—Boy drowns

Murray didn't surface Miles and Graham jumped into the water to find their friend.

Meanwhile, Partlow ran to a near - by phone and summoned police.

Despite repeated efforts, neither Miles nor Graham could find any trace of their companion while diving in the water.

Police and an ambulance crew soon arrived. After 45 minutes the boy's body was recovered from a rowboat manned by Patrolman Emory Cook, Southern district.

Artificial Respiration Futile

Both firemen and police gave the youth artificial respiration for more than an hour without success.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at South Baltimore General hospital.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Mildred Murray, declared she attempted to dissuade her son from seeking a job — telling him she would rather he returned to school this fall.

The boy refused, however, saying he wanted to work in order to help his mother, who is separated from her husband.

Mrs. Murray has seven other children.

In July of this year Mrs. Murray was the lucky recipient of a lucky $100 Dilly Dollar bill. When a h e journeyed to the AFRO office to obtain the hundred dollar award, Norman accompanied her.

The picture of the boy and his mother, jubilantly counting the money, appeared on the front page of the July 28 AFRO.

When police visited her house Wednesday to notify her of the boy's death, Mrs. Murray went into hysterics.

"Oh no, he was my favorite," she moaned. "Mister, please tell me it isn't true."

The four other boys who left with Murray that morning arrived at the house soon after the police. One look at their horror - stricken faces and the bereaved mother collapsed.

Norman Murray's d e a t h marked the fourth drowning this summer of youngsters swimming in improvised swimming holes.

Thomas Cummings, William Beckett, and Charles Rogers have already suffered death in this manner.

The City of Baltimore maintains six outdoor swimming pools for white persons but only one — in Druid Hill Park — for its colored citizens.

Last week NAACP lawyers filed the lawsuit in U.S. District Court asking that all the pools

The request for a permanent injunction and declaratory judgement is against the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, members of the Park Board, R. Brooke Maxwell, director of parks, and Charles Hook, superintendent of parks.

22rd st., will attend the college on a four-year senatorial scholarship awarded her by Sen. Francis X. Dippel (D-3rd district).

A similar scholarship was also received by her sister, Nina, 17, June graduate from Dunbar, who will enroll at Morgan state college this semester.

Took Examination

Her heart set on attending St. John's, Joan took the entrance examination, March 28, and received notice of her acceptance a few days prior to graduation. "I had visited the campus in 1950 and I made up my mind, then, that I was going there too, especially when they opened the school for girls in September "I want to go into journalism and be a reporter."

Joan received several awards and a trophy while editor of the Dunbar school paper, "The Broadcast."

Though her scholarship only takes care of her tuition, Joan has received financial assistance from other national organizations.

The Walter Deiches fund awarded her $350 and the National Scholastic Service Funds for Students, $325. The Delta Sigma Theta sorority has agreed to provide her with text books and clothing and a white woman, who requested her name be withheld has offered to send her $10 a month spending change.

Afflicted with a heart ailment, Joan was able to maintain a 90 average at Dunbar and graduated third highest in her class. During her high school days, she served as president of the Library Club and also of the Honor Society.

Sister Salutatorian

Her sister, Nina, who attended summer school in 1952 was salutatorian of the class.

Maintaining a 92 average at Dunbar, Nina plans to study premed at Morgan and from there she hopes to be accepted at Johns Hopkins Medical school.

Her scholarship takes care of her room, board and tuition. "I'm going to work real hard so I can get more scholarships while I'm at Morgan," she said, adding that she plans to work part-time on the campus.

While at Dunbar she was president of the Red Cross and the Girls choir.

Both girls, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Cole, are the oldest of nine children, five boys and four girls.

Local health agency finds that TB is not inherited

"TB runs in his family." When you hear anyone make that statement, speak right up and say, "It isn't true."

Tuberculosis is not inherited. It is a disease caused by a germ which is passed on by people who have the disease to those about them.

You may have known of families where TB seemed to be inherited, passed down through the generations like the family silver. Grandfather had it, and his sons, and his sons' sons.

But it was not because of anything in the family blood.

Tuberculosis seems to run in families because, naturally, family members come in closest contact with a TB patient. If anyone is going to catch the germs he coughs up, they are the most likely victims.

This is why it is so important to find all cases of tuberculosis early, so they can be place under treatment for their own sakes, as well as to prevent spread of the disease.

An annual physical checkup and chest X-ray will help make certain that TB is found before it has done too much damage.

Hospital Best Place

When TB is discovered, the tuberculosis hospital is the best place for the patient. There he can receive all the benefits of the most modern methods of treatment.

There he can be cured with the certainty that he is not spreading his disease to those he loves.

Recuperates After Long Illness

EDGAR WILLIAM DOUGLASS

After five months' illness, Edgar William Douglass, G.O.P. leader and insurance executive returned to his office at The Mutual Benefit Society where he has been employed twenty years.

