FLORIDA VS. PRAIRIE VIEW:

Mythical national grid championship at stake in Orange Blossom classic

(By ANP)

The Prairie View Panthers trampled a listless Southern eleven 20 to 0 Saturday to remain one of the nation's only two undefeated and untied football teams.

On Saturday, Dec. 5, the Panthers will face the Florida A. and M. Rattlers, also undefeated and untied, in the Orange Blossom Classic in Miami, Fla. The winner of this clash will claim the mythical national championship among the nation's college teams.

Two other teams, Lincoln (Mo.) and Tennessee State, are unbeaten, but they tied each other.

Nine M. A. Ross

Prairie View and Florida will enter the Orange Blossom Classic unbeaten and untied in nine games. Here are their records.

PRAIRIE VIEW: Defeated Bishop (40-19); Jackson (61-0); Wiley (32-0); Morris Brown (27-15); Arkansas AM and N (34-6); Texas college ((27-7) Grambling (32-0); Langston (27-0) and Southern (20-0) for a total of 300 points to 47.

FLORIDA A. and M.: whipped Texas college 33-0; Benedict, 45-0; Fort Valley, 31-0; Morris Brown (30-0) Xavier (65-0) Bethune-Cookman, (39-8); A. and T. (33-13); Allen, (28-10); and Southern, (33-25) for a total of 327 points to 55.

The Pigskin huddle already has picked Florida A. and M. to win, but judging by Prairie View's one-sided victory over Southern, an upset could be in the making.

In last Saturday's battle, Southern never threatened too much. The first quarter was scoreless, but Prairie View broke the deadlock in the second period when Charlie (Choo Choo) Brackins connected with a 24-yard touchdown pass to Olen Mooring.

Mooring scored again when he recovered Clifton Duckworth's punt attempt on the Southern 10-yard line. In the final quarter John Payton raced 45 yards for the final Prairie View tally. Brackins converted twice.

Conference Champs

The victory also gave Prairie View the Southwestern Conference championship. It was Southern's second loss of the season after scoring seven straight victories. The Jaguar Cat will close the season Saturday in New Orleans in their traditional tilt with the Xavier Gold Rush.

Yanks win football title; all-star game scheduled

The New Era Yanks, managed by Ashton Short, won by forfeit from Hillock A.C. last Sunday to take the championship of the Bureau of Recreation's Monumental Senior Football League.

The victory was the sixth straight in the league competition for the unbeaten Yanks, and gave them their first football championship.

The surprising Browns A.C., coached by Bill Lampkins, upset the Cherry Hill Ramblers at Cherry Hill Park 12-0 for their second straight win to take second place in the second round.

The Browns who lost all three of their first round games without scoring a touchdown, lost only to the Yanks by a 13-12 score in the second round.

All-Star Game Scheduled

A league all-star game has been scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 6, 1:00 p.m. at Easterwood Park with the champion New Era Yanks playing the Monumental Senior League All-Stars. Eight three league teams comprise players from each of the other the All-Stars, who are to be coached by Bill Lampkins.

Colt stars visit Carver

AFRO Editor among speakers at school

Carver High school teachers and students heard two members of the Baltimore Colts professional football team at a morning assembly at the school Monday.

The occasion was the annual Letter Award exercises held in honor of the football squad, and guests were quarterback George Taliaferro and tackle Gino Marchetti of the Colts, both of whom talked.

Taliaferro told of having attended a Father-Son Day affair at St. James church on Sunday, and urged the youngsters to recognize the importance of such ties between themselves and their parents.

AFRO Editor Speaks

Marchetti pointed up the need for developing the body and mind through clean living and thinking. Later AFRO Sports Editor, Sam Lacy, spoke briefly on the value of athletics as a weapon for combatting the juvenile delinquent problem.

The players then participated in a forum discussion during which they answered questions directed at them by the student-body. After this, they handed out the Varsity Award Certificate along with Carver coach Lloyd White.

The latter part of the program was enthusiastically received because of the humor injected into their answers by the two stars.

Principal Saul Perdue closed the assembly with a tribute to the Colts football team in general and appreciation to Taliaferro and Marchetti in particular, for using their spare time for a visit to Carver.

Golf committee to meet at YMCA

Under the sponsorship of six committee members, the Druid Hill YMCA golf clinic will meet Dec. 7, 14, and 21.

On Monday, Dec. 7, the clinic will study pitching, chipping, and putting. On the 14th classes will be devoted to woods and irons.

The clinic on the 12th and 28th will concern itself with grip, stance, swing and trouble shots.

Members of the committee are Herbert Bass, Mrs. Marguerite Brown, Mrs. Bernice Johnson, Mrs. Marie Murphy, Robert A. Wallace, and Walter Stewart.

