Miss Hicks will be absent about one month and will visit many points of interest while away. This is quite a compliment for Miss Hicks to be made a member of so important a committee.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Celebrates 133rd Commencement With Interesting Exercises and Large Attendance.

MANY GUESTS IN TOWN FOR ANNUAL EVENT.

The 133rd annual commencement exercises of Washington College began on Sunday morning with a scholarly address to the graduates by President James W. Cain, in William Smith Hall. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends of the graduates, and the address delivered by President Cain was scholarly and full of sound advice. The glee club of the college, rendered excellent music for the occasion. The annual sermon to the Y. M. C. A. was preached at eight o'clock, by Rev. John I. Yellott, of Bel Air. It was a most scholarly address and was greatly enjoyed by a large audience.

BASE-BALL GAME.

On Monday afternoon an interesting game of ball was played on Washington field between Washington and the All Stars. Hoch, of Delaware College, was on the mound for the All Stars and had he received proper support the score may have been different. Phillips, the Washington slab artist, proved his ability as a pitcher and came off with a victory by the score of 6 to 2. Phillips is a real find for the college, and since Biddle graduated this year, his place on the team will be ably filled by Phillips.

THE ROGERS DEBATE.

The first annual debate for the Samuel Towner Rogers prizes took place in William Smith Hall on Monday evening before a large audience. The question for debate was "Resolved, That the Federal Government should take over and operate the telegraph and telephone lines."

Those who represented the affirmative were: Miss Carmeta Russell, Chestertown, Cayetano Panettiere, Baltimore; negative, Albert Leonard Leary, Rock Hall, Alexander Roy Woodland, Crisfield. The prizes were awarded upon the merits of the arguments presented and upon the manner of delivery. The judges, Dr. James Roy Micou, Dr. A. Sagar Hall and Herbert E. Perkins, Esq., awarded first prize to Alexander Roy Woodland, of Crisfield, and second prize to Cayetano Panettiere, of Baltimore. Weber's Fifth Regiment Orchestra furnished delightful music.

DECLAMATION CONTEST.

Declamation contest for the Simpers medals was held in William Smith Hall Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. One of the best classes in the history of this commencement feature was presented.

The program was as follows: Declamation, "The Impeachment of Warren Hastings," Edwin Schœnrich, Baltimore, Md. Declamation, "The Destruction of the Titanic," Charles Foster Monzani, Waterbury, Conn. Declamation, "Spartacus to the Roman Envoys," Thomas Hugh Young, Aquasco, Md. Declamation, "The New South," James Walter Davis, Salisbury, Md. Declamation, "Marmion and Douglas," Hope Horsey Barroll, Jr., Chestertown, Md. Declamation, "The Prisoner of Chillon," Herbert Fulton Davis, Darlington, Md. Declamation, "The Dedication of Washington Monument," Clarence Clement White, Cumberland, Md. The judges, Prof. Wm. Raymond Moody, Charles Henry Gibson, Esq., and Dr. Robert Kingsman, awarded first prize to Edwin Schœnrich, of Baltimore, and second honor to James Walter Sykes, of Salisbury, Md. Weber's Fifth Regiment Orchestra furnished charming music for the occasion.

ORATORICAL CONTEST.

The Oratorical contest for the Oates medals was held at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening. Unfortunately a rain storm interfered with the attendance but the contest was nevertheless interesting. The program was as follows: Oration, "The Phillipines Are Not Ready for Independence," John Hepburn Coppage, Church Hill, Md. Oration, "The Silent Force," Cayetano Panettiere, Baltimore, Md. Oration, "Is Permanent Peace Probable?" Waters Russell Wheatley, Chestertown, Md. Oration, "The Fall of the Crescent," Allen Howard White, Galloways, Md. The judges, Rev. John I. Yellott, Jasper Yeates Brinton, Esq., and Prof. J. S. W. Jones, awarded first honor to Cayetano Panettiere, of Baltimore, and second prize to Waters Russell Wheatley, of Chestertown. Weber's Fifth Regiment Orchestra furnished splendid music.

STATE TEACHERS MEET AT SEASHORE.

Convention To Be In New Educational Building In Ocean City.

Dr. Edward F. Buckner of Johns Hopkins University, president of the Maryland State Teachers' Association, has completed the program for the forty-eighth annual meeting, which convenes at Ocean City on June 29 and will be in session four days. The meeting this year has additonal interest because of the completion of the State Educational Building at Ocean City, which will be dedicated on June 29. This structure was provided for by the Legislature at its 1914 session, and is a capacious and well-appointed building for the gatherings of the State teachers at the summer resort.

Mayor W. S. B. Powell, of Ocean City, will present the deed of the lot on which the building stands to the State, and it will be accepted by Governor Goldsborough. State Superintendent M. Bates Stephens will then present the keys of the building to the State Teachers' Association. A dedicatory address will be made by Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Pennsylvania, the dean of these officials in the United States. It is expected that the largest gathering of teachers and puplic school officials yet known in Maryland will witness these exercises.

Judge Robley Dunglison Jones, of Snow Hill, will deliver the addres of welcome to the teachers when the convention assembles. He is associate judge of the First Judicial circuit, including Worchester county, in which Ocean City is located. Dr. Buchner will make the inaugural address and Dr. Stephens will also speak. Dr. John H. Latane of Johns Hopkins University and Dr. Edward E. Russell, a fraternal delegate from the Virginia State Teachers' Association, will speak on June 30.

Among the participants in the program of the meeting will be Miss Mollie W. T. Tarr of the State Normal School, Baltimore; Dr. R. K. Purdum of Hamilton, Assistant State Superintendent; E. H. Norman, president of the Baltimore Business College; Prof. William H. Wilcox of the State Normal School; Miss Pearl A. Eader, Fredhrick; Miss Helen Bradley, Hagerstown; John R. Edwards, Cumberland; Thomas W. Troxell, Gaithersburg; W. R. C. Connick, Baden; E. A. Brown, Sparks; Earl C. Beatty, Street; G. O. Mudge, Preston; Dr. J. E. Metzger, College Park; A. C. Monahan and E. C. Miller, from the Department of Argiculture, Washington; Miss Ella Krieg, Frederick; Albert S. Cook, Towson; O. B. Coblentz, Frederick, and Joseph Blair, Sparrows Point.

We Know You Like Good, Pure Ice Cream---And You Should!

Pure Ice Cream? Has the thought ever entered your mind, while enjoying a plate of cream, under what conditions it was manufactured? Did you ever investigate the plant in which the cream you have been in the habit of buying is made? Do you appreciate the fact that there are different qualities of Ice Cream sold at exactly the same price that good, pure cream can be obtained for?

To produce absolutely pure, wholesome Ice Cream, the manufacturing plant and general conditions must be sanitary from the foundation. Cleanliness must be the watchword. Good material the substance. Careful and clean in attendance.

Ice Cream is a Pure Food Product—a wholesome product—an appetizing product—if you know that it is manufactured under absolute conditions.

Ice Cream manufactured by the Chestertown Candy Kitchen at their establishment on the corner of High and Cross Sts., is made under strict sanitary conditions from the best products the markets afford, and costs you no more than the inferior grades sold elsewhere.

Chestertown Candy Kitchen solicits your business for home use. They serve the family trade as well as dispense their Pure Ice Cream and Fancy Ices in boxes or packed. Soda Waters, Fancy Sundaes, etc., at their store at High and Cross Sts.
