THE SIDEWALKS OF HARLEM:

Natives, fans, scalpers gather for world series

By JAMES L. HICKS

HARLEM, U.S.A. — Harlem, just like the Gaul of Julius Ceasar, was divided into three parts, as baseball fans from all over the nation crowded the sidewalks of New York to "see Jackie Robinson hit that ball in the 1953 World Series."

The first and largest part of Harlem consisted of those living here and those who came here who were ready willing and able to put up their butter, egg, and cent money against anybody who dared say that the Dodgers "can't do it this year either."

They were the race conscious solid Brooklyn fans who would bet on the Dodgers even if Charley Dressen decided to use Jackie Robinson as his starting pitcher. These fans were known as "The Bums."

The second and much smaller group was made up of those fans who have always been Yankee fans even before colored players cracked the major leagues, or those "fair weather" baseball fans who talked loud and long for the Yankees because the Yanks have always beat the Dodgers and because they are the kind who always like to say after the game "I told you so." The word in Harlem for these fans is "Damyankee."

The Third Part

And last, but far from least, there was the third part which consisted of those characters who see 70,000 people at Yankee Stadium as strictly a commercial enterprise instead of a game of sport — and who proceed to make money out of it by taking advantage of the race conscious Dodger fan, or the sentimental old Yankee fan, and converting this advantage into what the boys on Seventh ave. refer to as "loot." The name for this third group is "The Hustlers."

Some of the fans fell into all three classes. There were Dodger fans who "hustled" off of Yankee fans who qualified as "country Johns"

There were Yankee fans who hustled off Dodger fans due to their devotion to the race single.

And then there were the Big Town hustlers who "hustled" off the small town slickers when they tried to do what so many people try to do each year and fail — when they try to make a one day "impression" on the Big Town.

From All Over

They came from all parts of the country. The scalpers were waiting for them with fistful of tickets which they could get off the ball park for $12 each, but for which the hustling scalpers were asking anywhere from 30 to 50 dollars. Some got some and some got none. Mostly they got none and more than one New York hustler was heard to remark that the "Johns" are getting slicker than the slickers."

They rented hotel rooms uptown and downtown, midtown and crosstown, but just as soon as they got their favorite suits pressed they all took the "A" train and headed for 125th st. and Seventh ave.

That's the location of the Theresa hotel, Manager Bill Brown says the hotel was booked up solid for the series as early as four months ago, but last Wednesday morning before the first game, they were still jumping out of cabs and walking up to the desk saying "I want a suite of rooms."

Whether they got the suite or not they promptly took up a place on Seventh ave. in front of the hotel which has come to be known to New Yorkers as "TV Lane."

Sometimes 7 Deep

Beginning as early as last Monday TV Lane began to be crowded with people lining the sidewalk sometimes seven deep. White people driving past the hotel slowed down as they saw the crowd thinking something had happened.

But nothing had happened. It's just an old custom that dates back to the old Joe Louis fight days. You simply walk out there on the sidewalk and stand and if you stand long enough some one you haven't seen in ten years will walk up and say "Man! . . . Watcha know."

They usually took up their positions about 11 a.m. where the bar opened. And they stayed right out there gabbing and chatting and eyeballing until the bar closed at 3 a.m.

In fact they stayed out on the sidewalk and out of the bar so much that one bartender was heard to say: "They can stop that old stuff about colored people having bad feet. These people come here and stand 15 hours out there on that concrete and don't complain about his corns yet."

A Guessing Game

Of course there were some You play a guessing game with them as you stand and watch them watch you. Who are they? Into which one of the three groups does he fall? Is he a Bum, a Damyankee, or a hustler?

Since it would be indiscreet to publicly identify the hustlers and

Neverson played his usual fine game, but in sparkling performers were Phil Strothers, 150-pound halfback from Newark, N.J., who was nominated to an All - CIAA in his freshman year; Gene Smith, 172-pound brick - away runner; Carver Leach, 160-pound Speedster from Elgin, Ill., and Andy Chambers, 175-pound senior from D.C.

On basis of West Virginia's experience, and early - season show of power, the Yellow-jackets are favored in my book by: 27-7.

Since the guessing game is in itself almost as much fun as the series, here are the names of many whom we glimpsed along "TV Lane" and you get out your little scorebook and "score" them as you know them.

Among the early arrivals was Dr. R. Martin of Chicago. We caught him in a sidewalk session with Mrs. Anna Arnold Hedgeman, Mr. Hedgeman, Neal Scott, husband of Carol Brice, and Julius J. Adams, 3rd Republican leader. Think they were talking about baseball?

