Hubbard; 1st vice-president, Mrs. P. A. M. Brooks; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. W. W. Beck; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. G. Usilton; recording secretary, Mrs. R. C. Harris; treasurer, Mrs. M. A. Toulson; executive committee, Mrs. Harry Boyd, Mrs. Allan Harris, Mrs. Gooding.

Auxiliary Meeting.—The Annual County Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary met in Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chestertown, on Wednesday, at 10 A. M. The Holy Communion was celebrated and morning prayer was said by the Rector, after which Dr. Grey, of New York, made an address. Lunch was served in the parish building which was followed by a business meeting over which Mrs. Keys, Diocesan President, presided. Dr. Grey gave another interesting talk. Delegates were present from all parts of the county.

Mrs. Whaland Buys Home.—Mrs. Charles W. Whaland has purchased of Mrs. Annie Physick, her pretty residence on Front street, now occupied by Prof. and Mrs. Mark Creasy. The price is private. Possession will be given July 1, provided Prof. and Mrs. Creasy can secure another desirable residence. Dr. and Mrs. Whaland have lived in the house they are now occupying for 35 years last January, and it will seem very unfamiliar to walk up and down High street and not find the genial doctor and his estimable family in their accustomed places, especially during the summer evenings. They will have a fine home in their new location.

DR. CAIN TO REMAIN.

He Reconsiders His Resignation and Will Remain at the Head of Washington College.

We are quite sure that the public generally will be glad to learn that Dr. James W. Cain has reconsidered his resignation which he tendered to the Board of Visitors and Governors several months ago, and will remain at the head of the college. Final action in the matter was taken at a meeting of the Board of Visitors and Governors last Friday night. Public opinion and the sense of the older and more conservative members of the board was so strong that whatever opposition there was to Dr. Cain has faded, and all differences have been satisfactorily adjusted. Dr. Cain has received several flattering offers since his resignation became known from large and influential institutions, but he preferred to remain here where he has lived for the past thirteen years, if he could do so without friction. In our judgment the determination of Dr. Cain to remain at the head of Washington College is a happy solution of what promised to be an embarassing situation, for no man can afford to be at the head of a great institution like Washington College if he is to be merely the pliant tool in the hands of certain members of a board who prefer sovereign power to real success. We are glad that there has been an amicable adjustment of the differences between the president and the board, and we are constrained to believe that Dr. Cain's determination to remain here is due very largely to the force of public opinion which has been in his favor always, and to the good sense of the older and more conservative members of the board. The TRANSCRIPT wishes Dr. Cain and the Board of Visitors and Governors a harmonious administration of the affairs of the college, and we trust that their relations may be pleasant, and that the authorities will bend every effort to uphold the faculty in matters of discipline and that the faculty will use its utmost endeavor to make the college even a more successful institution than it has been in the past.

Horse Notes.

Ringling Brothers promise many novelties and innovations and a "bigger and better everything" is the slogan. Preceding the regular circus performance the new spectacle of "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba" will be enacted on the largest stage in the world. This mammoth 1,250 character pageant cost $1,000,000 and the costumes, scenery and stage properties are said to be a revelation in gorgeousness. Among the 385 arenic acts are scores of equestrians including the Lloyds, famous English riders, the Borsinis, rolling globe artists, the Josephson Glima troups; the five highest perch acts ever presented: Big Bingo, the biggest living elephant; five herds of trick elephants; 50 clowns, 20 families of aerialists and a magnificent horse show and speed tournament.
