IN THE NATION'S CAPITAL:

Ike, Dulles Tangle In UN Group Mixup

By LOUIS LAUTIER

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — The Eisenhower Administration is either turning out to be adept at double talk or it is getting its signals badly mixed.

Under the Constitution, only the President can speak for the United States in foreign affairs. The Secretary of State is his agent.

But one day Secretary of State John Foster Dulles tells the Senate Judiciary Committee that the Administration will not sign the covenants on human rights and the political status of women, which are in draft stages before UN commissions nor will it press for ratification of the genocide convention, which President Truman sent to the Senate four years ago.

Ike Favors Covenant

The next day Mr. Eisenhower sends a message to the members of the UN Commission on Human Rights, meeting in Geneva to finish drafting the covenant on human rights, expressing his "deep personal interest" in the work of the commission.

The only rational reason which may be assigned for the action of the Administration in abandoning the human rights covenant (for that is what it is doing) is that it wishes to appease Sen. John W. Bricker (Rep. Ohio) and 63 other Senators who are sponsoring a resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution to curb the treaty-making power.

In other words, the Administration is unwilling to fight out on its merits the issue of whether or not the Bricker amendment should be adopted to prevent possible misuse of the treaty-making power.

Appeasement Not New

Appeasement of a United States Senator is nothing new. At each of his press conferences, Mr. Eisenhower has carefully refrained from criticizing any member of Congress, although there have been ample grounds for his doing so.

Unless Mr. Eisenhower is willing to take a firm and bold stand on issues which arise, and over which members of his own party may differ with him, he will find out one day that Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, is President in fact. Other Presidents have found it necessary even to appeal to the people over the heads of the Congress.

1 GOP Move Riles Lehman One Doesn't

WASHINGTON, (NNPA) —Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, Dem., N.Y., last Wednesday levelled a blast at the Eisenhower administration for its decision not to press for Senate ratification of the genocide convention, but said nothing about abandonment of the convention on human rights.

The genocide convention outlaws acts aimed at wiping out whole groups of people within a country because of their religion, race, nationality or ethnic origin. Unanimously approved by the United Nations General Assembly Dec. 9, 1948, President Truman sent it to the Senate for ratification on June 11, 1949.

Pleads For 'Enslaved Europe'

He has been pigeonhole in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee ever since, chiefly because southern members of the committee contended that it might be applied to lynchings or mob violence in this country.

"The enslaved peoples behind the Iron Curtain will have no reason to take heart," Senator Lehman said, from the decision of the Eisenhower administration not to press for ratification of the genocide convention.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles bluntly told the Senate Judiciary Committee earlier last week that the Eisenhower administration would not even send to the Senate for ratification as treaties the conventions on human rights, the political status of women and genocide.

PATROL BOY OF WEEK — Detroit's Edward Swan Jr., 11, is shown as he accepted his Patrol Boy Badge from Police Lt. Charles Jaress, after being named "Patrol Boy of the Week" in the current safety campaign. The rescue of a 5-year-old girl from the path of a truck helped bring him the award.

Kansas Launches Purge Of Teachers

Anticipates Court Ruling

Sees Segregation In Schools Ended

TOPEKA, Kan.— Anticipating the end of segregation in elementary schools, the school boards in the 10 largest cities in Kansas are planning to "purge" colored teachers out of the school systems of this state, it was revealed here last week.

School authorities are reported working toward the integration of pupils in the classrooms but plan to "weed out" the colored teachers wholesale, is the report.

The plot came to light when an Negro attorney in the Topeka State Capital, Monday, revealing the plan of school boards in first class cities of Kansas which still have segregated schools.

State-Wide Survey

Signed by Anna Mary Murphy, a staff writer for the newspaper, the article states that a "statewide survey of first-class Kansas cities which still have segregation reveals a mass announced weeding-out of colored teachers is taking place."

The Topeka school board, the article says, has failed to renew the contracts of its most recently employed colored teachers.

The article points out that there are 237 colored teachers employed in the first class cities of Kansas teaching 7,521 colored students. In Topeka there are four colored elementary schools with an enrolment of 1,779 pupils and with 27 teachers.

No mass firings yet have taken place in other cities, the article says, "but the boards have anticipated the end of segregation for several years by filling full vacancies with white teachers."

American Soldier Cited As Hero In Automobile Accident In Germany

NURNBERG, Germany — A German couple and their son cited a German - speaking American soldier for aid rendered them after an accident which occurred on a main highway in Germany, midway between the cities of Schwabach and Weissenburg.