Move over here a bit. Let's see — there's a group from Richmond, Va., there's Dr. William Williams, Charles Sanders, C. L. Townes and Dutch Ingram of Newport News:

From The District

Over here is a Washington, D. C. gang of "sportsmen." There's Leroy Bryant, "the Washington Kid," Roger Simpkins, Earl McDonald and Lefty Winston. And over there to your left is Charles Anderson who once was a protege of Simpkins.

Dr. Edward Kirk of Memphis is here and in the trio you just saw pass were Dr. C. C. Long, Adis brother J. A. Long of Palatka, Fla., and Dr. William S. Hart of Hampton Institute.

Last night a bellhop came through the bar saying "Paging William S. Hart" and some drunk at the bar cracked, "William S. Hart is dead but Jones is still here."

That tall man over by the desk with Police Commissioner Billy Rowe is the Shriners Imperial Potentate Dr. Raymond Jackson of Buffalo. And over here is Dave Alston of Portsmouth, Va. and the longshoremen's union. Dave probably isn't thinking about Jackie and Roy hitting that ball. His mind is on that threatened longshoremen's strike which will if it comes be rougher than any rubbish can one find at the Stadium.

Caddies Line Up

Be careful of that Cadillac pulling into the curb. Let's see, that makes six caddies in a row all lined up behind each other. Let's take a look at their license plates.

These two are from New Jersey and someone says they belong to some state officials. Their tags read New Jersey "A-J 5" and "AJ 607. The third Caddie up there is from Pennsylvania and is tagged "G5 60" Pennsylvania.

The next one is from New York its marked 6K-92-42. Here's a Cadillac from North Carolina 222-606. And that sharp Caddie there from Michigan bears the license DN-28-87. Its one of the sharpest cars on the avenue with the exception of one—and you know that one. Look! It's parked right down the street. Yes, that's Sugar Ray's fuchsia colored Caddie the Caddie is and all Caddies.

There is not enough room in front of the bar for all these fine cars, so look what's happening — they are forming two lines of them with one line double parked is from Connecticut like the showroom of an auto show. That new Chrysler over there 158-442 is from Illinois. And this new Ford Fordor Sedan double parked in from Connecticut and marked BR 27-78.

And dig this fine rubber here from Washington, D.C. — a hard cutting Lincoln Capri with license A 193.

Look At The Bar

Let's take a look around the bar. Take it easy now. See that beautiful women over there. Well don't start hitting on her. She's the prettiest woman you're going to see throughout the series but take it easy. She's married, respectable and a model. It's Mrs. Ida Toomer of Atlantic City.

Over there is singer Frank Davis, Fred Waring's protege who has become quite a playboy. The big handsome guy further down is Caleb Peterson. He's also a singer and a good one. Drew raves from the critics just last week.

See the guy there in the hotel lobby? That's Shep Allen of D.C. He's been sick but nothing could stop Shep from making a world series.

There's Frank Forbes out there on the sidewalk. He's a Giant fan. Last night he told me that the Dodgers "didn't beat out the Giants so bad." I just reminded him thta the margin was about 35 games.

The lady passing the new Mercury out there is Ruby Hines of Chicago. She is known and she knows her way around out here. By the by that Mercury is licensed 9590-637 and is from Mass. Wonder if any of these numbers are good one?

Coley Wallace

Here comes Coley Wallace wearing a bebop hat. He won his fight the other night. Sure looks like Joe Louis doesn't he.

See that nice looking quiet fellow over there. Well he's a Federal agent. And see that loudly dressed character over there acting a clown. Well that's his partner.

Yeh this place is loaded with Feds and the junkies are crying that they can't do no business. The boys on TV came however are up on what's going down.

You see that kid dressed like a zoot suiter used to be a bona fide junkie himself. But he got busted by the Feds three weeks ago out west and in order to save his neck he did a flip and agreed to work for the government and help them trap some of the others.

But the word got here before he did and now all the junkies are giving him the chill treatment. He'll probably get some character to see him a weed hoover and then his partner, that's the nice looking young fellow, will move in and make the pinch.

Well there goes Sugar Ray and Edna Mae getting in that fuchsia Caddie. That means it's time to head for the ball park. I now turn you over to Sam Lacy.

23 TAN PLAYERS IN MAJORS:

Campanella rated tops in NL; Minoso 3rd in AL

CHICAGO (ANP)—As the 1953 major league baseball season closed Sunday afternoon, catcher Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers rated as the No. 1 player in the National league, and Orestes Minoso of the Chicago White Sox emerged as one of the leading players in the American league.

Campy was voted the player of the year award of the Sporting News, the baseball bible, for the second time in his career as he broke nearly every hitting record in the books for catchers. He led the league in runs batted in with 142, a new major league mark for catches, smashed out 41 homers, also a record, and batted .312. On defense he had fewer than 20 bases stolen on him and set a new record for catchers in putouts.

