Moments Musical

By ADAH K. JENKINS

A lyric soprano with sterling equipment for a successful career made a promising debut recently at Sharp St. Methodist church.

Elizabeth R. Hall has a voice of much natural sweetness and clarity which is being excellently developed.

Both the voice and the personality of the singer are admirably suited to music of the classic and romantic periods of the Italian school.

Italian Composers Famous

From the earliest days of musical composition in Italy the development of the voice as a fine instrument was the chief aim.

The vocal teachers and composers became famous for the "bel canto" (good singing), with lilting melodies brilliant cadenzas, runs and thrills that showed off the lovely, liquid Italian voice.

Singers and composers from all countries flocked to Italy, which was also the birthplace of the opera.

Mozart Outstanding

Among the noted figures was Wolfgang Mozart, whose "Alleluja" (from the motet "Exultate, Jubilate") was brilliantly sung by Mrs. Hall Sunday.

Hers was also a convincing performance of two arias, "Convien partir" (Now We must Part) and "Ciascun lo dice" (All Men Confess It), both from the opera, "Daughter of the Regiment."

Gaetano Donizetti, composer of this work, was noted for his dazzling solos and ensemble show pieces, of which the famous "Sextet" from "Lucia" is a striking example.

Varied Program

The recital opened with an aria from an early Italian classicist, Pergolesi, one of the leading writers of vocal music in all Europe during the late 1700's.

A group of English songs included "Lullaby" and "Blackbird's Song," by the British composer, Cyril Scott, and "The Nightingale," based on a Kentucky melody by Howard Brockway.

Among the Afro-American folk songs was "My Lord Is So High, arranged by Thomas W. McPherson Jr., who was the capable accompanist of the afternoon, although a bit overpowering at times.

Graceful, Charming Singer

The remaining spirituals in the group were arrangements by Dett, Boatner and Rosamond Johnson.

The Robert Coates Allar Guild, which sponsored the concert, had arranged a tastefully decorated stage with additional lighting effects, which combined to make a suitable setting for the soloist who was graceful and charming in a delightful manner.

Edna K. Mitchell, soprano and William C. Brown, baritone, will appear in joint recital Sunday, Nov. 1, at Metropolitan Methodist church, Carrollton ave. and Lanvale st., sponsored by the Baltimore Guild of the National Association of Negro Musicians, of which Mrs. Margaret B. Franklin is president.

SCREEN LOVERS — Merle Oberon gambles on love and loses with handsome Richard Todd in romance, "Affair in Monte Carlo," now playing at the New Albert.

'Martin Luther' starts at New Albert Oct. 29

Fear of sin and God's judgment struck terror in Martin Luther's heart. So, like many others in the 16th century the young law student in Erfurt, Germany, sought shelter in a monastery.

This is the dramatic opening of "Martin'Luther," the half-million-dollar-feature production, on location in Western Germany by Louis de Rochemont Associates, responsible for such provocative cinema achievements as "Lost Boundaries," and "Walk East on Beacon."

The picture will be shown at the New Albert Theatre beginning October 29.

Based on the life of the 16th century monk who defied excommunication and the stake in his demand for religious reform, "Martin Luther" provides the first motion picture portrayal of the incidentary beginnings of the Protestant Reformation.

Sought Peace

As an Augustinian monk, Luther tried to find peace of mind and soul through study, work, worship, and confession. But he soon came to the conclusion that, no matter what he did, he was not able to escape the fear of evil and punishment.

One day in his tower room in Wittenberg University, he found his answer, and he says: "It was like the gates of heaven opened to me." Reading St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans 1:17, he came to the conclusion: "A man can't earn salvation by what he himself does. Man gains salvation through faith in Christ, through what God has done for man through this Saviour."

So Luther fought against the sale of indulgences—letters of pardon from punishment of sin—which the Medici Pope, Leo X, had authorized. He demanded that the church of his day be cleansed of secular abuses and that the authority for doctrine and practice be Scripture rather than Popes or Councils.

HACKETT — In loving memory of our husband, CARPENTER HACKETT, who passed away October 19, 1952, one year ago.

Gone but not forgotten.
We love you and I will not say
That he is dead. He is just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave
of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown
land.
And we still dreaming how very
fair
It needs must be, since he lingers
there.
And you — Oh, you, who the
wildest years
For the old-time step and glad
greeting
Think o him parting, as dear,
As you love of There, as the love
of Here
Think of him still as the same,
I say—
He is not dead—he just went
away.

MADELYN LILLIAN AND CARL

LYLES—A tribute of love to my dear wife and mother, DEPSY, who passed away October 23, 1949:

The depth of sorrow we cannot sway
Of the loss of the one we loved
so dear
And while she sleeps in peaceful
sleep
Her loving memory we shall always keep.
Gone, but not forgotten.
Loved husband,
REV. ROMIE LYLES
Daughter,
MADONIE E. HUNT
Devoted Grandson,
CALVERT LYLES

PATTERSON—In loving memory of my dear mother, MRS. CORDELIA PATTERSON, who passed away October 24, 1945:

Beacon say, that I will not say
That she is dead. She is just
away!
With a cheery smile and a wave
of the hand
She has wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming, how very
fair
It needs must be, since she lingers
there.
And you — Oh, you, who the
wildest years
For the old-time step and glad
greeting
Think of her parting as dear,
As you love of There, as the love
of Here
Think of her still as the same,
I say:
She is not dead — She is just
away!
Devoted Daughter,
MRS. MARTHA COLE
