Ritual In Chattanooga For Miss Williams, S. Crenshaw

By PETER D. SIMMONS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—Miss Mary Elizabeth Williams, daughter of Mrs. Mable Mathis, of Detroit, and the late Harry Williams, became the bride of Seth Crenshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Crenshaw, of this city, here recently.

The Rev. William A. Dennis, pastor of the Orchardnob Baptist church officiated. Music was furnished by Mrs. Bertha Hickman Williams.

The bride was lovely in a gown of lace. Her veil of illusion fell from a pearl appliqued crown. Her white Bible was taped by an orchid.

Mrs. Young Attends

The maid of honor was Mrs. Evelyn Spann Young a cousin of the bride. Miss Juanita M. Gordon of Mount Pleasant, Tenn., Mrs. Loretta Patterson and Mrs. Doris McGhee Bone, were bridesmaids. The maid of honor wore yellow and bridesmaids wore green and carried bouquets of pink snap dragons.

The best man was Dr. George N. Taylor, a cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were Clarence Moton, Charles Holder and James Boaz.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held for the couple at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Crenshaw is a graduate of A. and I. State University, Nashville. She is a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, Kappa Delta Pi Educational Society, the Southland Players Guild, a clerk and member of the Orchardnob Baptist church and is presently employed by the Chattanooga Housing Authority.

Out-Of-Town Guests

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Grambrell of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Taylor of Marietta, Ga.; James Ward of Atlanta, Mrs. R. E. Clay and Mrs. Chalmer E. Lowery of Bristol.

Mrs. C. E. Robinson, Atlanta, Mrs. Lillie E. Henderson an aunt of the bridegroom and her two daughters, Edith and Johann, Atlanta; R. W. Williams of Cleveland, Ohio, Charles Scruggs from A. and I. State University, Nashville, and Mrs. Margaret Mangrum of Chicago, the latter three, cousins of the bride.

Other guests were Doctor and Mrs. T. E. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Graham of this city, aunt and uncles of the bridegroom and Mrs. Lillie Taylor, a cousin of the bridegroom and hundreds of friends. The couple is at home on Vine st.

16-Minute Ceremony For Lt. Worthy Miss Davis At West Point Academy

By JAMES HICKS

WEST POINT, N.Y.—Second Lieutenant Clifford Worthy, jr., of Detroit, Mich., and Miss Lillian Davis of the same city were married in the United States Military Academy, here, Wednesday, in a ceremony that lasted only 16 minutes.

Until there marriage all couples wed at the Point have been white. Lt. Worthy came first when, according to custom, cadets draw straws as to their time of marriage following the graduation.

Placing after him was Second Lieutenant Gerald Corprew and Miss Helen B. Shipley, both of New York City. They were married at 10:30 a.m.

The double-ring-Episcopalian ceremony was held in the historic Cadets Chapel at West Point built in 1810.

Four classmates of Lieutenant Worthy served as his best man and ushers and formed the sabre-bared military arch through which they passed after the ceremony.

Washingtonian Best Man

The best man was Lt. Bernard G. Hughes of Washington. Ushers were Lts. Robert Albert of East St. Louis, Ill., James Dritt of Cleveland and Drew Dowling of East Orange, N.J., all white.

Miss Davis was given in marriage by her father, Sam Davis, of 13561 Riopelle street, Detroit. Miss Grace King served as her maid of honor and Miss Alma Davis as her bridesmaid. They both live in Detroit at the Riopelle street address.

The bride selected a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin of Ballerina style that had a scalloped hemline. A short jacket with a standup collar and a fingertip veil completed her outfit. She carried white orchids on a prayer book.

216-Foot Trek

In order to reach the altar, Miss Davis marched 210 feet from the back of the church to the altar.

As she was escorted by the military guard she walked this distance she walked under 24 battle swords, symbolic of West Point Cadets have carried in battle since the early history of the United States.

The chapel through which she marched is made of military Gothic design as are about 1,500 people. The pipe organ to which she marched is the largest organ in any church in the Western Hemisphere, having 16,000 pipes and 874 stops on its console.

The console of this organ itself cost $20,000 and was given to the chapel by the son and grandsons of General Ulysses S. Grant. The stained windows of the chapel were gifts to the chapel pane by pane from the previous graduating classes of the Point.

Pass Through Arch

Miss Davis went down the aisle with unswerving steps. Lt. Worthy was standing straight and tall and waiting with his men at arms. After the ceremony had been intoned by Chaplain F. E. Pulley the couple then passed through an arch of drawn sabers held by the officers and passed outside the chapel.

Then as they passed through the canopy leading from the church they again went under another arch of drawn sabers and into their waiting car. There was no rice or confetti throwing at the newlyweds. This is not permitted in a military ceremony.

Miss Shipley Bride

At 2:30 the same afternoon, his classmate, Lt. Gerald Corprew of New York was married in a similar ceremony to Miss Helen B. Shipley of 30 West 3rd street, N.Y.

