timore Urban League; Emerson Brown Jr., Douglass High school alumni association; Father Cedric E. Mills, Douglass PTA; Mrs. Mae Gellman, Baltimore Fellowship; Dr. Bentley Glass, American Civil Liberties committee;

Director Of Survey

Jack Greenberg, NAACP special counsel; Dr. Ellis Knox for the NAACP, Howard university professor who last year directed a survey of the Baltimore public schools; Dr. D. O. W. Holmes, educator, and Dr. Jerome Frank, Ethical Culture.

Eighteen of the 24 colored applicants are asking admission to Western's advanced college preparatory curriculum. Dr. Fischer said that this will be offered at Douglass high school in September.

"The courses of study, the qualifications of the faculty and other aspects of the program at Douglass will parallel and will be equal to corresponding items in high schools for white pupils." Dr. Fischer's report maintained.

Turning Over In '54

The present Western High school building at Gwynns Falls parkway and Pulaski st. will be turned over to Douglass high school at the beginning of the 1954-55 school term.

There is no all - girls school for colored in Baltimore and an advanced college preparatory course has not previously been offered.

Dr. Fischer said Monday that his report was his own, but that the board of superintendents were in agreement with it.

No Personal Attitude

However, he declared, he want ed it made clear that "it is not intended at all to reflect the personal attitude of the board of superintendents on the problem of race relations."

He added:

"What we have done here is to give what we believe to be the right answer to the legal and education question. We are not saying that segregation is a good thing, we are not saying that it is a bad thing That is not before us."

Mrs. Mitchell's Remarks

Mrs. Mitchell said Monday of Dr. Fischer's report:

"It is inconsistent with the statement of policy of Mr. Roxel C. Thomsen, chairman of the board, in connection with the Mergenthaler case.

Mr. Thomsen said that members of the board were hesitant to admit colored boys to Mergenthaler (printing school) because it would be housed in the new Edison vocational school in which the Clara Barton vocational high school for white girls will be merged in September.

The case of Polytechnic institute, this question had not arisen because it is a boys high school. Western female high school is in the same category as Polytechnic."

ALTERATIONS DUE ON MORGAN HALLS

Construction bids are due June 25 for alterations on four buildings at Morgan State college. This project involves work on Holmes Hall, Carnegie Hall, Baldwin Hall and the science building annex.

churches for colored people will be abolished immediately as lending weight to the false notion that the Catholic church, mystical body of Christ, is divided.

"Equal rights are accorded, therefore, to every race and every nationality as is proper in any Catholic church and within the church building itself everyone is given the privilege to sit or kneel wherever he desires and to approach the sacraments without any regard to race or nationality.

"This doctrine is to be fully explained to each convert who enters the church from henceforth in the Diocese of Raleigh.

Knows Of Prejudice

"I am not unmindful, as a southerner, of the force of this virus of prejudice among some persons in the south; as well as in the north.

"I know, however, that there is a cure for this virus and that is, our Faith. Many southern boys facing death together in the trenches will hear me out.

"I revolt against our children being infected with this virus, when men and women of good-will everywhere can preserve them from it.

"The virus will not die out of itself, it has to be killed by being exposed to the light of the Faith.

"The church does not propose tolerance which is negative, but love which is positive. If Christ said love our enemies, we certainly can love our friends.

Must Help Them

"These are our friends and members of our own body, the church. It is our duty as Christians of the early days not only to love them, but to serve them, to help them.

"We need to help them get better educational facilities, better opportunities for culture, better living conditions, homes and families, better civic representation and better friendliness in the community and all of this pre-supposes the right to worship God freely with us in the church anywhere.

"As pastor of your souls, I am happy to take the responsibility for any evil which might result from different races worshipping God together, but I would be unwilling to take the responsibility of those who refuse to worship God with a person of another race.

"May the example of American soldiers who died to stamp out a philosophy of 'the Master race' in a war with Hitler in Germany prevent us from following a similar course."

Firemen's Exams Soon

City Joins Others In Opening Jobs

The decision of the Baltimore Board of Fire Commissioners Friday to appoint colored firemen adds the Monumental City to the steadily increasing list of cities which employ colored men in their firefighting units.

Mobile, Ala.; Richmond, Va. and Washington, D.C. are among the cities which have employed colored firemen for some time.

The action followed a series of conferences between the Board and the Baltimore Urban League.

August Appointments

The first colored firemen are expected to be appointed in August following examinations which will be given next month.

Expressing his pleasure at the Fire Board's action, William M. Passano, president of the Urban League said:

"Another field of useful service is thus opened to men of high caliber and desire for service. We are confident that this measure, and others like it, are of great practical value to the entire community.

"We salute Edgar M. Ewing, past president of the Baltimore Urban League, for his long and sincere work on this matter."

Chances At Jobs

Fred Z. Nichols, director of industrial relations for the Urban League, noted that young men who wish to take advantage of the ruling will have their chance at the $3,400 jobs very soon.

The AFRO has learned that the next examination for Fire Fighter is scheduled to be announced July 2, at which time Baltimoreans 21-30 years old, who are between 5'6" tall, and weigh between 135 and 192 pounds, may take the written examination.

