

CUT THE CORDS

that bind you to your kitchen

Come down to-day and see a graphic picture of conditions that apply in kitchens that lack Hoosier convenience. The whole story is in our window.

THE NEW HOOSIER CABINET

Puts your whole kitchen at fingers' ends, and cuts your work in two. We'll put one in your home to-day FOR A SINGLE DOLLAR.

We start to-day to explain the new HOOSIER PLAN by which we are permitted to sell a few of these famous cabinets on surprising terms.

MOST OF THEM ARE ALREADY TAKEN

This plan differs from any other on which furniture was ever sold. Note the details.

1. One dollar puts any Hoosier you select in your home.
2. One dollar weekly dues quickly pay for it.
3. The low cash price fixed by the factory prevails absolutely.
4. The is under the direct supervision of the Hoosier Company.
5. When this allotment is taken, the sale closes.
6. If you are not delighted with your cabinet we will gladly refund your money.

When you think of the miles of steps this cabinet saves you every day, can you daily postpone looking at these cabinets until it is too late to enroll? The time is getting short. Come in to-day and look at these Hoosiers. You place yourself under no obligation.

You will not be asked to buy.

unless you realize yourself the need of this cabinet in your home. But if you do not enroll, remember, some other woman will enjoy the privilege that is now yours if you enroll to-day.

Nothing you have seen will save you so much labor in your kitchen, if you act to-day.

SHE COURTED CRITICISM.

And the Queen Got Rather More Than She Anticipated.

In her youth Queen Elizabeth of Roumania spent much time on the training of her voice, and, encouraged by flatterers, came to believe herself to be a singer of unusual talent. At length, says Bibliothek der Unterhaltung und des Wissens, she decided to have her voice tried by some great teacher. So she went one day, dressed very simply and without the usual retinue of servants, to see Professor Dumanois of Bukharest and urged him to give his frank opinion on the quality of her voice and her future prospects. He tested her voice with great care, first with the simple scales, then with a song and lastly with an operatic aria.

When the trial was over the professor said, "I cannot say that you have a wonderful voice. You sing fairly well and with not a little feeling. I might undertake to train you to sing in operetta, but to speak quite frankly you haven't the looks for it."

Up to this time the teacher had not known that the rank of the aspirant was any higher than that of scores of other young ladies equally ambitious, who constantly came to him. But his surprise was great when the lady handed him the visiting card of the queen, and he found that he had before him no less a personage than royalty itself. The queen thanked him heartily for the frank way in which he had judged her musical ability and went home with her ambition in that direction decidedly diminished.

MINORITY PRESIDENTS.

Elections That Were Not In Accord With the Popular Vote.

One on God's side is a majority, said Wendell Phillips. Luckily for American presidents majorities are not required, else a good many of them never would have reached the White House.

Pennsylvania's only president, James Buchanan, had nearly 40,000 fewer votes than his competitors. Old Rough and Ready Taylor landed the job with only 47 per cent of all the ballots cast.

Lincoln was a decisive minority president, and he went to the White House with only forty out of every hundred votes that were polled. Woodrow Wilson got into office by an almost equally slim majority, having a trifle more than 40 per cent of all ballots.

Neither time he was chosen president did Grover Cleveland have half the votes of the United States with him. Strangely enough, the other time he was nominated and when he was beaten by Harrison, Cleveland, although the loser, had the greater number of votes by nearly 100,000.

Hence Cleveland won twice on a minority, but lost once with a plurality.

Tilden had not only more votes than Hayes, but more than all his competitors combined, yet he wasn't president. Garfield, like Hayes, was a minority winner.

There seems to be as great luck in a minority as in the divine right of majorities.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Turn About.

Mr. Kipling, while on a visit to Mr. Hardy, went to see a house which the author of "Life's Little Ironies" thought would suit him. When Mr. Kipling moved out of earshot, Mr. Hardy observed to the occupant:

"I may mention to you that this gentleman is no other than Mr. Rudyard Kipling."

"Is that so?" she replied. "I never heard the name before."

Presently Mr. Kipling, in turn, found himself alone with the lady and remarked:

"Possibly you may not be aware that the gentleman who brought me here today is Mr. Hardy, the eminent author."

"Oh, indeed," was her reply. "I don't know his name."—London Express.

The First Thing.

Not capital or labor or land or goods, but human relations lie at the root of all social reforms. All questions between employers and employed are to be solved in that way. Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, what is right and just and loving and fair between man and man. The discovery of that is the only solution of all these stormy questions.—F. D. Maurice in Ohio State Journal.

Clever.

"Bliggins is a clever story teller."

