Morgan Founder's Day Talk pleads for world integration

Pleas for an end of "class distinctions" and for the making of "world integration" through recognition of the colored race as first-class citizens were made Monday by Dr. Harold L. Trigg, president of St. Augustine's college in Raleigh, N.C.

Dr. Trigg, a 1913 graduate of Morgan State college, delivered the address at the assembly observance of the 86th Founders' Day of the institution.

Predicting that after segregation goes, "social class problems will take the place of race problems," Dr. Trigg:

Called the lack of leadership one of the race's major problems;

Declared that the colored race is the greatest weapon towards world integration;

And predicted that if this Supreme Court "does not eliminate a major obstacle toward world integration, then another will."

A member of the North Carolina state board of education, he did not specify Supreme Court action on school integration, but obviously referred to it in his prediction.

Class Distinctions

On the matter of class distinctions, Dr. Trigg said:

"It is possible by law to eliminate problems of racial discrimination, but class distinctions cannot be remedied by law. We must learn to grow out of them."

Economic conditions alone would make it difficult for colored people to be integrated and class distinctions would prevail, Dr. Trigg said.

He pointed out that not a single colored person earns a million dollar-a-year salary and therefore there would not be one in the upper class.

Only about 2 per cent could be integrated in the middle class, he said.

Potent Weapon

Describing the present conflict as a battle for "world integration," with Russia trying to make people unified through force, Dr. Trigg declared that the colored person is the most potent weapon in this struggle.

Russia, he said, has learned to use the American colored person, holding him up to the other darker peoples of the world as something they would not like to become.

He suggested that "instead of wasting time resurrecting dead communists," the United States could fight Russian propaganda by making the colored person a symbol of democracy.

He pointed out that the colored American is handicapped by lack of leadership.

"There are 780 physicians for every white person in the population, but only one for every 3,600 Negroes," he said. He also cited the lack of dentists, with one for every 270 persons, but one dentist for 9,000 colored persons.

Dr. Trigg urged that colored people be not ashamed of what they are, and challenged them to "help this country interpret democracy to the world."

He was introduced by James H. Carter, assistant to the president.

The significance of Founders' Day was emphasized by President Martin D. Jenkins who made brief remarks. The college choir, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy H. Banks, sang.

School girls' choir makes concert debut

The Douglass high school Girls Choir under the direction of Marion T. Smith made its formal concert debut in the Baltimore Youth Guild's, "Young Artist Concert Series."

The performance on Nov. 15 attracted musicians and students and was vigorously applauded.

The 75-voice ensemble program featured Daniel Comegys, tenor; Barbara Dungee, soprano; Veronica Tyler, soloist; Doris Oswell and Hazel Stewart, pianists.

This was the initial concert of the scholarship aid series sponsored by the guild; and the project under the supervision of Richard G. Richardson Jr., director, is in its second annual season.

The second concert will present William Frank and ensemble from the Juilliard School of Dance with the Booker T. Dance school directed by Miss Mattie F. Whyte in the Madison ave. YWCA auditorium on Sunday Dec. 13th.

USO-GI Pal dinner for Nov. postponed

The USO-GI Pal dinner scheduled for Nov. 30 at the Emerson Hotel, has been postponed until sometime in January or February due to the forthcoming holidays.

USO officials feel if the dinner is held at a later date, more businessmen and dignitaries can afford to attend and make the affair a success.

The same service men will be invited and will be notified of the exact date later on.

SUPPORTS NAACP—Mrs. Virginia Keasley made a $5 contribution to the Baltimore NAACP for its legal redress work.

ASSEMBLY WEEK SPEAKER

Dr. George Edmund Haynes, first of his race to receive the Ph.D. degree from Columbia University and first to graduate from the New York School of Social Work, will be assembly week speaker at Morgan college, Wednesday, Dec. 4 at 10 a.m. in the gymnasium.

AUCTION SCHEDULED

A trustee's sale of a brick apartment house 202 Barclay st., will be held on Dec. 11 at 3:30 p.m. A deposit of $50 will be required at the time of sale. The building is subject to an annual ground rent of $98.

Robert Wilson, Morgan student, concert soloist

The Bureau of Music announced this week that the young tenor Robert Wilson, will be the substitute soloist for the concert to be given on Dec. 4. Mr. Wilson will replace the original soloist, Fannie S. Newton, who had an unfortunate accident which will prevent her from appearing.

This concert will be at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Douglass high school, under the direction of the director and conductor of the Baltimore City Orchestra and Chorus, Harrison M. Dodd.

Mr. Wilson is now a student at Morgan State college and appeared several years ago at a concert given by the Bureau of Music. At that time, he gave a thrilling performance and was wildly acclaimed.

The orchestra and chorus will present selections from Tschaikowsky, Wagner, Handel, Strauss, Rodgers and many other outstanding composers.

Minister says Golden rule helps relations

Practicing the Golden Rule in regard to members of minority groups was urged last week by a Lutheran minister as a means to advance race relations.

TOLEDO, Ohio (ANP) — The Rev. C. Umhau Wolf, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, told 200 members of the Ohio Area Brotherhood of the American Lutheran Church, meeting in nearby Hamlar, that they should stand up and be counted in everyday living.

In Memoriams

BARRETT—In loving memory of my dear mother and cousin AGNES MURRAY, who passed away November 24, 1949. Flowers will bloom in the summer,
In the autumn it will rain.
But the face of our dear mother
We would love to see again.
Mother, when the violets open
And the flowers in beauty wave,
We'll gather up some bunches
And lay them gently on your grave.
So often do we wander
To the place where you are laid.
And think if God had only left you,
Longer on earth with us to stay.
Loving Daughter,
MYRTLE MURRAY HARPER
Cousin, HENRIETTA JOHNSON

FATHER AND CHILDREN

GROSS—A birthday tribute to our dear son BYRON CASSELL, November 26th.
Birthdays are gay when you were here,
Sorrow is now your portion.
Now you're gone, I miss you so
No gift, no kiss, no you to bestow.
Only a wish, a wish that is true
Everyone dear, just for you
I'll always remember as time goes by
And in my heart you'll never die.
Loving Mother, VICTORIA

JONES—In loving memory of my dearest mother, FLORENCE who passed away November 26, 1945.
On mother dear, when you were here,
We had your tender care.
And none can ever take your place
Or fill that vacant chair
You were the sunlight of our home
Till God took you away
But we never will forget you.
And we'll meet in Heaven, some day.
Devoted Daughter and Son-in-Law ANNIE MAE and WILLIAM ANDERSON