These men must have completed six grades of school, and must take a physical as well as the written examination. War veterans are given preference in this examination, as in others on the City Service lists.

$3,400 First Year

A Fire Fighter is paid $3,400 the first year, $3,600 the second year, and $3,800 thereafter. All Fire Fighters, including colored men, are eligible to become officers.

The AFRO and the Urban League have been assured that James M. Carter, 108 N. Schroeder st., the only colored applicant now eligible, will be appointed to the Fire Fighter personnel within the next year.

More vacancies exist, at least some of which will be filled by men who take the exam to be announced July 3. Applications can be obtained at Room 107, City Hall.

ing Mrs. Taylor to explain why the injunction should not be granted has been signed by the judge.

During the murder trial last April, Mrs. Taylor said that during her 18-month marriage, she suffered repeated beatings from her husband. On at least one occasion, she had him arrested,

He cut her on the hand, she said, and during the tussle, she got possession of the knife and "Jim was dead."

Put Knife In Hand

She admitted under cross examination that when her husband fell mortally wounded, she put the knife into his hand "because my fingerprints were on it and I wanted to make sure that his were on it too."

Prosecuting attorneys contended that this action, plus the detailed account of the incident which Mrs. Taylor gave to police shortly after the slaying showed that she has "a cold, calculating mind."!

Mrs. Taylor was represented during the murder trial before Judge James K. Cullen, by Michael Freedman, attorney.

Since the slaying, she has been employed in the household of State Senator Leroy W. Preston. She lives now in the 1600 block Ruxton ave.

She testified that on the day of the fatal stabbing, she was preparing to leave her husband, when he started another fight and followed her upstairs with a with the skyrocketing thermometers, most folks begin seeking means of combating the heat. The question of how to sleep at night is one of the most bothersome and folks have come up with many varied and unique ways of winning this battle.

Summer also brings out the front sidewalk and backyard chairs, the front stoop card games, checkers games and other games, some which call only for interest while others call for money.

The pools such as the David Hill YMCA and the Chick Webb community center are expecting to draw heavy attendances in the coming months as well as the various camps located nearby.

Excursions to various beaches, parks, etc. will soon be leaving each and every week.

Marylanders will accept the hot weather as they have in the past (remember last summer?) and, as usual, take advantage of any and every available means of defeating it.

But it looks like a hot time in the old town again this year.

staying at Beatty's home while he and her husband were on an out-of-town trip, was shot to death while trying to defend herself with a pistol.

Loveless was accused of having "caused" the apartment just before the others entered. He was charged with murder and conspiracy to commit burglary.

Two of the five sentenced to life imprisonment were found guilty of first degree murder on May 28 by a jury which recommended mercy. They are James Rufus Jones and Charles Edward Ford.

Appeals Case

Eugene Sherman of Charleston and Albert K. Puckett of Fayetteville, N.C., one of the two white defendants in the trial both pleaded guilty.

The other white man, Davis Jefferson Williams of Martinville, W. Va. missed prosecution twice. He was declared by Judge C. C. Chambers to be unfit for trial because of narcotics addiction.

Loveless' attorney will make motion this week to have the verdict set aside. If it stands, Loveless, described as the "mastermind" in the burglary attempt, will face the mandatory death

3 Days Left For AFRO, Joe Louis Free Vacation

There's just three days left for some lucky local lad to win a free two weeks vacation with transportation and all expenses paid in the AFRO-AMERICAN-Joe Louis contest.

The former champ and Robbie Richards, noted sportsman, own a camp and resort named "Richard's Farm" at Ulster, N.Y., just 50 miles from Manhattan, where the winner will enjoy for two weeks, swimming, horseback riding and other outdoor and indoor sports.

Contest rules are simple.

Just clip the coupon in the Royal Theatre ad on the amusement page of this paper and present it to the doorman of the Royal Theatre at anytime before 6 p.m. Thursday June 25. This coupon does not admit anyone to the theatre. At 7 p.m. that night Joe Louis and Herbert Mangrum, Baltimore sports editor of the AFRO-AMERICAN will draw the lucky coupon from the stage of the theatre.

Need Not Be Present

It is not necessary for the winner to be present at the time of the drawing.

Joe Louis himself has prepared a special building course for the lucky youngster during the two weeks vacation. It is a course designed to give the boy plenty of good clean fun without a rigid program.

The winner does not have to have ring aspirations as this is not a training program but a chance for some boy to get two healthy, wholesome weeks of vacation.

Don't forget to clip the coupon in the Royal Theatre ad in this paper and turn it in to the theatre doorman before 6 p.m. Thursday.

Stolen Record Player Nets Two Jail Term

Charles Wills of the 200 block N. Bradford st., and John Ferrard Jr., of the 1300 block McElderry st., were each sentenced to 60 days in jail at Northeastern Friday on charges of receiving stolen goods.

Police said that Wills purchased a record player from Ferrard, which was reported stolen two weeks ago from Public School 13. Ferrard testified that he bought the machine from an unidentified man.