Sgt. Norman Nelson, G-2 section, Seventh Army headquarters, Vaihingen, near Stuttgart, Germany, received commendation through several newspapers in the Nurnberg-Furth area from Hans Lersch, 11 Pillenreutherstrase, Nurnberg, for aid rendered them during an automobile accident.

Lersch's family, with his wife at the wheel, was driving on the Lehman said, from the decision of the Eisenhower administration not to press for ratification of the genocide convention.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles bluntly told the Senate Judiciary Committee earlier last week that the Eisenhower administration would not even send to the Senate for ratification as treaties the conventions on human rights, the political status of women and genocide.

them out of the overturned car and took them to a physician in a nearby town.

Speaking the German language fluently, Nelson told the doctor about the mishap, assured himself that proper aid was being rendered, then left the Doctor's office and returned to the scene of the accident.

Half an hour later, when Lersch's family returned to their overturned car Nelson was there guarding the vehicle would-be looters. Only when the couple informed him that his services were no longer needed did he drive away.

Sergeant Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nelson, Mt. Union, Pa., entered the armed services March, 1944. He received basic training at Indiantown Gap, Pa., and upon completion of training, was transferred overseas and after service all over Europe during World War II.

4 H. U. Teachers Granted $30,000

WASHINGTON

Four grants for cancer research, totaling nearly $30,000, have been awarded to faculty members at the Howard University college of medicine.

The recipients of the grants, made by the National Cancer Institute of the U. S. Public Health Service, are:

Dr. Roscoe L. McKinney, professor of anatomy; Dr. Walter M. Booker, associate Professor of pharmacology; Dr. Lloyd H. Newman, associate professor of biochemistry; and Dr. Lawrence M. Marshall, assistant professor of biochemistry.

The grants will run for one year beginning April 1.

Participates In Two

Dr. Marshall will participate in two of the studies to be conducted. He will use the $1,000 grant to study "The Intermediates of the Krebs Tricarboxylic Acid Cycle in Embryogenesis" and will work with Dr. Newman on a study of "The Factors in Rapid Growth." A grant of $11,674 has been awarded for the latter study.

Dr. McKinney, who received a grant of $7,000, will study the development of intercellular fibres in tissue cultures of normal and cancer cells. Dr. Booker, who received a like amount, will study ascorbic metabolism and the relation of ascorbic acid and cholesterol to adrenocortical function.

HELP FOR 'MISS' IN DISTRESS:

Boy, 6, Youth, 19 Save Girl From Electrocution

ROXBURY, Mass. — A 7-year old girl and an unidentified 6-year-old boy last week were saved from electrocution on the third rail at the MTA Dudley st., terminal by a 19 year-old West End boy.

Judith Perham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perham of 52 Bower st., fell into the MTA pit and onto the third rail when she slipped from the terminal platform. The unidentified 6-year-old jumped in to save her.

Fortunately, Albert Sinewitz of Allen st., West End, saw the two children go into the pit and jumped in after them.

Carries 660 Volts

Sinewitz's momentum knocked Judith clear of the third rail which we packed with 660 volts to electricity. He hastily grabbed both children, and boosted them to safety.

MTA starter Leonard Hayes summoned aid for Judith who received first degree burns of the wrist and arm from her contact with the third rail. Meanwhile the 6-year-old boarded an inbound train.

After treatment for her injuries at City Hospital, Judith was allowed to go home with her parents.

Her mother said Judith had been playing with companions near their home and thought the child must have wandered off and entered the terminal-three quarters of a mile from her home though the ramp leading to the inbound tracks.

St. Louis Reelects Lawson As Alderman

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — DeWitt T. Lawson, Democrat, was re-elected to the board of alderman here last week.

Sen. J. Bricker's Amendment Hit

NEW YORK — The proposals of Sen. John W. Bricker of Ohio and of the American Bar association to alter the present treaty - making procedure by requiring ratifications by the 48 state legislatures and enactment of implementing laws. is a "threat to constitutional government."

Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, made that statement last week in his weekly radio broadcast over WLIB and affiliated stations in 90 other cities.

While the administration is aware of this danger; Mr. White asserted, the appeasement proposed by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is likewise damaging to American prestige.

Testifying before the Senate Judiciary Committee in April Mr. Dulles opposed the Bricker amendment, but said the administration will not seek ratification of the United Nations genocide convention or the declaration of human rights now being formulated by a UN commission.

Liberia, Firestone Agree On Higher Tax

The Firestone Tire and rubber company has agreed to increase its Liberian taxes from 19 to 24 per cent.

The agreement is an amendment to the 99-year concession granted by the government to Firestone in 1926.

This was due to the changed world rubber situation which caused the price to drop from 79 cents to 19 cents a pound in a few months.