Usher was John Hamilton of Washington, who is presently a cadet at the Point. Three white ushers were Del. Pasquale de San Antonio, Texas, Ted Patterson of New Orleans, and Ed Bullard of Wilmington, N.C.

Miss Shipley's three sisters served as her maid of honor and Evelyn and Catherine. Margaret was maid of honor.

Miss Shipley wore an ice blue gown of nylon tulle with permanent pleating. The gown was strapless, of ankle length with an illusion at the top. Her headdress was of nylon tulle in the shape of a crown. She carried roses and a white orchid. She was given in marriage by her father, Charles Shipley.

Dr. Reid Guest Of Alumni Club

ATLANTA, Ga. — Friday evening, in the reception room of the recently completed Abby Aldrich Rockefeller Hall, Spelman college, the Atlanta Spelman Club received several hundred guests in honor of Dr. Florence M. Read who will retire, on June 30 after 26 years as president of the college.

Standing in line with the guest of honor were officers of the club, trustees of the college, and presidents of the Colleges of the Atlanta University Center, among whom were Dr. Benjamin E. Mays of Morehouse College; Dr. John H. Lewis of Morris Brown college, and Dr. Harry V. Richardson of Gammon Theological Seminary.

Wears Handsome Lace

For the occasion, President Read was becomingly attired in a handsome soft blue lace gown which was studded with brilliants. On her shoulder was an orchid, a gift from the members of the Club.

After being formally presented to President Read and others in the line, the guests were invited to the spacious recreation room of the hall where were served delicious refreshments.

Music for the occasion was played during the evening by Irene Dobbs Jackson and Rebecca Jackson, pianists.

Christine King, Maebelle P. Miller, Peggy L. Dowell and Foustina H. Tate sang. At intervals there was chamber music by the Spelman Freshman String Trio and the Spelman Senior String Trio.

Mrs. Sammye Fuller Coan was the chairman on arrangements for the reception. Mrs. Eva B. Williams is president of the club.

130 Get Degrees In Twin City

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. — A senior class of 130 students received degrees at Winston-Salem Teachers College. Dr. Gordon B. Hancock, professor emeritus of economics and sociology at Virginia Union University and pastor, Moore Street Baptist church, Richmond, delivered the baccalaureate sermon.

The commencement address was delivered by Dr. H. L. Trigg, president of St. Augustine's College, and a member of the State Board of Education. He was introduced by Saniford Martin, editor.

The Rev. Kenneth R. Williams, James A. Gray, professor of Bible and college chaplain, read the scripture and prayed at the baccalaureate service. The college choir sang. Alumni Day activities were highlighted by the dedication of the alumni and public relations building.

A dinner - business meeting was held by college alumni association. Dr. Hancock, has degrees from Colgate and Harvard Universities and has traveled extensively in Europe.

Dr. Trigg has been president of St. Augustine's College since 1947 and was appointed in the State Board of Education in 1949. He formerly was a teacher at Teachers College and principal of Columbian Heights High School. Later he was supervisor of colored high schools.

CHATTANOOGA, N.E.W.L.Y WEDS — Miss Mary Elizabeth Williams and Seth Crenshaw were married in Chattanooga, Tenn., recently.

Reporting on the USA

By Lulu Jones Garrett

PROF. MARY HARDEN (Off To Haiti)

MISS FLORIDA BEACH (On University Faculty)

MRS. WILLIAM GRAHAM (Married)

Heigh Ho! Just when we are feeling all mellow over June moons and love a-bloom comes a pegger anent the junior Ulysses Bournes having called it a marital day.

The popular Frederick (Md.) physician and his pretty wife, Marie, haven't shared residence for several weeks, and to clinch the parting have agreed on a settlement.

A note from Floyd Snelson, who has sailed off to Europe again, restores faith in Cupid. A couple of Americans, now in Liberia, will be married soon. She's Mary A. Napper, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. George W. Carter of Columbus, Ohio, and he's Raymond A. League Jr. of Detroit, Mich.

Their wedding will take place on the 27th in Sacred Heart church, Monrovia.

The bride-elect, a graduate of West Virginia State, who went to Liberia with her parents (4-Point U.S. Army) is now a secretary with the Liberian Government. Mr. League is an attache of the American Embassy, Monrovia.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Johnson of Pulaski, Va. have announced the marriage of their daughter, Dorcas Catherine, to William H. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Rogers of Graham, N.C. on June 6.

He's a contractor, now in Cleveland, Ohio. She's a Virginia State grad, now teaching public school music in Plymouth, N.C.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher H. Alkins Sr. of Washington of the engagement of their daughter, Lenora Vermelle, to Robert Thomas of Detroit, Mich. The wedding will take place in midsummer.

Miss Atkins is a graduate of Howard University and holds a master's degree from University of Michigan. She is a teacher in the public school system of Detroit.

