PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Miss Stacy Medders, one of the operators at the telephone exchange, is in the Easton Hospital under special treatment, having undergone a delicate operation this week. We understand that her condition is improved.

John B. Hessey, Esq., of the Baltimore bar, spent the week-end with relatives and friends near town.

Mrs. Stevens and little daughter, of Sudlersville, have been visiting Mrs. Washington Woodall and Mrs. David B. Kendall during the week.

Miss Sophia Sachs has returned from a two-weeks visit to friends in Baltimore and elsewhere.

Miss Netta Newman and Miss Helen Heller, of Baltimore, are guests of the latter's father, Mr. Heller.

Mr. William F. Malin attended the funeral of Mr. W. L. James, a former official of the Jr. O. U. A. M. Monday in Baltimore.

Miss Ada Legg is spending the winter with relatives in Camden, N. J., and Philadelphia.

Mr. Harry Rust is in Philadelphia for the week.

Master Clifton Tucker Slaughter gave a party Tuesday afternoon to a dozen or more of his little friends in honor of his sixth birthday anniversary.

Miss Laura V. Smith, of Church Hill spent a part of last week with her aunt Mrs. Fred S. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Temple and children, Franklin and Virginia, of Church Hill, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carmine.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Jefferson celebrated the eight anniversay of their wedding Sunday, entertaining Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jefferson and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jefferson, at dinner.

Mrs. Charles Austin and daughter, Elizabeth, of Church Hill, spent last week at the home of Mr. G. Thomas Dewberry, over the river.

Mrs. Harry F. Jefferson has been visiting Baltimore friends.

Miss Merle White has been appointed Secretary to supt. of schools, Jefferson L. Smyth.

Mrs. Lewin W. Wickes and children, of Chestertown, are spending several weeks in Baltimore.

Dr. H. B. Simmons entertained in fine style Wednesday afternoon the directors and officers of the People's Bank. A turkey dinner was served at his home.

Mr. John H. Clendaniel, after a tenancy of more than 20 years, will remove to his own farm and Mr. Robert Kennedy will succeed him.

Mr. John C. Davis has been confined to his home for about two weeks with a bad cold. He is much better at this time.

Mr. Robert Ayres spent the week-end a guest of his parents, near Tolchester.

Mr. W. H. Bringman and friends, of Oxford, spent last week with the former's brother, Mr. W. O. Bringman, at the Royal Lunch Room.

Mr. Jerry Solomos, of the Candy Kitchen Firm, whom we reported last week as being ill, developed appendicitis and was taken to a Baltimore hospital Friday morning in a very bad condition.

Mrs. J. E. Ferguson and Mrs. Charles J. Reiche have been visiting relatives and friends in Philadelphia during the week. They heard Billy Sunday several times, and last Sunday evening they had the pleasure of being seated on the stage with him.

Miss Kate Wheatley, supt. of H. F. Jefferson & Bro's. millinery department, had the misfortune to sprain her ankle one day this week and she has been under the care of her physician, Dr. Dodd, since. Mrs. Sherwood, we regret to state, has also been quite sick with the grippe.

Mrs. Fannie Moore has been visiting relatives and friends in Baltimore, during the week.

Important Wills Filed.

Considerable important business was transacted by the Orphans' Court on Tuesday, a number of important wills being filed for probate. The will of the late Charles C. Wood was filed. Mr. Wood leaves quite an estate owning two farms and insurance of $8,000 on his life. He was a personal friend of Mr. Wilbur W. Hubbard and left him his executor or administrator, but Mr. Hubbard's own business affairs demanding his time and attention he was compelled to decline and renounce this honor and the heirs have selected Hope H. Barroll, Esq., to act as co-administrator with John C. Wood, the oldest son. The money from his insurance is left to pay his just debts. The Hubbard farm is left to his son, Mr. James M. Wood, and his daughter, Ida Anna Elderdice, she to receive her portion of the rentals. In the event of her death, her husband, James M. Elderdice, is to receive her portion, and if she die without issue, or in the event of the death of both Mr. and Mrs. Elderdice, her portion reverts to the heirs at law. The Wickes farm is left to his sons, John C., and Charles D. Wood, jointly, with the provision that they pay $500 to James M. Wood and Ida Anna Elderdice. In consideration of a mutual agreement between the testator and his widow concerning their respective properties, the widow is left the personalty and household effects on the farm where he resided. The will bears date of January 31, 1911, and was witnessed by Wm. H. Elliott and W. B. Copper.

The will of George W. Roeder was filed for probate on Wednesday. He leaves all of his property absolutely to his wife, and constitutes her executrix without bond.

The will of Thomas Rigby, colored, was also filed for probate by Sidney P. Townshend, executor named in the will. After payment of his debts and for the erection of a tomb stone, the residue of his estate is left to Thomas Rigby, son of his brother, and Mary Miller, daughter of his half-brother, Fred Page. Rigby left a small property in Chestertown which he directed to be sold.

Sidney P. Townshend, Esq., attorney for Laura Barrett, administratrix, took out letters upon the estate of George Barrett, late of Quaker Neck.

Of Interest to Boat Owners.