23 Colored Players

Campanella is considered a cinch to be voted the National league's most valuable player. Campy won the MVP honors and Sporting News award in 1951 when he batted .325 and drove in 108 runs.

His feats climaxed a season in which 23 colored players appeared in the lineups of eight clubs. For the first time, Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia Athletics added colored players to their squads during the final month of the season.

For the Cubs, the newcomers were both shortstops, Ernie Banks of the Kansas City Monarchs at the Pacific American league and Gene Baker of the Cubs' farm team, the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast league. Banks played shotstop, and Baker, second base, for the Cubs. Both fielded well, and Banks proved to be a sharp clutch hitter.

Trice Beats Nats

The Athletics brought up pitcher Bob Trice from their Ottowa farm club in the International league. There Trice was the loop's only 20-game winner. With the A's he had a 2-1 record, closing his season with an 11 to 2 victory over the Washington Senators, Saturday night.

In the National league other outstanding performers besides Campanella included his teammates Jackie Robinson and Jackie Robinson, Monte Irvin and rookie Ruben Gomez of the New York Giants, and Bill Bruton of the Milwaukee Braves.

Bruton, Gomez and Gilliam are up for rookie of the year honors with Gilliam most likely to succeed. Gilliam took over second base from Robinson and led the league in triples with 12. He was third in stolen bases with 21 and fourth in runs scored with 135. Bruton led the league in stolen bases with 25 and was second in triples with 13. Gomez was the top pitcher of the Giants with a 13-11 record.

Irvin Hits .329

Irvin is likely to be the comeback of the year. A late-season injury ruined his chances to cop the league batting championship, but he ended the season with a .329 average.

Jackie had another good year. He played every position in the infield at least one game, and he played most frequently in left field. Near the close of the season, Jackie played the original position, shortstop, after he had asked manager Chuck Dressen to put him there. He fielded flawlessly.

Over in the American league Minoso was the prime figure which saw the underrated White Sox remain in the pennant race until the final month of the season. He batted .313, third in the league, drove in 104 runs, stole best, and scored 104 runs, fourth best. The Sporting News rated him the third best player in the league.

Johnson, brought up from the Pacific Coast in August.

Among the disappointments of the year were Larry Doby and Mickey Vernon, the Washington Indians. Injuries plagued both men, giving them sad seasons. Nevertheless, Doby finished third in home runs in the league with 29 and seventh in runs batted in with 103.

Pleasant surprises to the White Sox were first baseman Bob Boyd and pitcher Connie Ma and back to Minoso—he was the league in stolen bases with 25.

For the Indians, rookie Dave Hoskings after a slow start proved to be an effective hurler, both in relief and in starting roles. He finished with a 9-3 record.

Once more the most colorful figure in baseball was the great Leroy (Satchel) Paige of the St. Louis Browns, he suffered the worse season with only three victories against nine defeats, but his club finished in last place. Paige realized an ambition of his when he pitched for the American league in the major league All-Star game.

Talmadge L. Hill field dedication set Saturday

The Talmadge L. Hill Playing field at Morgan State college will be dedicated Saturday at 3 p.m.

The playing field, which is in front of the Edward P. Hurt gymnasium, on the south side of the campus at Arlington ave. and Hillen rd., was unanimously named last week by the board of trustees in honor of Morgan's head basketball coach and football line coach, Talmadge L. (Marse) Hill.

A 1928 Morgan graduate, Coach Hill has been on the faculty of his alma mater since 1930 and has gained international fame as part of the famed Hurt - Hill combination, producers of champion football teams. He holds the M. A. degree from Columbia university.

The play area will be used for class work, intermural and recreational activities. It consists of four softball diamonds—three for men and one for women—a touch football field, a soccer field and a combination field hockey and speedball field.

Formal Presentation

Dr. Carl Murphy, chairman of the trustee board, will formally present the play area in a dedication program. Dr. William F. Burghardt, head of the department of health and physical education and chairman of the dedication committee, will accept for the college.

Morgan President Martin D. Jenkins will preside.

Morning and afternoon play activities beginning at 10 a.m. will precede the dedication.

The program has been planned by a committee including, in addition Dr. Burghardt, Dean George C. Grant, James H. Carter, Dr. Effiene Payne, Embra C. Bowie, Edward P. Hurt, Stewart A. Brooks and Edward N. Wilson.

Kentucky, 19-6 W. Va. defeats

FRANKFORD, Ky. (ANP) — The Kentucky State Thorobreds scored a touchdown on the opening kickoff here Saturday, but lost to hte West Virginia State Yellow Jackets 19 to 6.

