Mrs. Maida Brannon gets fond farewell from town

with Lula Jones Garrett

Mrs. Maida Brannon, who did such a bang-up job as superintendent of the Provident Hospital School of Nursing, here, dashed through town, last week end. Town women dashed to the Medeo club on a moment's notice to say hello and add a fond farewell to her on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Brannon, who had recently resigned the Provident Hospital post, and was dithering between doing further study on a scholarship she recently received, and accepting a post at Prairie View college, had been to Texas to see what the post had to offer. She took one look at the million-dollar set up and the proposal offered her, and signed on the dotted line. Last week she was en route to New York to tie up a few loose ends before being off permanently to her new position.

Mrs. Harrison Bryant and Mrs. Bruce Alleyne issued the call to the party. And the ladies poured in, looking prettier than pictures.

The honoree wore black lace. Guests showered her with gifts, from cash to paintings, one of the latter coming from Mrs. Anne Beadenkopf.
