SPRING Fashion Display J&K SHOES

THE FIRST PEEP

Even though you are not ready to purchase, we invite you to come just for a peep at our spring fashion shew of dainty footwear.

Chic models of the famous J. & K. Pumps are pictured here. Many more—all fairly sparkling with the budding springtime spirit—grace our display.

You will find a distinctive style to suit your individual taste, at the price you wish to pay. An early visit insures a wide selection.

Spring Millinery

Without a formal opening we wish to announce to the public that our spring millinery is ready for your inspection. We assure you that a most pleasing exhibit of the newest and best will greet you.

But we suggest that you make your selections early, so that beautiful Eastertide will arrive with the hat question satisfactorily disposed of.

What Are the New Spring Materials for Dresses?

The answer to this burning question can be found by an inspection of the goods at this store.

The most favored fabrics are Taffeta, Faille, Crepe de chine, Voile, Covert Cloth, Serge and Gabardine.

White leads, but black-and-white mannish mixtures, and sand, putty, Dutch blue, battleship grey, golden brown and navy are also good.

You will be able to get a comprehensive idea from our complete display.

CHESTERTOWN, ARYLAND.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

DR. HORACE W. NICHOLSON.

Dr. Horace W. Nicholson, son of Mr. Robert G. Nicholson, one of the most prominent young specialists of the State, died at the home of his father, near town, early Wednesday morning, of a complication of diseases, superinduced by rheumatism, aged 35 years. Dr. Nicholson had been in failing health for some years, but being a young man of indomitable energy and will power, he fought the ravages of disease manfully and longed for health that he might pursue his chosen profession in the vigor of his young manhood. Dr. Nicholson was one of the most prominent young specialists in the State. He had recently established himself in Salisbury, and was building up a practice that would shortly have made him one of the leading specialists in the East. He was a young man of fine manner, genial, warm-hearted and true, and wherever he went he formed those friendships which were lasting and valuable because of their sincerity and genuineness. It is sad that such useful young men as Dr. Horace Nicholson should be taken away when their work and disposition give every indication of marked success in life. But who knows the ways of Providence? Who can fathom the mysteries of that allwise hand which guides our destinies and holds our lives in the hollow of His hand? That He doeth all things well, we all believe, and that He knows when a man's work is completed, no man denies. Oh! what a comfort it might be to those who mourn their dead if only they could know just why such things must be. It is our part to be submissive to the Divine Will and trust to that great day to reveal the mystery of death. Dr. Nicholson was a good boy. We knew him and loved him for the gentleness of his disposition, for the kind word he had for every one, and for his patient submission to the Will of his Maker. We sorrow with his loved ones, because we desired to see him live that he might complete the life of usefulness he had begun, and to enjoy with him the success in life he so much desired to achieve. We are glad to pay a tribute to such a friend. We are glad to know that he lived his short life well, and we are confident that he has left an influence for good wherever he had cast his lot. The sympathy of this community goes out to the father who has known for years what it means to bow to the chastening rod, and yet like the stalwart man that he is, he has borne his sorrows and carried his griefs like a sturdy oak that has felt the blasts of many a withering storm. Funeral services were held from the residence, near town, yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. H. B. Jester. Interment was made in the family lot in Chestertown cemetery. The pallbears were: His three brothers, Robert J., of Baltimore; Harry B. and Charles B.; his cousin, A. Earle Nicholson, and Dr. H. G. Simpers and Lewin U. Skirven. The floral tributes were beautiful. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd had carge of the funeral arrangements.

JOHN HAMER RUSSELL.

Mr. John Hamer Russell, a native of Chestertown, but for a number of years past resided in Baltimore, died at his home in that city on Thursday of last week, aged 78 years. Funeral and interment on Saturday. The deceased was a brother of Messrs. Wm. G. and Lewin L. Russell, and the late James A. and Miss Hester Russell. He is survived by a widow and one daughter.

JOHN SPARKS.

Mr. John Sparks, a prominent trucker of Queen Annes county, died of apoplexy on Tuesday. He was well-known throughout Kent and Queen Annes counties.

Utilizing the Parcel Post to Save Money.

A good many persons have been disposed to criticize the parcel post as an ineffective medium of communication between the farmer and the city consumer, but the reports as to the results of a year's test of the farm-to-table service in the leading cities of the United States show that it has already become so important an instrumentality that it will be gradually extended throughout the country. There are now 300 daily deliveries of farm produce by parcel post to Baltimore homes, and judging from the general average of growth it would not be surprising if there were three or four times that many by the end of another year. Washington, which practically draws upon the same territory for such supplies as we do, receives 563 daily shipments of farm produce through this channel, and if Baltimore householders are wise they will avail themselves during the next twelve months quite as freely of this method of marketing as the people of Washington are doing. The rapid growth in this system of securing table necessaries proves that it offers special monetary inducements both to buyer and seller, where city and country people take the trouble to put this trading on a satisfactory basis. During the coming summer many Baltimore householders will visit country sections of Maryland and Virginia, and it might be well worth their while during these vacations to make arrangements with country producers to furnish them through the parcel post with certain lines of table supplies.

Subscription Dance.

An event promising to be one of the most delightful social affairs of the season will be a Subscription Dance at the Chesapeake Hotel, Betterton, Friday evening, April 23rd. Patronesses, Mrs. Jerome McCauley, Mrs. S. J. Johnson, Mrs. E. McCauley, Mrs. John H. O. Stokes, Mrs. Jessie B. Coleman, Mrs. Clarence T. Newsome. The dance is to be given to raise funds to build a Catholic church at Betterton, and has the hearty support of not only all the Catholics of the county, but of many well known Protestants. For a long time it has been fully realized that a Catholic church there is not only essential, but an absolute necessity for the welfare and advancement of the town.

It is an acknowledged fact that more than one half of the christian element patronizing this resort during the summer are catholics, and having no consecrated place of worship, have found it a hardship, and has undoubtedly kept away many who might otherwise have spent their vacation with us. It is proposed building as soon as enough funds are in hand to justify doing so, and arrangements can be made to have both early and late mass during the summer season. It will be interesting to know that many persons outside of the county are taking an active part in helping to raise funds for this church, especially so in Baltimore.