Through the courtesies of a number of members of Congress whose terms of service expire on the 4th day of March, Congressman Charles J. Linthicum has secured their allotment of Coast Charts, and as all demands in his district have been fully met, as long as they last, he will be glad to send to any resident of Maryland having use for the same a full set of the charts comprises five sectional ones, covering different sections of the Bay, and one general chart embracing the entire Chesapeake. Anyone wishing a chart should address, Hon. J. Charles Linthicum, 105 House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

The Shipping Bill.

The Ocean Boat Trust has the world by the throat. With the German ships withdrawn from the carrying trade there is an insufficient amount of tonnage to carry the world's merchandise and foodstuffs, and the boats that are doing the business are doing it at a most exorbitant profit. The owners have not only jumped the rates, but they give preference to that class of shipping which pays the best. This means that bulk freight, like grain and cotton, must wait for the covenience or pleasure of ship masters. Were it not for this, there would be twice the grain and cotton moving to Europe and if the freight charge was not so exorbitant, cotton, at least, would be bringing a far better price than now obtained.

The contribution which America alone is making to this outrageous monopoly will amount to about $311,000,000 this year, providing the volume of export and import traffic average about what it did in December. In other words we will have to pay to these ship barons, as extra tribute, about a third as much as it cost us to run the United States government. What is the cure for this intolerable condition? The best cure, of course, would be to have competing lines started, but this requires a huge sum of money and those who are already in the business make it as hard as possible for others to enter. The only alternative therefore seems to be for the goverment to break this monopoly by operating directly or through governmental control sufficient ships to relieve the partial embargo which now lies upon American commerce. This is the logical solution that is proposed by the administration and it would have been put into effect already had not obtuseness, partisanship and self-interest stood in the way.

At the present moment a few senators inspired by one or all of those motives are conducting, not an inteligent debate, but an old fashioned filibuster, in their attempt to thwart this necessary legislation. If their senseless opposition continues too long, while the wharves at our ocean ports heap higher daily with merchandise and grain, there will be something stirring in the back woods, and there will be something stirring in Washington. The farmers have a few long range guns and they know how to shoot. There will be some senators who will discover this unpleasant fact before long if they do not get in line with the will of the people, and relieve us of this tyranny of the seas.—Farm Life.

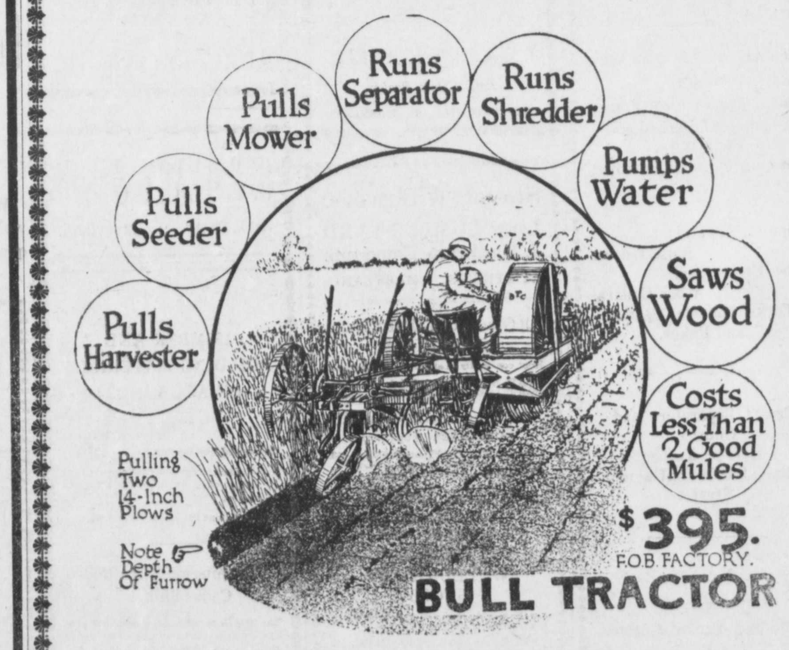

Lynch Items.

Miss Helen Rasin entertained quite a few friends at her home near Lynch at a social dance, Friday evening. Among those present were: Mrs. Copper, Mrs. Stavely, Mrs. Rasin, Misses Rasin, Copper, Gale, Price, Cornelius, Norris, Sheats, Miller, Smith, Kaiser, Messrs. Rasin, Newton, Miller, Beck, Bonwill, Hudson, Stavely, Sheats, Cooper, Coleman, Melvin, Kaiser.

The Misses Copper, of near Kennedyville, entertained a few friends in honor of Miss Helen Gale and Miss Catharine Price.

Mrs. L. S. Price and daughter, Catharine, spent the past ten days in Wilmington, Del.

Miss Helen Gale spent a very enjoyable week-end at the home of Miss Catharine Price.

AT LAST

Here is a powerful little machine which does the work of five horses—never gets tired—costs less for fuel than horse feed AND STOPS EATING WHEN IT STOPS WORKING.

Because it travels continuously and faster than horses, ONE MAN with the BULL TRACTOR can plow more than TWO MEN with two three-horse teams. Pulls your Plows, Seeders, Harvesters, Mowers, Drills, Disks and then does any belt work requiring up to twelve-horse power. Guaranteed as long as you own it. Saves you money every day you use it.

Write at once for Descriptive Illustrated Booklet and special offer to farmers.

A Public Demonstration will be given upon the arrival of a carload lot now in transit. Full particulars as to time and place announced later.

SPECIAL PRICE ON BOILER TUBES.