1 Man Slain In Knife Duel

Police Guarding Wounded Suspect.

The victor in an apparent early morning knife duel lay in Providence hospital under a 24-hour police guard Monday, awaiting to be charged in connection with the fatal stabbing of a 40-year-old ex-prize fighter.

The hospital patient, a 24-year-old laborer of the 1200 block N. Argyle ave., was reported in "fair" condition with a knife wound in his stomach.

Slain shortly before 3 a.m. Saturday morning was Hurley Whaley, also known as Garfield Jones. Police said his address was unknown.

Found Unconscious

Hurdley was found lying on his back in the 900 block of Shields pl. by Officers Norman Kelly and Harry Irwin of the Northwestern district. He was unconscious and bleeding from the face and chest.

A doctor pronounced him dead on arrival at Provident hospital. He was found to have been stabbed in the chest, cut on the right cheek and slashed across the buttocks.

A 2-inch piece of knife blade was removed from the chest wound.

The winner in the fight surrendered at Northwestern police headquarters at 10 a.m. Saturday, and was immediately taken to Provide hospital, Sgt. William J. Lowe said.

Police said the fight apparently occurred after one of the men made a derogatory remark about the other's mother, and refused to take it back.

Providence 'Killer' Joke Of Week Along The Ave.

There are many ways to escape the heat and humidity of the big city. Some folks go to the beaches for relief, while others seek the sanctuary of the nearest air conditioned bar. All have one thing in common, they are seeking fun.

On Sunday the majority found their fun and relaxation from the 94 degree heat on the beaches, but, it was the boys along Pennsylvania ave. who had the easiest and longest laugh.

For the gang around the Alhambra in particular, Sunday was one of those humid days when tempers were short, drinks were shorter, and the patrons needed something better than a scotch and soda to break the monotony.

Tale Of Two Cities

Strange as it may seem, the break came in the form of a murder story that had its origin in Providence, R.I. Better still, the story could have been called a "Tale of Two Cities."

Rumors started flying Sunday morning that the man involved in the Rhode Island case was a well known waiter along the "avenue," a Leroy Fisher.

A Sunday news release touched off the gossip when it told the gruesome story of how a former Baltimore man had ruthlessly strangled a Providence woman Saturday.

Armed with a picture for positive identification and the determination to find out why, an AFRO reporter took off for what was thought to be the big story.

At the Alhambra, where the so called accused man was "known" to have worked, a bartender expressed complete surprise that a former employee had been arrested for killing someone.

"Why he was in here last night" one man declared. The other customers, aware that something was in the wind started to besiege the reporter with bits of information and questions. The quizzing was cut short when the man in question entered the club through a rear door.

Everyone Amused

In amazement, one party yelled and another with a chuckle on his lips exclaimed, "come over here buddy you're wanted for murder."

He Confessed

The most surprised individual of all at that moment was the so called accused man himself, for he had never been in the state of Rhode Island.

This is the story that caused the confusion. Leroy Fisher, 53, a part time Baltimore restaurant employee was arrested and charged in Providence Saturday for the slaying of a 82-year-old woman.

The nude body of the elderly woman was found on the floor of her bedroom. An autopsy disclosed that she had been strangled. A man identified as Leroy Fisher confessed to the crime.

Through a quirk of fate there resides in this city another man known as Leroy Fisher, who was at one time was a restaurant employee, is in his fifties, and almost fits the description of the Providence Fisher.

The Baltimore Fisher lives in the 1500 block of Druid Hill ave., and has proof that the whole affair was a case of mistaken identity.

As things now stand around the Alhambra, folks still look upon the incident as just that, a case of mistaken identity. Nine times out of ten the mere mention of the affair will set off a round of drinks along the "avenue."

As for Fisher, when he recovered from the shock, he could only say, "this drink is one me." Still others claim that in reality, the mere idea made them forget about the hot weather for at least a while.

Accused Wife Deserter Held

A 30-year-old ex-serviceman, who allegedly deserted his wife ten years ago and was not seen again until last Wednesday, was ordered held in bail of $250 at Northeastern Friday.

Arrested on a warrant taken out by his wife Mrs. Mable McElvaine of the 500 block Aisquith st., James McElvaine of the 200 block N. Exter st., pleaded not guilty to charges before Magistrate Samuel Gaboff.

The deserted wife told the court that she was discharged from the army in 1943. The accused, a different man, returning home from the wars, he found that his wife had nothing to show for the money he had sent home—and another man's clothing was hanging in his closet.

"It's not true that I deserted her," he declared, "for we lived together up until last year. We have seen each other off and on since then". McElvaine was charged with failing to provide for the support of his wife.

INDIANA PASTOR WRITES SONG TO HELP ERASE DEBT

VINCENNES, Ind. — (ANP) — "Resurrection" is the name of a church song written by the Rev. A. H. Davis, pastor of Bethel AME church here, and is designed to raise money to help erase the church's debt. The 70-year old minister said he prayed for help from the Lord to get funds to pay a $800 debt on the church. A rally is scheduled for June 28 to help raise funds for the debt.