Mr. Thomas is also a contractor and builder.

WITH THE LADIES

Petit and pretty Florida E. Branch of Newark, N.J., two-time chemistry award winner, has added another laurel to her honors. This week the honor graduate of this year's class of Central State college, Wilberforce, Ohio, received a teaching assistantship in the department of chemistry at the University of Kansas. She will study for the master of science degree, there.

Ensign Ida Isabell Stephens, USNR, a former practising attorney of Washington and a recent graduate of the Navy's Officer Candidate School at Newport, R.I., has been assigned to staff headquarters of the Third Naval district, NYC. Heretofore all personnel has been white. She's a native of Manhattan, graduate of Hunter College and Howard University Law School.

Miss Mary H. Harden, director of Long Island University's Speech and Hearing Clinic, will leave for Haiti next week to supervise a summer - long research project aimed at inaugurating a program of speech and hearing correction in the island's schools and communities. The project will be conducted under the auspices of the Bahai World Faith.

Miss Harden, a graduate of Brooklyn College, was appointed speech instructor at Long Island University in June, 1949, and was named director of the university's Speech and Hearing Clinic at its inception two years ago. She has been associated also with the Speech Clinic of the New Lincoln school, Manhattan, and the Cerebral Palsy Clinic of the Lenox Hill Hospital, also in Manhattan. She is a native of Newport, Va.

To fill the vacancy created by the recent death of Mrs. Virginia L. Waring, the board of trustees of Downingtown Industrial School, at its monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, elected Mrs. Helen H. Lewis as the faculty representative with full voting power.

In point of service Mrs. Lewis is the senior member of the school's teaching staff. She was appointed in September, 1926, as teacher of commercial and academic subjects. Several years ago she was promoted to the position of bookkeeper and commercial teacher.

The former Miss Helen L. Harris, she is married to Colier C. Lewis, also a veteran Downingtown teacher.

Mrs. Onnye J. Sears will leave Tulsa for New York City June 16, where she will board the Pan American Airlines for Frankfurt, Germany to join her husband, Capt. Thomas E. Sears.

The couple plans to visit Zurich, Switzerland and France soon after Mrs. Sear's arrival. Captain Sears is a member of the Second Armored Division, a part of Gen. Matthew Ridgeway's NATO defense force in Western Europe, which has been nicknamed "Hell on Wheels" division.

He is a native of Norfolk, Va. and the son of an AFRO-AMERICAN'S "Ideal Mother," Mrs. William H. Sears, and Mr. Sears. He formerly attended Virginia State college.

Mrs. Sears is a native of Sand Springs, Okla., a graduate of Langston University, class of 1951, was a teacher in Sand Springs elementary school 1951-52, and is the daughter of Elva Roundtree. The Searses were married in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elva Roundtree, in March of this year.

Miss Ellen M. Moore, R.N., director of the Maternal and Child Welfare Center in Liberia, sailed for the African Coast recently.

She will complete courses at Union University, Richmond, Va., leading to the degree of B.S. in Nursing Education. Later she is to work for her master's degree at Columbia. At the completion of these courses she plans to return to Liberia to conduct courses in mid-wifery.

Honor Student, Graduate Wed

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala. (ANP)—Miss Mildred Jacqueline Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, West Point, Ga. last week, became the bride of John H. Smith jr., son of Mrs. Willie Mae Smith of Selma, Ala., on the bridegroom's graduation day.

Miss Hall was graduated from Tuskegee as an honor student in May, 1952. While a student there, she served as basileus of the undergraduate chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta sorority and president of the Home Economics club. She is listed in the 1952 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Presently, Miss Hall is a teacher of Home Economics at the Academy street high school, Troy, Ala.

Council President

Smith was graduated in May 18, commencement at Tuskegee. He served as president of the Student-Faculty council, president of the junior class, president of the YMCA, president of the sophomore Sunday School class, editor and associate editor Campus Digest (school paper).

He is listed in the '52 and '53 editions of American Student Leader Publication. Smith was president of the senior class, and a member of the Student Council and personnel and guidance Committee, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, NAACP, and the Arnold Air Society.

The marriage was solemnized in the Institute chapel, just after the commencement exercises held earlier in the day.

It's wonderful the way Chewing-Gum Laxative acts chiefly to REMOVE WASTE —NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's the secret millions of folks have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing-gum laxative. Yes, here is why FEEN-A-MINT's action is so wonderfully different!

Doctors say that many other laxatives start their "thinking" action too soon... right in the stomach where food is being digested. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, drush away nourishing food you need for health and energy. You feel weak, worn out.

But FEEN-A-MINT, when taken at reduced dosage, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes mostly waste, not good food. You avoid that typical weak, tired, run-down feeling. The FEEN-A-MINT and feel your "peppy," energetic self—full of life! Get FEEN-A-MINT! No increase in price—still 25c, 50c or only 10c.
