'No time for change' say Kappas; keep four in posts

The Kappas stuck with the prospective bride's good luck omen of "something old and something new" in last Saturday's election of officers as they sent four incumbents back to office to counter - balance the six new officers elected.

The election of officers took place at the regular November meeting of the Baltimore alumni chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, November 7, at the home of Alonzo Kelley, 3021 Belmont Avenue.

Cade Polemarch

In a resounding vote of confidence for the leadership of Melvin Cade, the Kappas retained him as polemarch to guide the destiny of the chapter for another year. Mr. Cade was automatically elevated from vice polemarch to polemarch last summer when Vincent Tubbs, then polemarch, took up residence in another city.

Other incumbents who still found themselves in office after the balloting were Raymond T. Carpenter, outgoing keeper of records, who was kept in office as strategus; Wilbur Stewart, keeper of exchequer; and William Contee, historian and journalist.

New Officers

New officers elected were William Spencer, vice pole, the march; Lloyd McDonald, keeper of records; Dick Hobson, financial secretary; Robert Smith, Lieutenant strategus; and Dr. Talmadge Pinkney and Alonzo Lancaster, members of the board of directors.

At the regular December meeting (second Saturday in the month), at the home of Dr. Robert L. Jackson, 600 N. Arlington ave, the newly-elected officers will be formally installed in accordance with the rituals of the fraternity.

Delegates Named

As the final order of business for the meeting, the chapter voted the following members as official delegates to the fraternity's 43rd Grand Chapter Conclave in Chicago, December 26-30: Wilbur Stewart, I. W. E. Taylor and Sandy McIntyre.

Melvin Cade, Dick Hobson and Phillip Hall had previously been chosen to represent the chapter at the Eastern Province Council at Virginia State College, November 13, 14, and 15. Robert E. Umphery, though not officially representing the Baltimore alumni chapter, will attend as keeper of records and exchequer for the eastern province.

VOWS EXCHANGED — Miss Sylvia B. Caldwell and William L. Grace were recently married in Immaculate Conception church, Elkton, Md. They are now at home in Baltimore.

—Gadabouting

ants to whom she leased her home for five years, are being kind enough to break the lease. Oh, yes, Mr. Patton, via the courts, reimbursed her for all expenses she incurred in moving from here to his home in Indianapolis, paid her $2,250 in lieu of alimony and her attorney $500. She won the decree.

And in another move that has the natives buzzing, Rose Davis, top town beautician and manager for the Houses of Beauty, packed up all pick-up-able items of the town's smartest shops, after her boss, Dr. Evan Gilkes, reportedly slapped her pretty face, and vamoosed.

And say intimates, the physician, who owns the beauty shop chain and is also being sued for a divorce by his wife, Mrs. Emmie Gilkes, is making kiss-and-makeup overtures to the Mrs., but Mommie ain't interested in maneuvering down the reconciliation lane now, says she.

Dashing about town with a special look of beatitude on his handsome face, this week, is the Rev. Benjamin F. Jackson, one of the town's eligible widowers. In fact, he is dashing out of Fulton Baptist church parsonage, and readying to dash into an elegant new home on Gwynns Falls Parkway, having purchased the mansion this week.

POT-POURRI

If there are any more excited grandparents than the Albert (Eunice) Halls, lead me to 'em. Their first, a grandson, arrived to Dr. and Mrs. William M. Hall, Wednesday morning, in the Hague Memorial Maternity hospital in Jersey City. Dr. Hall is interning at the Medical Center in that city. Mrs. Hall is the former Mildred DeSilva of Brooklyn, N.Y. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius DeSilva, whose first grandchild the new arrival is also. Oh, yes, pretty surely the new young man will be William M., junior. Mrs. Albert Hall, incidentally, is just out of Provident hospital, where she has been for a check up.

The Owen Lees (Iris) are also parents at a brand new daughter.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Harmon observed their 18th wedding anniversary today (Friday). She gifted him with a diamond-studded Masonic pin, he having just been initiated a noble by Jerusalem Temple of Shriners, last week. His gift to her was the addition to her wardrobe of a snazzy suit.

Mrs. Elaine Gilstrap; standing: Mrs. Ann Dunnock, Mrs. Rosearle Garner, Mrs. Hazel Parks and Mrs. Doris King.

Cooperation needed to fight tuberculosis

It was an ancient Oriental custom to pay the doctor regularly during good health and stop payment when illness developed. The modern system is different, but it is still true that the doctor would rather help you keep well than cure an unnecessary illness.

