Rally, supper fete 'Comradship Day'

The officers and members of Federal Auxiliary No. 19, American Legion, Department of Maryland, will sponsor a "Comradeship Daily Rally" and supper for the benefit of the Post Home, Saturday, Oct. 31, at 8 p. m.

The affair will be held a Federal Post Home, 1502 Madison ave.

Guest speakers will include J. Edward Walker, state department commander and John D. Stewart, department vice-commander-at-large. Music will be furnished by the auxiliary and post members.

REV. AND MRS. JAMES L. SIMMONS

Organist, evangelist married in flower bedecked setting

Miss Audrey G. Morant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Morant of Hackensack, N.J., and James L. Simmons of New York City, were married recently at Mt. Calvary Pentecostal Faith church, 1204 Eutaw pl., by Elder G. A. Brandhagen.

Several hundred guests watched as the bride walked under an arch of Bibles to the altar, around which had been arranged a garden scene, complete with wishing well, plans, flowers, white doves and bells.

The bride, an organist at the church, wore a gown of imported white chantilly lace over shimmer satin, with a flower length veil. She carried a Bible bedecked in flowers.

Attendants Listed

Her attendants were: Miss Dorothy McDonald, maid of honor, and Misses Ola Stinson, Rosa Anderson, Barbara Jones, Grace Shannon, Jimmie Yarborough and Mrs. Rosalee English.

Shirley Hairston was one of the flower girls, and Margaret Green was page girl. Miss McDonald wore a lovely gown of nylon tulle net and lace over satin.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of white taffeta, lace and net with applique medallions of lace, sequins and rhinestones on peplum collars and points of sleeves.

The bridegroom, an evangelist with the church, was attended by Herman McIver as best man. Ushers included: James Brooks, Alvin Alicia, William M. Stepney, Harold Hayman, Lawrence Adams and Leon English. The ring bearer was Nathan Smith Jr.

The wedding march was played by Miss Miram Roberts of NYC. A reception for the couple was held in the dining hall of the church.

Clubs

The Leap Year Sewing Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Cecelia Austin, 1813 E. Federal st., Monday, Oct. 19. Mrs. Estelle Dorsey is president.

Plans were completed for a young people's Halloween Jamboree by the Northwest Child Study Club which met last week at the Gwynns Falls Parkway home of Mrs. Iona Collins.

The jamboree is scheduled for Oct. 31 at Leakin Park.

The club members are also making arrangements for their annual charity fund raising project to be announced soon.

Hostessing with Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Jimmy Lafforrest, president. Members present included:

Mesdames Hazel Barrett, Lucille Cephas, Marjorie Chatman, Jessica Taylor, Virginia Newkirk, Anethia B. Williams, Margie Sheffey, Mary Sprow, Gloria Phillips;

Also Mesdames Marion Myers, Vyna Skinner, Alice Payne, Flonella Clark, Courtney Valentine, Ellen Johns, Elsie Scott, Roberta Waters and Anne Pinkney who was away last year studying in New York City.

Legion Ladies

The Walter Green Unit No. 1, American Legion Auxiliary will hold its memorial service Sunday at Mount Zion Methodist church at 8 p.m. the Rev. J. J. Barnes is pastor; Mrs. Mildred Marshall, president.

A dance, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Ladies, was held recently at Perry Point Hospital, Pegryville, Md.

Members units contributing to the success of the affair were Nos. 153, 235, 101, 263, 165, 55 and 14. Mrs. Helen Dorsey is the rehabilitation chairman.

The Celestial Savings and Pleasure club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Fannie Scott, 1417 McCulloh st. to plan its first fall event next month.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bernice Thornton, secretary, 325 E. 21st st. Mrs. Gladys Brown, president.

Jamaican guests visit the Alleynes

Visitors in Baltimore this week as guests of Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Alleyne were Mr and Mrs. D. A. Jones of Constant Spring, Jamaica, BWI.

Mr. Jones is assistant secretary of the Jamaica Agricultural Society and Mrs. Jones, headmistress of the Windsor high school in Kingston.

