Md. State sets 8-game slate

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. — According to the coaching staff at Maryland State, if they win three of the eight games scheduled they will consider themselves "fortunate."

That in essence was the astute analysis of Vernon "Skip" McCain, the Eastern Shore gridiron strategist, as he surveyed his undermanned 1953 football squad and his power-laden 1953 football schedule.

The current edition of Maryland State College "Hawks," winners of 33 of their last 36 games, faces the severest pigskin testing in the institution's history as the Shoremen meet Ohio Northern university, Hampton Institute, Morris Brown college, North Carolina A. and T., North Carolina State, Shaw university, South Carolina State and Virginia Union university.

Classic Scheduled

Ohio Northern, Morris Brown, North Carolina State, Shaw and Virginia Union will invade the Eastern Shore for home games. The Hampton and South Carolina State games will find the Hawks winging southward. The game with A. and T. is the feature of Dr. Shriner's Fish Bowl Classic in Norfolk, Va.

To make matters worse for the McCaimmen, five of their eight opponents may reasonably be expected to be pointing vengefully at the Hawks, as all of them were on the short end of the score in their previous encounters with Maryland State.

The Hawks upset North Carolina, A. - T., Hampton and Virginia Union last year, and walloped South Carolina State in the last three meetings of the two teams.

Interracial Game

Ohio Northern will furnish the interracial opposition which has characterized the Hawk schedule for the past five years. Shaw University will be returning to the gridiron wars after a year's suspension.

Both teams will probably set their sights on knocking off a Maryland State team with a national reputation.

Graduation, the army, the book and the rules committee have combined to riddle the State squad. Such stalwarts as Jabbo Wilson, Joe Bailes, Johnny McDaniel, Don burns and a host of other talented gridiron performers have been taken away.

The scrapping of the platoon system adds its demands to the job of coaching which McCain, assisted by Earl Banks, Nate Taylor and Harrision Watson, must do.

'53 Offensive

The state mentor asserts that the 1953 offensive of the Hawks will be built around Ken "Blue" Still, 220 lbs. of fullback now in his third year.

Bill Jordan, honorable mention on several All-American teams last year, will be converted to a back, an Jimmy Hart, a rangy end of last year, will move over into one of the guard slots.

Other probable starters will be Gordon Harris-and Henry Scott, ends; Len Garron and Sherman Plunkett, tackles; Pete Dews at the other guard; Ted Brown, center, and Cohen Cosby, George "Liberty" Bell rounding out the backfield.

Backing up these veterans will be a freshman-studded bench that has not yet shown the strength which gives confidence to the coaches.

The 1953 Maryland State schedule follows:

Home Games

September 19, Ohio Northern university; October 3, Morris Brown university; October 24, North Carolina college (Homecoming); October 31, Shaw university; November 14, Virginia Union university.

Games Away

Sept. 26, Hampton Institute; October 10, A. and T. college at Norfolk, Va. (Fish Bowl) Nov. 7, So. Carolina State.

FULTON AVE. APT.

On Sept. 21, at 2:30 p.m., a trustee's sale of a three-story brick dwelling at 714 N. Fulton ave., will be held. A deposit of $500 will be required of the purchaser at the place and time of sale.

Sandy, middleweight hope, fights Durando to video draw

ST. LOUIS — Randy Sandy, engaging in only his 15th professional fight, held the durable and more experienced Ernie Durando to a draw in their nationwide televised main event here Wednesday night.

The Harlem stringbean, employing a pesky left jab, piled up an early lead, one which stood him in good stead as Durando came on in the late rounds.

The AFRO scoring didn't agree with the official verdict. The referee called the fight even while the two judges split in their choices of the winner.

As seen from this corner, however, Durando, the aggressor throughout, was the winner of six rounds and drew another, making an AFRO tally of 6-3-1 for the Bayonne, N.J., veteran of 53 previous pro battles.

Ernie exploded a fourth-round overhand right that opened a cut over Sandy's left eye. The optic worsened as the fight progressed and at the conclusion of the bout, was virtually closed completely.
