

CUT THE CORDS

that bind you to your kitchen

Come down to-day and see a graphic picture of conditions that apply in kitchens that lack Hoosier convenience. The whole story is in our window.

THE NEW HOOSIER CABINET

Puts your whole kitchen at fingers' ends, and cuts your work in two. We'll put one in your home to-day FOR A SINGLE DOLLAR.

We start to-day to explain the new HOOSIER PLAN by which we are permitted to sell a few of these famous cabinets on surprising terms.

MOST OF THEM ARE ALREADY TAKEN

This plan differs from any other on which furniture was ever sold. Note the details.

1. One dollar puts any Hoosier you select in your home.
2. One dollar weekly dues quickly?pay for it.
3. The low cash price fixed by the factory prevails absolutely.
4. The is under the direct supervision of the Hoosier Company.
5. When this allotment is taken, the sale closes.
6. If you are not delighted with your cabinet we will gladly refund your money.

When you think of the miles of steps this cabinet saves you every day, can you daily postpone looking at these cabinets until it is too late to enroll? The time is getting short. Come in today and look at these Hoosiers. You place yourself under no obligation.

You will not be asked to buy.

unless you realize yourself the need of this cabinet in your home. But if you do not enroll, remember, some other woman will enjoy the privilege that is now yours if you enroll to-day.

Nothing you have seen will save you so much labor in your kitchen, if you act to-day.

THE EASTERN SHORE.

If there's anything that happens that is really worth your while,
If there's anybody doing anything to make you smile,
If there's anybody helping move the busy world along,
If there's anybody righting any kind of human wrong,
If there's anybody setting times and places in a roar—
You bet your bottom dollar he is from the Eastern Shore.

If there's anything that cheers you with its comfort and its glow,
If there's anything that helps you to develop and to grow,
If there's anything that's singing all the day of light and cheer,
If there's anything that holds you to the beautiful and clear,
If there's anything that's mentioned in our sweet old Baltimore—
You bet your bottom dollar it is from the Eastern Shore.

If there's anybody praising some fair woman's charm and grace,
If there's anybody crazy o'er an old-time mother's face,
If there's anybody dwelling on the righteous and the sweet,
If there's anybody bubbling over things the angels eat;
If there's anybody speaking of a land of charm and lore—
You may bet your bottom dollar that he means the Eastern Shore.

Six Months of War and Its Cost.

This week marked the close of the first six months of the dreadful war in Europe, which started actively last August and is still being conducted with such fierceness and determination on both sides that there is not the slightest hope of an early cessation of hostilities. The present outlook is largely confirmative of Lord Kitchener's grim prediction, made soon after the conflict started, that it would continue for three years.

But when the cost of the war up to this time is studied, it does not seem possible the combatants can withstand the terrible drain for more than another half year, if that long. The London Economist, a journal of authority in financial and economic affairs, estimates that the first half-year of war has cost Germany $2,125,000,000; Austria-Hungary, $1,500,000,000; a total of $3,625,000,000 on one side. On the other side, Russia, $2,125,000,000; France, $1,625,000,000; United Kingdom, $1,200,000,000; a total of $4,950,000,000. The grand total is $8,575,000,000, figures of startling magnitude for only six months of fighting.

The cost of human life and injury is even more startling. It is estimated that between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 men have been killed, wounded or captured in the fighting thus far. This is a horrible record, and to it must be added the human misery and suffering that attends these casualties, to say nothing of the destruction of property in unhappy Belgium and elsewhere.

What an awful object-lesson of the horrors of war. It seems incredible that in this enlightened age, in these days of alleged Christianity and civilization, the war spirit should be even tolerated, much less countenanced and encouraged anywhere.

He Didn't Take the Paper.

A farmer in this community once had a horse he wanted to sell. It was a valuable horse and should have brought a good price. For months he tried to sell the animal, but could not find a buyer at his figure. He finally sold it for about $25 less than its value rather than carry it through the winter.

Now it happened that just across the line in another county there was another farmer who was looking for just such a horse, but was unable to find it. Then he inserted a little ad in the home paper, which brought him a number of offers, one of which he reluctantly accepted.

The first farmer did not take the home paper, and of course did not see the little ad of the man who wanted a horse, and who would have purchased his animal at a good price.

By not taking the paper he saved the subscription price of $1, and likewise lost $24 by not seeing the other fellow's ad.

Such occurrences are happening every week right here in this community in which people actually lose good money because they do not take their home paper, and hence do not know of many of the opportunities that are placed before them.

The man who takes the paper and reads it carefully each week not only knows what is going on, but he is in fact money ahead at the end of the year by knowing what, when and where to buy.

"Penny wise and pound foolish" is exemplified in many ways.

Pack of Tomatoes and Corn.