"Why, he has been telling the same story for years!"

"Yes. But he keeps you listening. Every now and then he manages to think up another beginning and make you believe it's going to be a new one."—Washington Star.

Pretty Quick.

Officer—You say the chauffeur sounded his horn just as the machine struck the man? Witness—Yes, sir. Officer—Was the victim killed instantly? Witness—So instantly, sir, that he must have heard the echo of that horn in the next world.

CURIOUS BATTLEFIELDS.

One Conflict That Raged to a Large Extent Indoors.

At the battle of Monterey, in the Mexican war, our troops were able to command the streets of the city with their artillery, but they experienced much difficulty in driving the Mexicans from their houses. Accordingly, as the city was built of stone or adobe, the Americans broke through the walls from one house to another, fighting and driving out the enemy as they proceeded. Thus, it appears, the battle of Monterey was largely fought indoors.

In the time of William the Silent, when the Netherlands were fighting the Spaniards, a number of Spanish vessels became frozen in on the Zuider Zee. Out came the Dutch on horseback on the ice to attack the Spaniards. This is probably the only battle of record wherein cavalry was employed directly against a naval force.

There have been battles fought under ground. Chiefest of these was the fierce encounter pertaining to the siege of Haarlem in the Dutch wars. The Spaniards mined and the Dutch countermined with equal industry, and below the ground a terrific conflict ensued.

When, after the commune, the Versailles troops took Paris they chased certain of the communist forces to the great sewers of the capital, and in these more than one sanguinary battle occurred.—Exchange.

PROVED HIS THEORY.

Tragic Climax In a Murder Trial, but It Saved the Accused.

The acme of realism was reached, though by accident, in a criminal trial that took place a number of years ago at Lebanon, O.

Two men had a personal encounter. One of them after vainly trying to draw his pistol from his hip pocket turned to flee. A moment later he fell, shot in the small of the back. One chamber of his pistol was found to have been fired. His assailant was tried for murder.

The defense contended that the man had shot himself while trying to draw his pistol, which had become entangled in the lining of the pocket, and that the prisoner's shot had not taken effect. The prosecution contended that such a wound could not have been self inflicted.

The defendant's counsel, Clement L. Vallandigham, undertook to demonstrate to the jury just how the dead man's pistol had hung in the pocket and just how possible it was to inflict such a wound. Suddenly there was a loud report, and the lawyer sank to the floor. The ball had entered the back almost in the identical spot where the dead man had been shot.

The defendant was acquitted. Mr. Vallandigham died.—Exchange.

An Insulting Pronoun.

The ritual of society, as women make it, is very exacting the world over, even in almhouses. The London Outlook reports a serious trouble among a set of workhouse officials. The infirmary nurses, three in number, had demanded a separate sitting room and the delight of Sunday dinner therein, and the matron had sought to humble them by sending the cook to enjoy her Sunday dinner in their company. The brawny cook described what occurred as follows:

"Well, Nurse Blank, she come down and got inside the door. 'Four covers?' she says. 'Four? Who's the fourth?' 'Me,' says I. 'You!' she says, and with that she tosses her head and walks away."

Here cook drew a long breath, then continued, "If it hadn't 'a' been Sunday, gentlemen, I should have let her have it for calling me 'you!'"

Went to the Doctor's.

An old man who looked like a foreigner was walking along a London street playing a concertina that had seen better days. Noticing a brass plate with the words, "Doctor of Music" written under the name on it, he went up to the house and rang the bell. The door was answered by a servant, who asked his business.

"Please," he said, "is the doctor o' music in?"

"Yes. What is it you want?" the servant asked.

"Why, just pop in an' ax him how much he'll charge to mend my concertina," was the reply.

Sex In Business.

It may be instinct, it may be custom, but anyway it is a fact—

First.—That when a woman marries she doesn't want her job any longer.

Second.—That when a man marries he wants his job all the more. Consequently—

Third.—That as long as there is marrying and giving in marriage business, being desirous of reliable help, will discern a difference between the sexes.—Life.

As the Case May Be.

"And its awfully impolite to interrupt one who is talking, isn't it, mother?"

"Except when a woman is describing clothes, my dear, and then it is polite to constantly ejaculate, 'How lovely!' or 'How ridiculous!' as the case may be."—Kansas City Times.

Paradox.

Wigg—I can't make out that fellow Bjones. He's a paradox. Wagg—Yes. I've known him to pawn his watch to have a good time.—Philadelphia Record.

His Answer.

Stern Parent—So you want my daughter, huh. Got any money? Suitor—Yes, sir. How high do you quote her?—Boston Transcript.
