Fifty years ago, Baltimoreans who recognized a truly fine whiskey said—"MAKE MINE GREEN SPRING . . ." Because, Crosse & Blackwell has steadfastly maintained the quality that made this brand famous, thousands more say today, "MAKE MINE GREEN SPRING . . ."

Moments Musical

By ADAH K. JENKINS

A lyric soprano with sterling equipment for a successful career made a promising debut Sunday afternoon at Sharp st. Methodist church.

Elizabeth Rayfield Hall has a voice of natural sweetness and clarity which is being excellently developed.

Both the voice and the personality of the singer are admirably suited to music of the classic and romantic periods of the Italian school.

The recital opened with an aria from an early Italian Classicist, Pergolesi, one of the leading writers of vocal music in all Europe during the late 1700's.

English Group Included

A group of English songs included "Lullaby" and "Blackbird's Song" by the British composer, Cyril Scott and "The Nightingale," based on a Kentucky melody by Howard Brockway.

Among the Afro-American folk songs was "My Lord Is So High," arranged by Thomas W. McPherson Jr., who was the capable accompanist of the affair, although a bit overpowering at times.

The remaining spirituals in the group were arrangements by Dett, Bastner and Rosamond Johnson.

The Robert Coates Altar Guild which sponsored the concert had arranged a tastefully decorated stage with additional lighting effects. These combined to make a suitable setting for the soloist who was graceful and charming in a ballerina gown.

Calypso Choral Ballet

On Sunday, Oct. 18, at 5 p.m. the Sigma Gamma Rho sorority will present the Calypso Choral Ballet at the Polytechnic auditorium.

The Young Musicians' Series will open its fourth season Saturday, Oct. 17, at the Museum of Art, 31st street and Wyman Park drive. There will be a woodwind and brass ensemble from the New York Woodwind quintet.

The concert begins promptly at 11 a.m. and lasts for one hour.

Admission is open to all children from seven years old and up and to adults accompanied by children.

Single tickets are available at a very nominal fee, altho parents are urged to secure season tickets, so that the youngsters may have an opportunity to hear the concert-opera at the Nov. 14th recital, which is open only to holders of season tickets.

Mrs. Nina Collier, head of the sponsoring organization, which is affiliated with the national Young Audiences, Inc., may be reached for further information at 5407 Roland ave., Baltimore 10.

WOULD YOU PAY $50.00 FOR A BOTTOM OF RYE?

—One man did! In 1897, a Baltimore mail-millionaire's wine cellar was sold at auction. A quart of Maryland Straight rye bottled in 1911 sold for $50! The very same man who made that prized bottle of rye is making RYEHOOK Maryland Straight Rye today! His name is Frank L. Wight. Ryehook is the delightful result of Mr. Wight's 50 years of distilling experience. Real rye! True, traditional rye! "The Flower Of Maryland Rye!" It won't cost you $50! In fact, it's only $4.75 a fifth, plus taxes. But no amount of money could buy finer, tastier rye!

Ryehook is straight rye whiskey, 5 years old. 86 Proof. The Cockeysville Distilling Co., Inc., Cockeysville, Md.