Persons interested in taking part in the clinic scheduled for Jan. 11 may contact members of the committee or call LA-3-4464 for further information.

Recreation Notes

Lexington Center

A pre-Thanksgiving party was given by the Lexionian Troupers, a group of junior girls, on Nov. 24, in the music room of the Lexington Street Center.

The program was conducted by Enolia Goodwin, student leader from Morgan State college, and represented one of the many projects planned by the group over a six-week period.

The party was supervised by Miss Zelma P. Thompson, senior recreation leader, and Miss Grace Evrell, student at Morgan State college.

Prizes were awarded to winners in the following games and contest: Passing the pumpkin, turkey treasure hunt, word scramble, and a Pilgrim-U.S. Indian Relay.

Cloverdale Playground

On Monday 45 teen agers enjoyed an evening of Roller Skating on the Cloverdale Court. The skating party was under the direction of Miss Faye Flanagan.

Tuesday the Teen Council held its first Thanksgiving supper and dance.

The event was planned by Teen Council leader Mrs. Madelyne Futch. Some of the highlights were games and singing. Those present were as follows:

Margaret Smith, Dorsey Skinner, Joan Carr; Louise Hawkins, Madeline Davis, Arthell Catlette, Shirley Forrest, Irene Wright, Warnetta Snowden, Bernard Morton, Edward Waters, Joseph Brooks of Loyola college, James Hughes of Morgan college, Harold Jennifer and C. C. Jackson, supervisors from the Bureau of Recreation.

On Wednesday the children's Thanksgiving play and program were held at Cloverdale. Miss Frances Flanagan was in charge of the program. Thirty-five children were present in the 6 to 12 age group.

Wednesday, the Pre-Teens of Cloverdale held their pre-Thanksgiving dance. Approximately 55 pre-teens were present. Edward and Elmer Bush arranged the affair.

East Baltimore Centers

The East Baltimore Community Centers presented a Thanksgiving Pageant on Nov. 25 at the Somerset Homes Recreation Center.

The cast included Barbara Horne, Bernice Stanley, Dorothy Stanley, Edna Gant, June Skipwirth, Brenda Grant, Katherine Grant, Doris Grant, Marian Grant, Jean Callen, Shirley Callen, Patricia Bailey, Catherine Coleman, Carolyn Keeley, Reda Banks and Earl Jones.

Robert Smith, Wallace Chester, Leonard Stepney, Larry Faulcon, James Faulcon, Joyce Faulcon, Geraldine Faulcon, Dolores Austin, Esther Williams, Carolyn Williams, Barbara Cloude, Barbara Gray, Elizabeth Hardy, Cecelia Hardy, Connie Ward and Darly Sommerville.

Robert Harrison, Phillip Harrison, Veda Hall, Rhonda Hall, Ernestine Rivers, Regina Brown, Rosena Brown, Carl Fields, Geraldine Kess, Sandra Whitaker, Carl Whitaker, Carol Gray, Nathaniel Rivers, Jerome Kess, Barbara Tate, Anita Oliver, Emanuel Oliver, Dorothy Oliver, Deborah Jackson and Victoria Jackson.

Leaders in charge of the production were Annabelle Ruffin, John Faulkner, Laura Lipscomb, L. C. Nixon of the Chick Webb Center; Lucille Sharp of Somerset Homes; and Mary Clark of Douglass Homes. The program was sponsored by the Bureau of Recreation.

Chick Webb Center

The Chick Webb Junior Choral Group celebrated the birthdays of three of its members Wednesday. Among those feted for the month of December were: Doris Grant, June Skipwith and Juanita Jones.

Other members of the choral group include: Bernice Stanley, Dorothy Stanley, Edna Gant, Brenda Grant, Katherine Grant, Shirley Callen, Reda Banks and Barbara Horne.

A ping pong tournament was held at Webb Center last week. Alfred Crew won the event from Emmanuel Brown. Wayne Harvell placed third.

Billiard classes were culminated with a test and beginner's tournament. The tournament was won by Benjamin Henson; Holly was second and Sylvester James was third. Among those who participated were Rudolph Williams, Howard Bush, Earl Jones, Heron Jackson, Grant Harvis and Walter Opher. Opher won the tournament among the older boys.

Members of the Pen and Pencil Club helped with the Thanksgiving play at Somerset Gym. George Jones and Floyd Thomas painted a backdrop for the play.

The Ravens, midget basketball team, wil lmake its debut this season as part of the city-wide program. Team members are: Ralph Dickerson, coach; Earl Clark, assistant coach; Frederick Chandler, James Bell, Edward Brown, Elliott Ruff, Adam Goodson, Sylvester Conigland, Guther Chandler, Leon Boone, Melvin Muse, and Jerry Lee.

