Civic League opens exhibit

The Co-operative Women's Civic League will open its annual flower show and garden exhibit in its headquarters, 1618 McCulloh st., Sunday.

The flower part of the show is designed to focus attention on that many arrangements in which flowers may enhance a room, beautify a dinner table, glorify a drab mantle or tone up a somber wall.

The fruit and vegetable exhibit will include the home canned goods and fall garden vegetables.

Entries Listed

In the food section the following persons have entered exhibits

Mrs. Catherine Banks, Mrs. John Woodhous, Mrs. James L. Thomas, Mrs. Helen Beverly, Mrs. Marie Taylor, Joseph McHoward, and Mrs. Edna Ross.

Zerita Richardson to be bride of Walter Carter

with Lula Jones Garrett

Cute Zerita Richardson (Morgan State college junior) has been wearing a ring on THAT finger since Thursday—tall, cool, handsome Walter Carter placed the sparkler at a surprise party given for her by her grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Davis.

Zerita, who is the daughter of Mrs. Ernestine Richardson, celebrated a birthday on that date, which, of course, was the motive for the party . . . the ring being a super addition.

About to celebrate both her natal day and formal engagement were her godmother, Jeannette Christmas, her mother, Mrs. Richardson, Philathea Hall, sister of the prospective bridegroom; Catherine Sewell, Gloria Wilson, Phyllis Millard, David Bass, Penelynn Carter, Alonzo Gillis and Philip Savage.

Come the 24th and vivacious Vivian Roberts has promised to march up to the altar of Saint Pius Catholic church and become Mrs. James H. Daugherty. Invitations are in the mails, this week, to a wedding at three in the afternoon. Reception is to follow at the Arlington ave. home.

And when you find out whether Dorothea Rattle is to be married go William Merchant or not, don't let me know. She says so. He says so.

QUETTES ON MOVE

Baltimore is such fun in the fall. Hostesses, fresh from a summer of casual entertaining, settle down to serious hostessing, charity planning and benefit dockings this month.

For instance, just as if the Omegas weren't planning a jam up party for them this Friday night, the Quettes gathered at the Modess club, last Friday night, and had fun at a card party and buffet supper.

Augusta Chissell heads the group this year. Hence you know it isn't going to be just a season of lallagaging. Already they've set in motion plans to aid Henryton hospital.

And they have a likely group to carry out any plans versatile Gussie can concoct, including: Mariba Bell, Maude Woodland, Ruth Roseland, Jean Spenser, Beth Walker, Hazel Spaulding, Mary Sprow, Mae Folkes, Vernice Wynn, Myrtice Bennett: Rose Hampton, Lavinia Brown, Maude Brown, Jimmy LaForrest, Mabel Byrd, Mary Maiden, Agnes Patterson, Perlina Woolridge, Gladys Randolph, Bernice Brandon, Roberta Roberts, Sally Fletcher, Mattie Gardner, Virginia Love and Rebecca Mills.

HOWARDITES MEET

The clergy affiliates of the Baltimore chapter of the Howard University alumni association entertained at an opening meeting of that group on Friday evening.

They had as special guest Dr. Martin Jenkins, former dean of the graduate school of Howard and now president of Morgan State college, here. Heard report of the scholarship committee which presented $400 to Howard for aid for two city students, recently.

Postponed the regular November meeting to the 13th, because so many of the ladies plan to attend Howard Women's dinner on that first Friday. The teachers group will be hosts at that session.

Those attending the meeting were:

Miss Eunice Brooks, Mrs. Gladys F. Sims, Mrs. Mary C. Frazier, who presided; Miss Lillian Rustin, Roy S. Bond, Linwood G. Kogey, Dr. Ralph J. Young, Dr. Martin Jenkins, Miss Maizie Barbour, Miss Ethel E. Wise, Dr. Miles W. Conner;

Mrs. Mamie C. Woodford, Miss Louise Anderson, Miss Anne Calhoun, Dr. Donald G. Brandon, Miss Gwendolyn Brooks, Stewart Brooks, Miss Gwendolyn Biddle, U. Theodore Hayes, the Rev. Hiram J. Smith, Ernest Gambrill, Mrs. Geraldine Mann Dorsey, the Rev. W. Lyndsel Pitts Sr., Dr. Isaac Young, Mrs. Esther Whyte Bailey, Miss Louise Sanders, Miss Isabelle Wilder and Miss Ruth Leassing.

RIDE ON STRAW

The Maters and their children donned dungarees and journeyed to Patapsco State park on a straw ride, Saturday noon.

Had oodles of fun around a bonfire, roasting hot dogs and toasting marshmallows, going on a hike and visiting a Boy Scout camp nearby.

The youngsters about included Ricky and Mary Carter, Butchie, Renlee and Mary Parker, Eloise and Torrence Bright, Albert, Ronnie, Herbert and Naomi Lawson, Billie and Butch Allen, Iris and Jean Taylor and Binxie, Teena and Esther Cole.

DELTAS TO FORE

Of course this Sunday the town will be out to see and hear Muriel Rahn in "Carmen Jones," being presented by Delta Sigma Theta sorors.

And all the town's cousins will be out to see the lovelies in the first opportunity they have had to display their chic fall tops. It's sure to be a fashion show.

The presentation will be at Polytechnic Institute, and is one of the projects through which the chapter garners funds for scholarships.

The following Sunday, at the same spot, Sigma Gamma Rho sorors will present the Calypso Carousel ensemble in their lively concert of the little known, but beautiful music of the Caribbean Islands.

Their numbers have color, what with the striking costumes, movement in their sinuous loose-hipped West Indian dancing, and humor in their not too broad limmedoes, make an unforgettable performance.

Massie Patterson organized the original group of Caribbean singers, dancers and musicians under the name "The Carib Singers." Now the Carib Singers are included in the unique attraction known as Calypso Carousel.
