PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Mrs. J. A. Perkins and little daughter, of Lansdowne, Pa., have been guests of her mother, Mrs. S. L. Thomas, on Washington avenue, during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles de Vere Drayton and son, of Washington, D. C., have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Eliason, during the week.

We regret to state that Mr. Wm. B. Coleman is quite ill of pneumonia. His condition was reported slightly improved yesterday.

Mr. M. Wilbur Thomas, of the firm of Graham & Thomas, spent a part of the week in Philadelphia. He had the pleasure of hearing Billy Sunday.

We regret to state that Miss Josephine Hicks, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hicks, is quite sick with typhoid fever. Miss Hicks had left for the south, where she holds a lucrative position, but was compelled to return home on Tuesday evening.

Prof. Wm. F. Russell, Jr., of the Maryland School for the Blind, Baltimore, delivered an illustrated lecture on the work at the Blind school before the Young Men's Bible Class of St. Paul's M. E. Church, Wilmington, Del., on Monday evening. The lecture was fine and a big crowd heard the Chestertown boy.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Earl Maloy Corkran, son of Dr. and Mrs. Millard F. Corkran, of Wilmington, Del., and grandson of the late Rev. J. Earl Maloy, and Miss Carrie V. Sudler, of Baltimore, Md., to be solemnized at noon on March 25. Miss Sudler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morling B. Sudler, and comes of a well-known Maryland family. After their wedding the young people will be at home at 826 West street, Wilmington, Del.

We were in error last week in stating that Miss Marghuerita Dodd had secured a desirable place in Oakland, Md. It is Miss Marguerite Howard.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W Frank Jarrell was baptized last Sunday morning after church at the home of his parents. The little fellow was given the name of Wm. Frank Jarrell, Jr., by Rev. Dr. Graham, who performed the ceremony. Dr. Graham and wife, and Mrs. Wm. E. Jarrell, grandmother of the little man, were among those entertained at dinner, which followed the christening.

Mr. Merritt Brown has been quite sick during the week with a severe attack of grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen B. Crow expect to remove to Kent shortly.

The report that Mrs. C. L. Jarrell has had blood poisoning and that her little son has been sick with pneumonia is a mistake. Both are doing fine.

We are very glad to state that Mr. C. S. Hurlock, of Massey, is improved. Mr. Hurlock is not suffering with typhoid fever. He has an aggravated case of la grippe.

Mr. Robt. G. Nicholson and daughters, Misses Bessie, Mary and Nellie Nicholson, and his sister, Mrs. George W. Hatcherson, motored to Salisbury on Tuesday and spent the day and night with his son, Dr. Horace W. Nicholson, who is enjoying a fine practice there. Mrs. Dale Atkins returned with them to visit her parents, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Graham.

Chestertown Library.

The public library of Chestertown is entering upon its ninth year, having been organized in February 1907. From a neucleus of 267 books and 21 subscribers there has developed a library of classical books, standard sets and books for popular reading.

There are now 1,499 volumes, 61 of which have been added during the last year. Considering the fact that there is no source of revenue other than that of subscriptions and the fines, it is a matter of congratulation that this library is open twice a week for the issuing and the return of books. It is taken care of entirely by members of the Women's Literary Club, under whose management it is.

This is a public institution, and while it is loyally supported by its subscribers, it is anxious that more people take an active part in its affairs. The board is always ready to receive suggestions from its patrons.

At the pie bake held on February 13, there was cleared $23.28. This is used in purchasing new books, defraying expenses of coal, janitor, etc.

We do thank the county papers for their kindness in making note of its affairs and publishing lists of new books, and we also thank the Kent Mutual Fire Insurance Co. for the free use of the library room. About 2,229 books have been exchanged during the year.

The management is hoping, in order to make the library more efficient, to have a regular librarian; some one person to take charge each library day. In order to accomplish this it is necessary to have a fund, and to this end the board has decided to mail to citizens of the town and county, a letter, asking for contributions. If the community will come to the assistance there is sure to be much more benefit.

The following list of new books has been added to the Chestertown Public Library during March: A Daughter of The Manse, Mrs. Tracy Taylor; The Turmoil, Booth Tarkington; How It Happened, Kate Langley Bosher; Saturday's Child, Kathleen Norris; The Ragged Message, W. B. Maxwell; The Little Colonel's Holidays, Annie Fellows Johnston; The House of Seven Gables, Nathaniel Hawthorne; The Marble Tour, Nathaniel Hawthorne.

Still Pond Notes.

To-morrow, Sunday, March 14th, will be known as missionary day at Still Pond M. E. Church. Mrs. Riffell, one of the secretaries of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, will deliver a missionary address at the regular morning service. She will also be the speaker at the Sunday school missionary anniversary at 7.30 in the evening. Everybody ought to hear this excellent woman. She is an elequent speaker and will give valuable information pertaining to the great missionary activities of the church.

Rev. Mr. Moore has also arranged for her to speak at Betterton in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The entertainment given at Still Pond last Friday night by the Teacher's Training class of the M. E. Sunday school, was a decided success, notwithstanding the inclement weather. The young ladies of the class were ably assisted by half a dozen of the bright young men of the community. Miss Godman, the talented daughter of a New England clergyman, who is spending the winter with Mrs. L. B. Harper, rendered valuable assistance in arranging the program and performed at the organ. Miss Mabel Norris took the part of "Miss Ann Tique," the leading character in the play. There were no awkward movements on the part of the performers. Each part was magnificently rendered. The entire performance, which was chiefly musical, was of a most refined and pleasing character. Congratulations to Mrs. Harper, the teacher of the class, for having such a fine lot of pupils. At the close of the performance Miss Godman and Miss Norris were presented with handsome bouquets.
