NELSON—WHEAT.

Miss Tabitha Wheat, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wheat and Mr. Norman B. Nelson, son of Mrs. Thomas Holdson, and assistant in Mr. Ralph Barnett's tonsorial parlors, were married on Monday at 2 P. M., at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett. The bride was beautifully dressed in a gown of dark blue taffeta silk. The room, darkened for the occasion, was lit by candles and was prettily decorated with potted plants, evergreens and cut flowers in profusion, while the ceremony was performed beneath an arch of flowers. Miss Helen Wagner, of Rock Hall, a friend of the bride, played the wedding march. Immediately after the ceremony the happy young couple left in an auto for Tolchester, where they took the boat for Baltimore. From there they will go to Washington, returning from their honeymoon on Thursday. They will reside in Mr. Fred Robinson's house, next door to Mr. John Barnes' residence on High street uptown. They received many handsome and useful presents. The TRANSCRIPT wishes this popular young couple a happy wedded life.

OUTLAMD—MADDOX

Miss Lida A. Maddox, of Snow Hill, Maryland, became the bride of Mr. Grover C. Outland, of Boss, Virginia, at high noon Wednesday, June 30, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few close friends. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Leonard B. Smith, a former college-mate of the bride. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Maddax, of Snow Hill, and was one of the most popular teachers of Worcester county. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Outland, of Isle of Wight county, Virginia, and is Principal of Drake's Branch High School, Dracke's Branch, Virginia. Both of the young people have many friends who will be glad to extend their congratulations. The bride was attired in a handsome traveling gown of dark blue, while the groom wore the conventional black. Immediately following the ceremony the newly married couple left for an extended trip to points North, and will be at home to their friends after July 10, at Windsor, Virginia.

LENTZ—GROVES

Miss Margaret Wyatt Groves, formerly of Chestertown, and daughter of the late Albert S. Groves, of Chestertown, was married Saturday afternoon to Mr. John George Lentz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lentz, of 2125 Hollins street, Baltimore, by the Rev. Kenneth G. Murray at the parsonage of Fayette Street Methodist Episcopal Church.

The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit, with hat to match, and wore a corsage bouquet of lillies of the valley. There were no attendants and the ceremony was witnessed by only members of the families and a few friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lentz left on the steamer City of Norfolk for a trip through the South. They will make their home in Washington, where the bride groom is employed.

WEER—BONWILL

Miss Edna Bonwill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Bonwill, near Betterton and Mr. Hartley Copper Weer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Weer, of Kennedyville, were married at the home of the bride's parents at 6.30 o'clock A. M. on Tuesday, by the Rev. S. S. Hepburn. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white embroidered voile over taffeta and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. Her maid of honor was Miss Mary Sasscer, of St. Mary's county, who wore pink silk crepe and carried sweet peas. The two little flower girls were Ann Bonwill and Elizabeth Dukes, cousins of the bride. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony after which they went to Newark, Del., by auto, where they took a train for northern points. They will be at home after July 6th at 23 W. 27th St. Baltimore, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Connelly announce the marriage of their daughter, Anna Louise Connelly, of Chestertown, to Mr. Marcus C. Dill, of New Bern, N. C., in Baltimore, June 26, 1915, at 10 o'clock A. M.

GROWERS SHOULD SPRAY FOR CODLING MOTH.

Mixture Should Be Applied Before The Blossoms Fall.

T. B. SYMONS,
Maryland Agricultural College.

In spraying for the codling moth it is necessary to consider several facts. First, the insect causes injury by eating into the fruit, and rarely does the spray come into actual contact with the insect; therefore the so-called contact sprays, such as are used for scale insects or plant lice should not be employed, but stomach poisons, such as Paris green, arsenate of lead or other arsenicals, must be used. Second, the insect enters the fruit usually within 48 hours after hatching, and is thereafter beyond our reach, so the spray must be applied in time. Third, the fact, to which attention has already been called, that the hatching period for the eggs of one brood extends over a considerable space of time; therefore, to get the best results two or more sprayings should be given. Fourth, in Maryland there are two broods of the codling moth, and to prevent injury by the second brood larvae one or more midsummer sprayings may be applied. In spraying for first brood larvae it must be borne in mind that they enter the fruit at the calyx, therefore the spray must be applied before the lobes of the calyx close enough to exclude the spray. Fifth, sprays followed immediately by heavy rains should be repeated. Sixth, spray only with a pump which will give good pressure, not less than 80 pounds, and more than 100 pounds is much better, so as to force the spray into the calyx. Do not spray until nearly all the petals have fallen from the blossoms on account of danger of injury to the blossoms and risk of killing bees, which are important agents of pollination.

Failure to observe these points cause poor results from spraying, while proper attention given them should insure an apple crop free from worm injury.

In many instances we have secured excellent results with only one thorough spraying applied when the blossoms fall, and for ordinary purposes this spraying will be sufficient to insure from 90 to 95 per cent. good apples.

PROTECT YOUR HOGS AGAINST CHOLERA LOSS.

S. S. BUCKLEY,
Maryland Experiment Station.

With the coming of warmer weather there is increased danger of attacks of hog cholera.

This disease is the greatest menace to profitable hog raising in Maryland. The losses from it have been estimated to be about three hundred thousand dollars in Maryland annually.

This disease is the greatest menace to profitable hog raising in Maryland. The losses from it have been estimated to be about three hundred thousand dollars in Maryland annually.

The disease is highly infectious and swine are peculiarly susceptible.

PROTECTED AGAINST HOG CHOLERA.

Symptoms: The animals appear dull and inclined to lie quietly in the bedding. Several affected animals will lie huddled together. The eyes are at first dull and droopy. Later they become watery and discharges dry up, leaving the lids more or less gummy and glued together. As the disease progresses they become weak and stagger in walking. The back is arched and the abdomen tucked up. The respirations are short and rapid. The appetite is poor, and thirst, due to fever, is increased. Temperatures vary from 103 to 108 F. The animals may cough and vomit frequently. Loss of flesh is well marked. Red or purple spots or areas, to be seen back of the ears and along the belly, are due to skin hemorrhages. There may be constipation or diarrhoea. The discharges may be thin and show the presence of blood. Evacuations are painful. In some individuals and in some herds the symptoms may be well marked and characteristic, while in others they are scarcely noticeable.

Hogs and pens should be kept in the best possible condition. Avoid placing newly purchased hogs in the pens with others for at least thirty days. Do not allow hogs to graze where they will be exposed to other hogs or to graze at all near railroads over which hogs are shipped. Report any cases of sickness among hogs in your neighborhood, giving as complete a description as possible of the symptoms to the Experiment Station, College Park, Maryland.

One of the most interesting papers at the recent annual Farmers' Convention held in Montgomery County was on what a boy did with his sheep. The father said, "My youngster began with sheep when he was eight years old. He has three ewes now, and his income last week was something over $25. There are plenty of other ways of keeping a boy on the farm and giving him lasting interest in farm life." Indeed there are. Are you going to be on your job—start your boys and girls in business for themselves on the home farm—now? You can't do anything better! —From The Maryland Grange Messenger.
