BUSY SCENES AT RADCLIFFE PARK.

Fine Lot of Trotters and Pacers Training at Radcliffe and Worton Tracks.

A visit to Radcliffe Driving Park, on the outskirts of this historic town, will convince the most skeptical that the automobile has not driven the horse out of business entirely. Here at this track, are stabled more than fifty head of light harness horses, and at least half that many are brought here to be worked out by owners who live nearby.

S. Powell Peacock has eleven head in training that are probably further advanced than any of the other trainers owing to the fact that he will start racing earlier than any of the trainers located here. His string is headed by May Bird, 2.17, and he is preparing her for the 2.17 pacing stake race at Belmont Driving Park, to be raced on June 9. She is going sound, and while he has not been any full miles with her, she has shown that the horse that beats her will get a new mark. He also has in hard training June Bug, 2.14¼, and Princess March, with the same mark. Both these good pacers are fit to go to the wire now. They will be started at Oxford, Pa., June 4.

Peacock also is training a sorrel filly by Ashland Bird, that loocks like the making of the best pacer between the two bays. He breezed her a quarter recently, and pulled up in 34 seconds.

Lady Dewey, a trotter, and Number Two, a pacer, both belonging to James Merrick, of Sudlersville, Md., are showing great speed. The former has been a mile easy in 2.21 and the latter a quarter in 32 seconds. The balance include several youngsters that will not be raced until late in the fall.

TRAINING AT WORTON TRACK.

At the old Worton track, which thirty years ago was a great fair ground where George Scattergood, Jack Phillips, Bud Doble and John Turner have had many a battle, is the training stable of George A. Sutton. The buildings and fences of the old fair grounds are all gone, but the original track is still there and is kept in good condition at all times in the training season. Every Saturday afternoon the farmers of that section gather at this track and race their nags in the old-time way for the fun of it.

John Mallalieu is located here with twelve head and has several more to come in later, he has not been very fast with any of them as he will not do any spring racing. Among his best ones are a sorrel colt by Belton, Jr. The colt has only been at the track two weeks but has showed a full mile in 2.25. Robinette, a brown mare that showed up well as a trotter last year, has been converted, and looks like a money winning pacer now. Mallalieu has several colts he is educating that look good.

George Satterfield has six head under his charge, the two best of which are The Kid, 2.17, and Rowdy Boy. They are both showing up well. "Satty" is the champion long distance performer and has a trotting colt that has never been a mile better than 2.59, that he has worked six miles in nineteen minutes.

F. M. Hanson, a trainer from Western Maryland, arrived at the track on last Thursday with six head of horses that are good and fat and strong. In the lot are Colonel Wiltondale, Baron Dewey, Bell McKinney and three other well-bred fillies.

Mr. Sutton has eight head of promising horses and colts in his charge. The fastest of those are Twinkle March, an unmarked gray gelding, that showed a mile on the Pottstown mile track last year in 2.11; Bertie B., another unmarked pacer that is equally as fast; Helen March a full sister to Princess March, three-years-old, that has just been converted to the pacing gait who tried a quarter in 36 seconds at her second workout. Mr. Sutton also has what looks to be one of the very best pacing prospects of the year. It is a bay mare, seven years old by D. Alcantara, dam by Defiance, that has been at the track but a few days; she was driven a mile slow in 2.40 and then turned and stepped for the first time in her life on the extreme outside of the track, and showed a quarter in 34 second, last eighth in 16 seconds. She is owned by Jesse Woolyhan of Earleville, Md.

Mr. Sutton has several young prospects he is educating for the fall races. Twinkle March will be sent out for the money this summer. He will start in several $1,000 stake races. His opening probably will be at Wilmington in September.

Worton Grange Notes.

Worton Grange is still holding its usual weekly meetings, every Monday night. From the attendance at each meeting it is plainly seen that the interest continues unabated.

The Grange, in this community is going ahead. Some time ago the farmers hereabout became dissatified as to the test and other conditions prevailing at our cooling station, for it seemed that all other stations on this road were paying more than the one at Worton. These conditions were discussed freely among the farmers but no action was taken, until it was brought before our grange; immediately a committee was appointed to investigate matters and call a meeting of the farmers to meet Mr. Hauptfuhrer, the head of the business. When told what the farmers wanted the gentleman kindly granted their wish, so that in the future they will be better paid, so you see that we are doing something for the farmer, and more to follow.

We have been adding new members to our grange nearly every week; in the past month six new members have been added, and we are to have more next Monday night. Our lecturer has a treat for us every Monday night and we feel that it is good to be there.

Monday night, May 31, will be a special meeting. Extra music, etc., will help the lecturerer, and the treat which the committee, Sisters Turner, Clark and Parsons assisted by all the ladies will serve, will help us all, so be sure and be on hand.