Mr. Douglass extends thanks to his many friends who came in to see him during his illness. He was confined three months before his doctor and priyate nurse would allow him to have visitors. Thanks are extended to the five thousand citizens who voted for him when he was twice nominee for the City Council from the Sixth District. Deepest thanks to the Mutual Benefit Society, the president and staff officers, the assistant manager, and agents. Sincere thanks to all the members of Morning Star Baptist Church, the pastor, officers and the many friends for their generosity. Thanks also to the thousands of ministers who offered prayer. Sincere thanks to the members of The Grand Jury of the January term 1953. And special thanks to Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins, member of the Grand Jury and wife of Dr. Jenkins, president of Morgan State College. Each time Mrs. Jenkins came she brought good cheer. Mr. and Mrs. Douglass and his private nurse, Mrs. Josephine Vaughn, will always be grateful to Mrs. Jenkins for the many kind things she did for them.

Thanks to Dr. Evan A. Gilkes who responded to the call of Mr. Douglass practically at once. Mr. Douglass says: "He is a doctor who is second to none," and "We feel too much credit can not be bestowed upon Dr. Gilkes."

After his first nine weeks' illness Mr. Douglass secured the services of Dr. James M. Pair. Mr. Douglass says: "Dr. Pair's skill as a doctor can not be surpassed by anyone in this or any other country." Dr. Pair continued treating him until Mr. Douglass was able to return to work.

Mr. Douglass says, "I am grateful to so many people I can't name them all; some of them are: Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn, and Mrs. Lillian Fountain who stuck by me in my most critical hours, Mr. and Mrs. James Douglass, Mrs. Mary McNiel, Mrs. Shirley B. Smith and the members of the West Baltimore Citizens' League, Inc. Mrs. Dora Brady, Business Manager of the West Baltimore Citizens' League, Inc., and the members of the Republican State Central Committee, Mr. William J. Reid, president, and W. Ray Dempsey, Jr. chairman. Also thanks to all for the thousands of cards, telegrams, calls, and contributions from both races, lawyers, ministers, men and women, from everywhere. I hope I didn't omit anyone."

Mr. Douglass is one of the assistant managers of the Mutual Benefit Society, president of the W e s t Baltimore Citizens' League, Inc., chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, Mr. Douglass is also a shareholder of the Dunbar Mutual Life Insurance Company of Cleveland, Ohio, of which Mr. Clark is president.

Mr. Douglass recently purchased the house at 500-N. Arlington Ave. which he presented as a gift to his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Douglass. Mr. Douglass graduated from Douglass High School, The Underwriters Association of Maryland, and took one year of extension work at Morgan State College.

Compliments of the West Baltimore Citizens' League Incorporated.

Howard African student indicted

WASHINGTON

A Howard university medical student from the Gold Coast of Africa was indicted by the grand jury, Monday, on charges of criminal assault and robbery.

Solomon A. Adja-Ayree Ammah, 29, of the unit block Bryant st., nw, was accused of criminally attacking and robbing Mrs. Pearline Burks, 21, of the 100 block Adams st., nw, about midnight, July 13.

Mrs. Burks, who is reportedly employed as a waitress at a local tavern, testified during a preliminary hearing that she had gone to a drug store about 11:45 p.m. where she purchased two hot dog sandwiches and an ice cream cone.

Knife Drawn

As she walked in the 2100 block Second st., nw, Mrs. Burks said a man forced her in an alley by placing a knife against her side.

After attacking her, she testified, her pocketbook was taken. Mrs. Burks said she wrestled free and fled screaming down the alley, awakening several residents in the area.

Ammah was arrested by Det. R. L. Hayes, of the Second precinct, according to the court record, after the complainant identified the suspect entering a grocery store in the 200 block Bryant st., nw, on Aug. 7.

On Scholarship

J. Flipper Derricotte, who is representing Ammah, revealed that the African is here on a scholarship and is the son of a prominent lumber merchant in Gold Coast, Africa. He is a third-year student, it was reported.

Mr. Derricotte stated that his client has maintained his innocence protesting that it is a case of mistaken identity.

The accused man does not have criminal immunity because he is charged with a felony.

The indictment charges Ammah with taking the property of Mrs. Burks "consisting of a pocketbook and money valued at about $8.30."

The defendant will be arraigned in District Court, Friday.

VETERAN CLEAN BLOCKER —Mrs. Margaret Peay, advisor of Wilson Park accepts a trophy from Mrs. M. Francis Mackay, clean block director, at the recent closing exercises of the 19th annual AFRO Clean Block Campaign. Mrs. Peay has participated each year in the project since it started 19 years ago.

To hold water color Exhibit at Art Museum

One hundred prize - winning water colors from the second international Hallmark Art Award competition will go on exhibition Wednesday, Sept. 23, at the Baltimore Museum of Art, Wyman Park, it has been announced by Mrs. Adelyn D. Breeskin, Director. The show will remain through Sunday, Oct. 11.

Selected from nearly 4,000 entries from 35 countries, the water colors are depictions of Christmas by artists of 15 countries of the Americas and Western Europe. They were awarded $13,500 in prizes in New York last December by the Hallmark Greeting Card Company, sponsor of the competition, and were first exhibited at New York's Widenstein Gallery which also directed the international project.