They were en route to Washington for a look in on the operational setup of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the 4-H clubs of Washington.

They will spend much of their four-month vacation in the States getting acquainted with the programs and procedures of organizations which function similarly to the Jamaica Agriculture Society, with which Mr. Jones has been associated for two years.

Already they have visited the Asgrow Export Corporation in Connecticut which is represented in the Islands by Mr. Jones' organization.

The school which Mrs. Jones has headed for 12 years prepares candidates for the cambridge examinations and has turned out graduates who hold important positions all over the island as well as abroad.

To Visit Schools

While traveling, she will visit various U.S. schools and educational institutions.

During their stay in the states, the Joneses are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Morcles in St. Albans, N. Y.

Changes in woman's home stressed at luncheon

A woman's home is not what it used to be, the Maryland League of Women's Clubs was told last Saturday at its eighth annual president's luncheon at the Madison ave. YWCA.

Mrs. Robert Harris Cooper, vice president of the Women's Civic League, pointed out that the wife's home of today extends as far as her knowledge and interest goes in her community.

"There was a time that the wife got up early in the morning, unfroze the pump, milked the cow, gathered eggs from the chickens and spent all day cleaning house," Mrs. Cooper said.

"But today, all of these things are bureau controlled and the modern housewife has more time on her hands. Though there are times when she would much rather remain within her four walls, she soon finds it very dull."

Take Interest In Politics

Stressing the need for more women to take interest in civic affairs, Mrs. Cooper urged the club presidents to become politically active in the 1954 election campaign.

"Know who runs your city; be familiar with the candidates on the ballot so that you can have a clear picture of the election a week ahead of time," she advised.

She also pointed out the need for housewives to help their fellow citizens keep the laws of the city.

Taxes Reduced

"Taxes could easily be reduced if the laws were obeyed," she said pointing out that fewer traffic police would be needed if drivers stayed within the speed limits.

"And it would be easier on the teachers in the class rooms if our children were taught good behavior at home," she added, explaining that several hundreds of dollars are spent each year in repairing school buildings damaged by the pupils.

Special guest at the luncheon was Mrs. Margaret McCane, newly appointed superintendent of Barret School for Girls in GlenBurnie. The club plans to visit the school on Saturday, Oct. 24. Greetings were sent from Mrs. Alice Arrington, former executive direction of the YWCA, who has transferred to the Harlem YWCA in New York. York.

She'll Save PLENTY!

By SHIRLEY KYLE
(Substituting for Mrs. Garrett who is on vacation.)

If the past week, the first of the new fall season, is any indication of what the coming winter is to be town-folk may as well get their appointments in with thier couturier and their chiropodists right now. There's going to be some high stepping, in top togs, in this burg this season.

And no flossier pace could have been set than that bridge-luncheon hosted by Mrs. Charles Woodland at the Medeso club, Saturday afternoon.

Guests came around, sipped a cocktail (or three) while other guests were arriving; sat down to a festive board, (remind me to ask Maude who her caterer was) and I do mean festive.

They also feasted their eyes not only on the luscious viands, but on the lush clothes worn by some twenty matrons seated thereabouts with the hostess in a pale mauve wool dressmaker suit, under-pinned with a soft pink blouse banded at lower level with strips of deeper pink, rose and purple, and embroidered all over in minute crystal beads, as pace setter.

From luncheon they moved on to tables of bridge with Margaret Ewing keeping scores, and scoring in white wool blouse, black fringe trimmed atop a black velvet skirt sprinkled with pearls.

And vying for honors were Alice Hayes of Buffalo, who is guesting with Catherine Adams, who, by the way, was mighty smart in black, touched with white striped vestee and cuffs, tiny red buttons and an out-of-this world, wide velvet hat; a trio of Washingtonians, Jennie Wilder, Elena Leake and Madge Hurst; and a batch of Baltimoreans:

Florence Gloster, Vivian Pendleton, Mattie Connor, Anita Thomas, Rose Hampton, Gladys Sheppard, Gertrude Urquhart, Beatrice Butler, Elizabeth Crudup, Ellsworth Rhetta, Clara Jackson, Lula Patterson, Theresa Waters.