Ga. Regents Would Close Schools By Stiffer Tests

ATLANTA, Ga. (ANP) — Georgia NAACP officials revealed last week that a Morehouse College freshman has applied for admission to the lily-white Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta.

Regents of the University System are now moving to tighten entrance requirements at all white state schools.

Dr. William M. Boyd, state president of the NAACP, said that Robert Cheeseboro of Columbus, Ga., applied for admission to the industrial and technological school on Feb. 28.

Boyd released copies of correspondence with school official including a letter from L. R. Seibert, executive secretary of the board of regents, which offered the student out-of-state aid.

On March 10, Cheeseboro declined this offer and asked Seibert to refer his application back to the registrar at Georgia Tech for evaluation. Dr. Boyd said the student has received no answer from this request nor has he heard from the registrar.

Last Wednesday, the regents directed all units of the system to give entrance examinations, and in addition, to require all prospective students to submit certificates from university alumni attesting to their good character and proof of their legal residence.

Massacre In East Africa

LONDON (NNPA)—The East Africa liberation movement is "more like a war than an emergency," Oliver Lyttleton, Colonial Secretary, has informed the House of Commons.

In a statement on the March 26 massacre of pro - European Africans in the Uplands district of Kenya, British colony in East Africa, he said the attacks by members of the so-called Mau Mau, native society pledged to rid East Africa of Europeans, were well planned.

After stating that the government was "impotent to protect its friends," Mr. Paget, Socialist member from Northampton, moved the adjournment of the House of Commons to discuss what he described as "probably the most shocking event in the history of our Commonwealth."

Cut Down With Axes

Mr. Lyttleton told the Commons that the alleged Mau Mau members wired up huts from the outside, set fire to roofs and cut down people with axes and swords as they tried to escape from the windows.

Between 40 and 50 huts were burned, he reported, and 71 Kikuyu were killed, 51 were missing and 50 wounded. He said most of the dead were women and children. Casualties would probably be higher, he added, than the figures he had given.

Mr. Lyttleton said 2,000 inhabitants of the reservation had been screened, several hundred detained, and at least 150 identified by survivors as having taken part in the massacre.

Took Machine Guns

In the attack on the Naivasha police station, Mr. Lyttleton said, the alleged Mau Mau members were unable to break into the armory but forced the adjoining Kenya police reserve armory and took 18 submachine guns, a double barreled shotgun and some rifle and revolver ammunition.

While the attack was going on, another group of alleged Mau Mau members released 137 prisoners, of whom some 50 have since been recaptured.

"The situation is of a semi-military character, more like war than an emergency," Mr. Lyttleton said.

No Evidence Of Command

He had no evidence, he said, about a central command of the so-called Mau Mau except to say that the two attacks appeared to be carefully planned.

Mr. Brockway, Socialist from Eton and Slough, said he had been ashamed when men in Nairobi, capital of Kenya, with more culture than himself had been refused service in hotels and restaurants and were humiliated.

Advocating a conference of all races in Kenya, Mr. Griffiths said joint leadership must be offered to Africans, Asians and Europeans alike. He declared that there was no future for anybody in Kenya except on the basis of racial cooperation.

Nude Pix Charged To Mixed Couple

DETROIT — Fred Smith, 51, arrested here several weeks ago and charged with bond jumping in Chattanooga, Tenn., where he was arrested for living with a white woman, had another charge added this week when Tennessee authorities arrived here

The Chattanooga officers accused Smith of showing nude pictures of sexual relations that he had with the woman in many forms.

The woman is in jail in Chattanooga waiting trial on the same charges, police said.

Police said Smith plans to return to Tennessee without fighting extradition.

In Memoriams 1

FIELDS — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, ROBERT FIELDS, who passed away April 14, 1945:

Do not ask us if we miss him;
There is such a vacant place
Oft we think we hear his footsteps
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er us.
Tears in silence often flow;
Memory keeps him ever near us
Though he left us eight years ago;

HIS MOTHER AND FATHER,
3 BROTHERS AND
2 SISTERS.

FULLER—In loving memory of our dear mother, MATTIE, who passed away one year ago, April 13, 1952.

God saw the road was getting rough
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed her loving eyes
And whispered "peace be thine."
Her weary hours, her days of pain,
Her lonely nights are past;
Her ever patient, worn out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
Loving HUSBAND and CHILDREN.

VAUGHN—In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister EVELYN, who passed away April 14, 1946:

Her life is a beautiful memory,
Her absence a silent grief;
Her death is God's beautiful garden
In the sunshine of perfect peace.
God grant some day we may meet her there.
Lovingly, Mother, Father, and Sister.
