STANFIELD, WHITFIELD WIN ON COAST

Mal Sets New Mark At Los Angeles

Bragg Third To Andy In Dash; 2 Olympic Champs Defeated

LOS ANGELES — Andy Stanfield and Mal Whitfield captured two individual events and shared honors in a team victory as tan athletes captured four titles in the celebrated Coliseum Relays here Friday night.

Stanfield took the 100 - yard dash and Whitfield grabbed first place in the 880-yard run, the latter betting a new meet record of 1:49.6 in the achievement.

Also crowned a champion in the annual West Coast event was George Brown, former national broad jump champion from UCLA. Brown leaped 23 feet, 6¾ inches to win his event, one in which the 1952 Olympic Games titlist, Jerry Biffle was unplaced.

Four Champs Bow

Brown, however, was not alone in his dilemma. Other Olympians who went down to defeat during the evening were George Rhoden, the world 400 - meter champion; Walt Davis, high-jump king, and Sam Ines, discus star. The latter two are white.

Art Bragg, former national AAU and collegiate champion, was third to Stanfield in the 100-yard dash, which the Olympic 200-meter champ won in 9.7 seconds. Runner-up to Stanfield in the event was Rod Richard, of UCLA.

Following their two individual accomplishments, Stanfield and Marvelous Mal teamed with Rhoden and Herb McKenley, another Olympian, to form the Grand Street Boys Association mile relay team.

Miss Record

Although they were easy winners of the race, the clever Grand Street performers were unable to crack the world mark for the event. They hit the tape in 3:10.4, well off the 3:08.8, set by Southern California in 1941.

Rhoden's setback was at the hands of white J. W. Mashburn, an alternate to the U.S. Olympic team from University of Oklahoma. Mashburn was five yards better than the former Morgan State college captain, now a medical student at NYU, and was clocked in 48.6 seconds.

Whitfield's mark of 1:49.6 was just four-tenths off his two-time Olympic victory in the half-mile test. In both 1948, at London, and 1952, at Helsinki, the long-limbed Ohioan toured the distance in 1:49.2.

High School Lad Captures Scholastic Tennis Title

RICHMOND, Va. — A hard cross-court smash lost him his tennis racquet but won 18-year-old William Wim of North Carolina his second straight American Tennis Association interscholastic net title here Saturday.

Wim's racquet spun out of his hand as he smashed a high lob. The small crowd gasped, then applauded when they saw that the drive was beyond the reach of Victor "Red" Miller of Dunbar High in Lynchburg.

The Williston high (Wilmington, N.C.) student won the title match handily, 6-1, 6-2 and 6-4. Miller's lack of a blazing serve enabled Wim to move off the baseline and control the game. Twice in the last set Miller, a good-looking, sandy-haired, bobby-socker's delight, had a 40-15 edge.

Bound For A and T

Each time Wim fought back, deuced the game and went on to victory.

Immediately following the final match, Wim announced that he planned to enroll at North Carolina A and T next year. Miller, who is also a high school senior, hasn't had his mind made up for him yet—but he's negotiating.

Next step on the tennis trail for the two finalists will be at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville where they will compete for the ULTA national interscholastic championship.

Two others are also scheduled to make the trip. They are semi-finalists Arthur Hood, Dunbar High, Washington, D.C., and William Daniels, P.S. Jones high, Washington, N.C.

The matches were played on the Virginia Union University courts. In all, 43 players participated. In the doubles final, the Miller-Joseph Pullen team from Dunbar (Lynchburg), defeated the Daniels-Malcolm Little team from P.S. Jones, 6-3, 7-5.

Kentucky Ties Central In Dual Track Meet

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Kentucky State's Thorobreds managed to tie a determined squad of Central State College, 65 to 65, in a recent Central State—Kentucky dual meet at KSC, Saturday.

Lucky Strikes . . . by JOE BLACK

There are rumors going around that we have a soft life, only working every three or four days and then just sitting on our laurels until we have to play again. Well, take it from me, t'ain't so! We're the runningest people. From the first day of spring training until the last day of the season we run and run. Running strengthens our legs. There's an old baseball saying that a pitcher will never get a sore arm if his legs are in shape.

The late innings of a game are when a pitcher really needs those underpinnings for support. If his legs aren't conditioned for the long grind of working nine innings, he'll usually start to press and throw with an unnatural motion. He won't have any reserve strength left to rear back and fire that good fast ball when he's in trouble.

A stock tip-off to Charlie Dressen that a pitcher is tiring is when he starts fanning on his heels instead of his toes after throwing. Then Charlie knows it's time to take him out. And he also knows that the pitcher has to do more running to get his legs in tiptop shape. It's things like this that add up and make a ball club great.

Same thing sort of works for Luckies. They've got fine tobacco. They're really made better, too. And those two things add up to the one thing I want in my cigarette, better taste—a cleaner, fresher, smoother taste. Believe me, if it's better taste you want and what smoker doesn't—Luckies are the brand to get. I know. I smoke 'em! So, Be Happy—Go Lucky . . . today!