Taking home the loot (delightful items from a cosmetic counter) were Mesdames Pendleton, Waters, Hampton, and Patterson...with a mazzy crystal perfume bottle to Mrs. Sheppard as booby prize and the scorekeeper's gift to, of course, Mrs. Ewing.

OMEGAS ENTERTAIN

The Omegas proved themselves more than sweet guys who wanted to do something extra sweet for their wives and sweethearts, Friday night. They showed the Quetites they were suave hosts, too.

They, too, gathered at the Madeso club for their party, and oodles of food and drink ...and more, oodles of fun, too, with a play program especially tailored by professional Laura Lipscum.

And, if we are going to talk about clothes, we'll mention:

Mary Sprow in a pink taffeta off-shoulder frock enhanced with pearls and brilliants; Norma Dillard, whose rainbow taffeta frock sported an immensly wide skirt; Ruby Gill, who selected a winter cotton with shoulder revealing line;

Gay Spaulding, whose peach frock's decollete drew admiring eyes; Agnes Patterson in a two-piece black and red adorable; Mary Maiden in oyster white frock with a line of gold adding glitter; and Mrs. Daniel Spaulding in a princess line frock of blue taffeta.

And then add that which making the party, the folks:

Messrs. and Mesdames Carl White, Ernest Stokes; Robert Johnson, T. B Wilson, John Hampton, John Jackson, Leslie Bell, Elmer Patterson, Otho Pinkett;

Messrs. and Mesdames Theodore Brown, George Roseborn, Jimmy Spencer, Harold Fowlkes, J. J. Hurt, Daniel Spaulding, Samuel Wyatt, Clarence Maiden, Joseph Obey, Christian Waller;

Doctors and Mesdames Robert Gill, Charles Woodland, R. Garland Chissell, T. J. Woolridge, George Spaulding, Donald Brandon, Albert LaForest, Linwood Koger, Mrs. Pocahontas Anderson, Miss Dinah Watts and Miss Norma Dillard.

The party was arranged by the executive committee of the fraternity, which includes Otis Sprow, basileus; William Garner, vice basileus T. B. Nelson keeper of finance; Theodore Brown, keeper of records and seal; Linwood Koger parliamentarian; and Elmer Patterson, keeper of the peace.

POTPOURRI

Members of the Apollo Whist club showed their hostess Mrs. Beatrice Dabney, with delightful gifts for her new home at 2304 Presbury st.

Following the business meeting and an elaborate luncheon (strictly Mrs. Dabney's style, I hear) cards was played with Mrs. Gertrude Patterson taking first prize.

Second and third prizes went to Mesdames Dora Datcher and Lucille Millard.

Hundreds and hundred of Baltimoreans flocked to Polytechnic Institute last Sunday to see Murial Rahn in "Carmen Jones."

The concert was sponsored by the Epsilon Sigma chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

And what a fashion parade there was during the intermission. To mention a few: Soror Mae Medders in a smart, tailored autumn red suit and tiny matching hat; Soror Juliet Bragg sporting a new teal-blue bonnet trimmed in black velvet; and couldn't help noticing Soror Ardell Jones' rhinestone neckpiece and Sorors Nixon draped in rhinestone-velvet stole.

Not to mention the cute peach feathered caplet which Lorraine Simmons wore. She's a June Morgan graduate who now holds a teaching position at Booker T. Washington Junior high school.

Saw Eva Creigler in her stunning black gabardine fitted coat. Virginia Manning in black velvet; Emma Baylor Wearing a board gray felt hat to match her coat and Verda Alston's suit of that new bronze tweed which is capturing the fashion world these days.

Fall Fashion Show

And speaking of fall colors, hear tell that the decorations at Ame Methodist church highlighted the apparel of the Charm Centre Models for the fall fashion show and tea given recently by the Ethel M. Newman Guild of the church.

