REFORM WITHIN PARTY ONCE MORE ON TRIAL

In a letter printed in the Baltimore Sun a few days ago Mr. William L. Marbury outlined at length his reason for supporting Senator Lee for the Democratic nomination for Governor and told why he believed the rank and file of the party should rally to the Senator's support. Among other things, Mr. Marbury said:

"The kind of leadership which we have had in the State, the leadership which has perpetuated itself through the distribution of personol favors without the rendition of public service, and regards, with indignation, the candidacy of any Democrat who does not bear the stamp of its approval, is contrary to the spirit of our primary election system. I hope after the campaign such leadership will be a thing of the past and that our good friend, Mr. Furst, may look at the matter very differently when the full object of the primary law has been accomplished and the wisdom of it is thoroughly demonstrated to such busy men as himself.

"The man who is elected Governor of Maryland ought to owe his nomination to his strength with the people at large—with the masses of the party—so that he will not be under too much obligation to any one individual. When the people elect a man Governor they want him to be the responsible head—to be their Governor—they don't want him to be anybody else's Governor."

In plainer words, Mr. Marbury means that the Democrats must choose between the Democratic State organization, the crowd that has controlled State affairs with an occasional interim for many years, rotating from office to office and place to place, and new leadership selected by the voters themselves. He would change the complexion of affairs for a while and see if better results in State administration will not follow the introduction of new blood.

If there are Democrats who are skeptical of the organization's will and power to stand in the way of progressive, businesslike legislation and administration their memories may be refreshed by harking back to Governor Crothers' term. Then we had an excellent illustration of what the organization can do to thwart a strong, determined Governor who finds himself at loggerheads with the machine.

Mr. Crothers was selected by the organization for the Governorship and elected by it. He was a machine man. But when he became Governor he turned out to be a man of vision. He had a desire to be of service to the State. As he grew in public favor, by demonstrating exective capacity and unusual industry, he lost favor with the Organization. By the time his term was half finished he was at outs with the leaders, and when his successor was chosen, in spite of the fact that Governor Crothers' record had met strong public approval, he was unsatisfactory to the organization and was turned down to make way for Mr. Gorman.

The break came because Governor Crothers showed independence and had viewed public policies from the standpoint of their effect upon public interests. He was unmanageable and therefore obnoxious to the State crowd. He was broken and went to his grave a disappointed man because he chose to stand by the people rather than the organization.

In the old days, before the direct primary, Democrats had to go outside of the party in order to reform it. Even now it is a man's size job to defeat the organization. Governor Crothers couldn't do it in the direct primary, because he was a sick man at the close of his term and did not court the bruising, expensive fight he would have been forced to make. But at least the direct primary presents opportunity for reform within the party and there are a large number of good Democrats who think with Mr. Marbury that this is a good chance to do it. There is no doubt that Senator Lee's nomination means a shake-up in party control and Democrats who believe that that is a desirable consummation should aid in the work.—Baltimore City News.

SAYS GARRETT IS FOR LEE.

Mr. Thomas J. Browning, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee in the Western Shore County Pays his Respects to Davey Lewis.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: At the recent meeting of the Democratic State committee held in Baltimore, after the transaction of important business, those attending were the guests of General Vandiver at luncheon, and after that a general exchange of views was discussed by county and city members of the committee. I was surprised and delighted to see the interest manifested in the candidacy of Senator Blair Lee for the Governorship.

Among others that I discussed the situation with was Senator Smith, the sponsor of Mr. Harrington, and when he asked about the situation in Garrett I stated that Blair Lee would surely carry our county by a vote of three to one in the primaries; whereupon Senator Smith stated thad he could not understand why Lee wanted to step down from the United States Senate to be the Governor. I replied that he probably did so for the same reason that Senator Smith reigned from a seat in Congress to become a United States Senator, and that it was simply a matter of choice with Senator Lee after the appeal had been made to him by leading Democrats from all sections of his State. The reply to the senior Senator effectually closed him up, and he departed for more congenial company.

Another representative of the party who should in all reason have remained the friend of Senator Lee is now strenuously engaged in waging a relentless warfare on the stump against that gentleman. I refer to David J. Lewis, representative in Congress from this district, who admitted to the writer as well as many others that he owed his last election to the Hon. Blair Lee and to the party organization in the several counties. The ingratitude displayed by Lewis to Senator Lee and the county organizations shows him to be unworthy of the honors we have bestowed upon him in the past. He is now engaged in stabbing in the back the very people who were his defenders and staunch supporters in the past.

Garrett county will be heard from in the primary election and she will give Blair Lee an unqualified indorsement, without question or doubt.

THOMHS J. BROWNING,
Chairman of Committee.