The official report of the National Canners Association, issued January 16th, shows a record-breaking output of tomatoes in the year 1914. The pack in Maryland was 5,850,000 cases, a decrease in Maryland of 430,000 cases, the pack in the entire county however was 15,222,000, an increase of 1,016,000 cases over that of 1913.

The pack of corn in Maryland for 1914 was 1,346,000 cases, an increase of 341,000 cases over 1913; the entire pack of the country is given as 9,789,000 cases as against 7,283,000 cases in 1913—showing an increase of 1,506,000 case.

The usual annual requirements of the country is estimated to be from 10,500,000 to 11,000,000 cases, so that despite the increased pack, it is insufficient to meet the normal demand.

Will our tomato growers grasp the significance of this statement and hold out for a reasonable price for growing tomatoes this season.

Uncle Sam's Money Factory.

Uncle Sam's great money factory in Washington is one of the wonderful sights of the world. Housed in a building 580 feet long and with four wings each 285 feet deep, it takes 32,840 panes of glass to admit light to its four stories. The structure of the bureau of engraving and printing is built of Indiana limestone and it presents to the shining Potomac, which it faces, a row of columns on the front as imposing as those on the east side of the treasury.

This probably is the finest manufacturing plant in the world in point of scientific equipment to conserve the health and comfort of its inhabitants. Two of the great roofs are given over to the employees for recreation purposes, one for men and the other for the women.

A hospital equipped for surgical operations and physicians of each sex are provided. The hospital treats about forty-five patients a day for accidents and illness, but many of these troubles are of a minor character. As more than 4,000 men and women are employed in the building, some of them working nights, about 1 per cent only require medical attention.—Chicago News.

Schools of Finland.

The folk schools of Finland are particularly fine, with their cooking apartments, gymnasiums, manual training and needlework. Every school has excellent bathing facilities, and the poorest children are fed at the schools. There are little zoological museums in most of the schools.

There are so many varieties of schools, besides the folk schools, elementary and higher; there are lyceums, schools of forestry, of agriculture and of navigation, schools for training teachers, commercial schools, technical, music and art schools, etc. There are three large garden schools in Finland, where boys as well as girls are taught cooking. "They must learn to cook what they grow," said one of the teachers. The dairy schools are particularly interesting. Dairying comes second among the industries of Finland. The pupil must have worked for one year at a butter factory before he or she will be admitted to the school.—Christian Herald.

Tests of Civilization.

It is only vulgar minds that mistake bigness for greatness, for greatness is of the soul, not of the body. In the judgment which history will hereafter pass upon the forty centuries of recorded progress toward civilization that now lie behind us, what are the tests it will apply to determine the true greatness of a people? Not population, not territory, not wealth, not military power. Rather will history ask: What examples of lofty character and unselfish devotion to honor and duty has a people given? What has it done to increase the volume of knowledge? What thoughts and what ideals of permanent value and unexhausted fertility has it produced in poetry, music, and the other arts to be an unfailing source of enjoyment to posterity? The small peoples need not fear the application of such tests.—James Bryce.

The Blind Need Windows.

Light has use, even if men cannot or will not see it. Baring-Gould tells of an institution for the blind that was built in England without windows. "Why," argued the committee, "should we provide windows for those that cannot see out of them?" So scientific ventilation and heating were provided, but the walls were left unpierced by any pane of glass. But soon the poor inmates grew pale, and a great languor fell upon them. They fell sick, and one or two died. Then it was that the committee decided to open windows in the walls. In came the healing light, and the human plants responded to it at once in revived spirits, ruddy cheeks and restored health. Light is good, the Light of the World is good, even for those who shut their eyes.—Christian Herald.

Scaling Fish.

A Mississippi woman tells as follows in the Woman's Home Companion how to scale fish with a minimum of discomfort:

"Scaling fish as generally done is a disagreeable task, as scales fly in every direction. I have discovered that fish may be scaled without this trouble if they are held under water in a large pan during the operation. Have just enough water to cover the fish nicely."

Sweet Return.

She (tearfully)—Henry, our engagement is at an end, and I wish to return to you everything you have ever given me.

He (cheerily)—Thanks, Blanche! You may begin at once with the kisses.

They are married now.—London Telegraph.

A Back Number.

"I wouldn't dream of marrying him. Why, he said he would do everything to make me happy."

"What is wrong about that?"

"He ought to know that humans are put on earth to fulfill missions, not to be happy."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Jerrold as a Cynic.

Ugliest of trades have their moments of pleasure. If I were a gravedigger or even a hangman there are some people I could work for with a great deal of enjoyment.—Douglas Jerrold.

Not the Same Thing.

"I hear young Spriggins has taken a partner for life."

"Not necessarily, but he's married."—Livingston Lance.

Happy thou that learnedst from another's griefs, not to subject thyself to the same.—Tibullus.