Models included Mesdames Ozella Bullock, Imogene Martyn, Anna Ruth Dunmore, Audrey Grey, Vera Cole, Jeannette Chisolm and Miss Phyliss Allen.

The guild met this week at the home of Miss Frances Lankford with Bessie Plater, Lelia Jennings, Katherine Lankford and Frances Greer, hostessing.

Members present included Jessye Bennett, Valerie Butler, Jessie Mitchell, Elizabeth Bristol, Florence Kelson, Ethel Davis, Romaine Taylor, Margaret Gassaway, Mary Gross; Trinnie Priestley, Eleanor Moore, Rachel Roberts, Velva Isabel and Alice T. Carroll.

Fraternity Smoker

Freshmen and non-greeks at Morgan College will be guested at a smoker, Monday, at 8 p.m. at the college center, given by the Omega Psi Phi fraternity Pi chapter;

And don't forget the Phi Delta Kappa's formal, tonight, (Friday), at Morgan

Miss Wilson hostess for savings club

The Silver Sword Savings club met this week at the home of Miss Grace Wilson, 2023 N. Fulton ave. who served a luncheon following he business session.

Among those present were Mesdames Arnett Kirby, Estell Lee, Hassell Simms, Elsie Blan, Pauline Crump, Alvera Simms and Bertha Parker.

SAVINGS CLUB PLANS TURKEY DINNER FETE

The Worth While Savings club, which met this week at the home of Mrs. A. Melice Smith, 600 Carrollton ave., is making arrangements for a turkey dinner to be held soon at the Cricket Club. Mrs. Evelyn Johnson is president; Mrs. Margaret Rogus, secretary.

DELTA CONCERT—Miss Muriel Rahn, starring as Carmen in the concert version of "Carmen Jones" presented Sunday afternoon at Polytechnic Institute, poses with two sorors of the Epsilon Sigma chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority. Miss Ardell Jones, left, program chairman, and Mrs. Sanoma Nixon, right, president. The concert was the first fall event to be presented by the sorority. Over 1,500 persons attended.

CALIFORNIA BOUND—Leaving for the national Chi Eta Phi sorority boule in Los Angeles to represent Baltimore's Gamma chapter are Mesdames Mary Peck, delegate; Lillyan Slater, past national officer; and Mazzell Dickerson, president of the local chapter.

AKA's prepare for concerts

The Epsilon Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority is completing plans for the concert series season tickets scheduled to go on sale soon.

Featured in the annual series this year will be Charlotte Wesley, soprano, and Paul Hume, baritone soloist, in a joint recital, January 24.

The Morgan State college choir will be presented Feb. 28 and the final concert will feature the famed Gershwin string orchestra April 4.

All concerts will be held at Polytechnic Institute.

The sorority met Saturday with Soror Emma Bricht presiding and Soror Charlotte Swan, furnishing the music.

Highlighting the meeting was the introduction of the recent Morgan college graduates who have transferred from the campus chapter, Alpha Delta, to the graduate chapter of the sorority.

The new members include: Sorors Thalia Mallory, Shirley Moody, Margaret Jackson, Estella Rheubottom, Shirley Douglass, Chalmetta Johnson, Ida Hawkins, Jean Cummings and Prudence Burrell.

Hostesses for the meeting were: Sorors Dorothy Booze, Jean Batts, Rosalyn Allen, Elizabeth Allen, Emma Bricht, Beatrice Butler, Mary Adams, Hattie Brown, Geraldine Baylor and Marian Bareliff.

Soror Flossie Dedmond is program chairman and Soror Mary Adams, entertainment committee chairman.

'Calypso Carousel' to be held Sunday

In songs and dances of the West Indies, the "Calypso Carousel" ensemble will give its lively, gay performance of the music of the Caribbean islands, Sunday at Polytechnic Institute.

The Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority is sponsoring the affair.

Featured in the program will be the striking costumes of the dancers, which are true replicas of the actual garb worn in the various islands.