However, he cannot do so without your co-operation. You have nothing to be proud of when you boast, "I haven't been near a doctor in years." That does not necessarily mean that you are healthy. It does mean that you are gambling with your own health and that of your entire family.

Tuberculosis is an insidious disease which can creep upon you unaware. Only your doctor, using X-ray and other tests, can tell whether or not you have TB. The disease has no obvious symptoms in its early stages. You can feel and look perfectly healthy and still have TB.

On the other hand, there's no need to worry yourself into a nervous collapse about TB. The disease is contagious, but you usually have to be in fairly close contact with a case to get enough germs into your system to cause TB to develop.

Good Health Needed

If you are in good general health, your body can usually fight the germs to a standstill. Your best protection against TB, and for your health in general, is to see your doctor once a year for a complete physical checkup and a chest X-ray. If he feels you are in any special danger, he will advise you to see him more often.

If TB should develop, he will be able to discover it before it gets a head start.

TB is always serious and there is no easy road to recovery. But modern science is constantly improving methods of treatment. You can be sure of one thing TB found early can be cured more easily and quickly than TB which has had time to carry out its stealthy work of destroying body tissue.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health, by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, 900 St. Paul St., Baltimore, Md.

Miss Sylvia B. Caldwell married to William Grace

ELKTON, Md. — Miss Sylvia B. Caldwell, daughter of Charles W. Caldwell, principal of the Carver high school, and Mrs. Caldwell, of this city, and William L. Grace were married, here, recently.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Grace of McDaniel, Md.

The Rev. Charles J. Conway officiated at double-ring ceremony which was held in the Immaculate Conception church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length dress of white nylon tulle over ivory satin. Her shoulder-length veil of nylon tulle was held by a coronet of seed-pearls. She carried orchids on a satin prayer book.

Miss Dorothy Milburn, her only attendant, wore pale blue nylon tulle over satin and carried yellow rosebuds.

George L. Bennett of Baltimore was best man.

Ushers were Mack B. Simpson and James H. Parrish, both of Baltimore.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the cafeteria of the Carver school.

For her wedding trip to Philadelphia, the bride wore gray and black and black accessories. The bride's groom also wore gray.

Among those present are Mrs. Jane Inland, aunt of the groom of Gwynns Falls Parkway, Baltimore.

For the wedding and reception, Mrs. Caldwell selected a gown of sapphire blue lace and and black accessories, and Mrs. Grace, navy lace and pink and navy accessories.

Assisting at the reception were:

William Stannord, Dr. J. L. Johnson, C. W. Bessicks, Mrs. Mildred Johnson, Miss Florence Long, Mrs. Clyde H. Bessicks, and Mrs. Revie Fitzgerald.

Big 9-room house shared by Merritt families has ample room for everyone! Front row: Kathryn, Moses with 2-year-old Cynthia, Aaron with year-old David, Charlie Mae. Back row: Darrell, 4½; Karen, 8; Aaron, Jr., 11; Moses, Jr., 10½; Jane, 8½; Cassandra, 9; Freda, 7.

TWIN HAPPY FAMILIES

The Pet Milk Photographer Visits THE MERRITTS of Chicago

Identical twins Aaron and Moses Merritt have hardly ever been separated. Now, married to sisters, they live in the same house, work for the same company, and think of their "twin families" as one family. It's a mighty happy one, too. Kathryn and Moses' three children, Moses, Jr., Cassandra, and Karen, are almost the same age as Charlie Mae and Aaron's oldest three, Aaron, Jr., Jane, and Freda. And the family "babies," Cynthia, David, and Darrell, get just as much love and attention from Aunt Kathryn, Uncle Moses, and their cousins as they do from their own parents, sisters, and brother.

Food-buying's another family affair. Naturally, it takes a lot of groceries for twin families—and naturally, every week's marketing includes plenty of Pet Evaporated Milk! All nine of the children were Pet Milk babies. Both Charlie Mae and Kathryn are enthusiastic about Pet Milk for cooking, use it for all their desserts, gravies, hot breads—with coffee, too. And thrifty Pet Evaporated Milk saves them money every week, because it costs less generally than any other form of whole milk!

Top Salesman for Unity Mutual Insurance Company, Aaron has been with company 14 years, Moses 12. Both sell life, endowment, and burial insurance. After hours, they enjoy Cub Scout work with sons Aaron, Jr. and Moses, Jr.

Coffee Time and all four Merritts say Pet Evaporated Milk makes coffee extra good. Sharing housework gives Charlie Mae and Kathryn time for work with Mother's Club of Corpus Christi Parish, where Aaron and Moses are active in Holy Name Society, members of Usher's Board.