A strong defensive line plus aerial strength won the game for the visitors. They then pushed Kentucky State behind its own goal line three times to score three safeties, and they scored TD's on two pass plays.

Fullback James Peoples took the opening kickoff 85 yards to give the Thorobreds a 6 to 0 lead on the first play of the game. Donald Faulkner missed the point after touchdown.

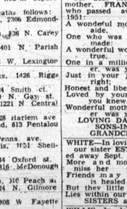
In Memoriams

GREENE—In loving memory of my dear wife, mother, and grandmother, MARY DELA-PHINE, who departed this life October 3, 1952.

Sad and sudden was the call.
Of one so dearly loved by all.
A loving mother, a dear one,
A short severe
It was to part
With one so dear.
We often sit and think of you.
And speak of how you died
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
For God in love did your best
And gave you eternal rest.
Devoted Husband, WILLIAM R.
Daughter, MILDRED G. JOHNSON
And GRANDCHILDREN.



BRECKENRIDGE — We, the bereaved family of MRS. ANNIE E. BRECKENRIDGE, wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindnesses extended during our mother's illness and at her death.
—THE FAMILY

CALLOWAY—The family of the late MILTON L. CALLOWAY wishes to express its gratitude to the many friends, neighbors and other organizations for their expressions of sympathy at home and at the church, and for the beautiful floral tributes during its sad bereavement. Also special thanks to the faculty of Douglass High school and Mr. Holland for his splendid services rendered.
—THE FAMILY

TERRELL—We desire to thank our many friends, relatives and neighbors for their kindnesses, flowers and words of sympathy during our recent bereavement.
—THE LOUIS TERRELL and FAMILY

In Memoriams

GAITHER—In loving memory of our dear father, DANIEL GAITHER, IRVING L. who went to be with the Lord this day, Sept. 30, 1952.

Broken is the family circle.
Our dear one has passed away;
Passed from earth and earthly darkness,
Into bright and perfect day.
But we must all cease to lament
Over the grave of him we loved.
Strive to be prepared to meet him
In the better world above.
Loving Wife, NANNIE
Brothers, AUGUSTUS, LEON
Sister, SADIE JONES

GILL—In loving memory of our dear father, CHARLES H. GILL who departed this life October 3, 1952.

A precious one, from us has gone
A voice we loved is still
A place is vacant in our home
Never can be filled.
Yes, God took you home, it was His will
And in our hearts, your memory lieth still.
But only a star shines brightly on the hill
Of the one we loved and could not save.
MR. AND MRS. WILLIE GILL AND FAMILY

GRIFFIN—In loving memory of our beloved wife and mother, LUVY ANN, who passed away September 26, 1949:

From this world of pain and sorrow,
God has taken you dear loved one.
Where you have found eternal peace.
DEVOTED HUSBAND, CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN.

HOWARD—A tribute of love to the memory of our dear husband and father, SOLON who departed 3 years ago, Sept. 30, 1948.

Remembrance is a silent garden chain
Time tries to break but all in vain.
We have, to love and then to part;
It is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
Years may wipe out many things
But thus they wipe out never.
The memory of the happy days
When we were all together.
Loving Wife and Son,
MELBA AND SOLOMON
JAMES E. HOWARD

SMITH—In loving memory of our dear mother, ISABELLE, who passed away two years ago, October 2, 1951:

Sunshine passes, shadows fall,
Love's remembrance outlasts all.
And though the years be many
They are filled with sorrow
Since the dear mother of you
Bade farewell.
Loving Daughters,
AGNES S. PALMER,
SHIRLEY E. SMITH

SMITH—In loving memory of our dear father and Grandmother, FRANCES ISABELLE SMITH who passed away, October 2, 1951:

A wonderful mother, woman and aide,
One who was better God never made;
Wonderful worker, so loyal and true
One in a million — that Mother was too.
Just in your judgment, Always
Honest and liberal, ever upright;
Loved by your friends and all
you knew.
Wonderful mother — that, Mother was you.
LOVING DAUGHTERS, SONS-IN-LAW AND GRANDCHILDREN.

WHITE—In loving memory of our sister ESTELLA, who passed away Sept. 24, 1941:

More and more each day we miss her
Friends may know the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within the heavy mourned.
SISTERS and BROTHERS.

WILLIS—In loving memory of our beloved wife and mother, MABLE WILLIS who passed away October 1, 1952:

Do not ask us if we miss her;
There's such a vacant place
Off we think we hear her footsteps
And see her smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow;
Memory keeps her ever near us.
Though she left us one year ago.
Loving Husband—LAWRENCE
Sisters and Brother, CAKE-WELL, MARY, BEULAH, ANTHONY JR.