The Junior Teen-age girls of Chick Webb held a table tenis tournament, on November 19. Winners were Ruby Gresham, first; Ruth Floyd, second; Doris Jones, third; and Cassandra Howard, fourth.

All beginners in the Chick Webb Center swimming class are now able to swim at least 70 yards on their stomach and on their backs.

All intermediates have mastered the three basic kicks: scissors, breaststroke and flutter. They are now in the process of coordinating the arms, breathing and legs, and treading water.

The swimmers and advanced class members are learning the nine basic strokes with the advanced group striving to perfect the strokes, while the beginners are drilling in the basic fundamental.

Examination week has been scheduled for the 3rd or 4th week in January. Classes began Oct. 1st and end Jan. 30th. New classes begin Feb. 1, 1954. For further information, visit the center at 623 N. Eden st. or call Di 2-3660.

Cherry Hill Center

Five of the Cherry Hill Community Center clubs held special Thanksgiving programs and parties at the Community Center last week. The groups made their own favors and table decorations.

Among those giving parties were the Beavers, the Pals, Poly Pigtails, Rangers, Missettes and Regular Fellows. Morgan State College student volunteers were in charge of preparation and program for the groups. They were Misses Margaret Bailey, Joyce Lyles and Vivian Rowland.

The Silverettes, a teen age girls club is the newest organization at the Cherry Hill Community Center.

The group meets every Monday at 6 p.m. and is made up of Junior teens ages 13 to 14 years. Officers are: Elvira Martin, president; Jacquelyn Williams, vice president; Joyce Speaks, secretary; and Charlotte Robinson, treasurer.

The Cherry Hill Center is completing the organization of basketball teams to participate in the franchise leagues operating at P.S. 160, at Carter, G. Woodson Center. The teams will represent the various age groups in municipal sports sponsored by the Bureau of Recreation.

The Cavaliers are a well organized club and are featuring Larry West, Robert Stewart, Charles Wootson, Ronald Thompson, Harold Dent, Walter Wilson, Adolphus Armstrong, Stanley Matthews, Samuel Lomax, Gerald Jackson and Donald Parker.

In the Cherry Hill Junior League (14-16) the Bisons, softball champions this past season, are ready to play. The Bisons boast of having the best organized team in the city with identification cards, contracts and franchise fee already secured.

The Bisons are represented by Donald Travers, Ronald Jenkins, Tyrone Rice, Donald Reid, Milton Smith, Carroll Alexander, Ernest Johnson, William Cottman, Anton Dorsey, Jerome Wiggins and Allen Douglass.

Cooper fights Saturday

WASHINGTON

Jimmy Cooper, popular local featherweight who traded spectacular knockouts with Gene Smith in two exciting duels here a few months ago, returns to the local spotlight Saturday night.

Cooper has been matched eight rounds with Ike Chestnut, former National AAU champion and a stablemate of Johnny Bratton, in a bout that will be co-featured along with the 10-round welterweight match involving Carmine Fiore and Phil "Wildcat" Kim.

The Kim-Fiore bout is set for 9 p.m., and will be telecast nationally over the American Broadcasting Company's network, but will be blacked out in the Washington area.

Cleveland Browns clinch East title

CLEVELAND (ANP) — The fabulous Cleveland Browns, the nation's only unbeaten pro team, rose from the brink to upset the Chicago Cardinals 27 to 16 and clinch the Eastern conference title of the National Football league.

A crowd of 24,409 shivered in 23-degree temperature to see the Browns, behind 14 to 10 at the end of the third quarter, rally for 17 points and victory in the final period.

Helping the Browns gain their 10th straight triumph were fullbacks, Marion Motley and Sherman Howard, ends, Len Ford and Horace Gillom, the punt expert, and guard, Bill Willis.

For the Cardinals' tackle, George Gilchrist Jr. played a strong game on defense, and Willie Carter and Jack Spinks performed in the backfield.

Macon paces Bears to win over Rams

CHICAGO (ANP) — Playing as the Bears of old, the underdog Chicago Bears upset the Los Angeles Rams 24 to 21, Sunday, thus virtually eliminating the Rams from the Western conference title race in the National Football league.

Eddie Macon was moved up to starting left half for the Bears because of his recent showings on offense. He did not score Sunday, but he was a constant threat. Also in the Chicago lineup were tackle, Art Davis and halfback, Billy Anderson.

One of the chief causes for the L. A. disaster was an injury to their great fullback, Dan (Deacon) Towler, in the first period.

Outstanding for the Rams, however, were fullback, Paul (Tank) Younger and Dick (Night Train) Lane. Younger played an outstanding game as an offensive fullback and also on defense. He scored two TD's, bulled through the line and caught several passes.
