N. Sheppard, in Crumpton. Capt. Gray, who was well-known on the Eastern Shore, is survived by two children, Mrs. Sheppard and Andrew Gray, of Baltimore.

MISS MARTHA PHILLIPS PACA.

Miss Martha Phillips Paca, a great-grand-daughter of William Paca, signer of the Declaration of Independence and once Governor of Maryland, who died near Clifton Heights, Pa., was buried on Sunday beside her ancestors in Old Wye Cemetery. Miss Paca was 67 years old and succumbed to general debility. She was a daughter of the late William B. Paca, former owner of Wye Hall, the Colonial home of the Pacas, and an aunt of William B. Paca, present owner of the historic property. The Rev. Mr. Brown, rector of Old Wye Church, officiated at the funeral services. She was a relative of Mr. H. B. Paca, of this county, and belonged to one of Maryland's oldest and most prominent families.

Hicks' Forecast For February.

Reactionary storm period is central on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd. A change to warmer weather will pass from west to east over the most parts of the country on and touching the 1st, 2nd and 3rd, attended by falling barometer, cloudiness and rain—the rain turning to snow over central to northern sections of the country. The Moon will be on the celestial equator on the 3rd, moving toward its south declination. The change to rising barometer and cold, clearing weather, will reach most parts of the country, moving from west to east, from about the 2nd to the 6th.

Regular storm period extends over the 5th to the 10th, having it center on Sunday the 7th.

Reactionary period falls centrally on the 12th, 13th and 14th. The Venus disturbance will still contribute its influence, in connection with the Moon's conjunction with the Earth and Sun on the 13th. This conjunction of Moon, Earth and Sun is at an eclipse node and will make itself felt in aggravated storms and seismic disturbances. A wave of warmer weather, falling barometer and sudden, severe storms of wind and rain, followed by snow and cold, will touch most sections—beginning far west—on and touching the 12th, 13th and 14th.

Regular storm period is central on the 19th, extending in its influence from the 16th to the 21st. The Moon is on the celestial equator on the 16th, and at first quarter on the 21st. Look for change to much warmer, with falling barometer, and possibly electrical storms, the first days of this period, as the Moon is moving from south to north declination, bringing warm, electrical currents from the south. The 18th, 19th and 20th are the culminating days of this period.

Reactionaoy storm is central on the 24th, 25th and 26th. Cold, disagreeable weather will prevail over most parts of the country, as February comes to its close. Under the influence of an oncoming regular storm period, change to warmer, with falling barometer, will be noted in extreme western parts of the country about the 27th and 28th. These conditions will increase and spread eastward during the opening days of March.

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Chestertown Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment.
Must be proved to be as represented.
The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.
But the endorsement of friends is.
Now supposing you had a bad back,
A lame, weak, or aching one,
Would you experiment on it?
You will read of many so-called cures.
Endorsed by strangers from faraway places.
It's different when the endorsement comes from home.
Easy to prove local testimony.

SAVED A FOOT

January 11th, 1915.

WHITE FOOT REMEDY CO.,
Centreville, Md.

Dear Sir: Please send me by Parcels Post a large size can of White Foot Oil. I have been crippled for 15 years, had a bad running sore on my foot, and had decided, on the advice of physicians, to have it amputated. I heard so much about your oil that I thought I would try it, and it has done the work, it has saved my foot. It is the greatest healer I ever saw for a sore, whether on man or beast.
