Yule comes early for Susan King

PHILADELPHIA

Santa came so swiftly and with so many presents. And, although it was Friday (Dec. 4), it was Christmas for little Susan.

She didn't know, really, that Dec. 25 was 21 days away or that her Santa was only cardboard, borrowed hurriedly from a south Philadelphia candy store.

Christmas for Susan had to come early, or it might not come at all. The three-year-old child's doctors have said she is dying from an incurable brain disease.

Just A Weekend

Susan lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William King of 2317 Poplar Grove st., Baltimore, Md. The mother, Doris, brought Susan and her brother, James, 7, to Philadelphia for a week end with Mrs. James Davenport and her husband, who live at 1907 Christian st.

Members of the AFRO Home Service League learned that the child was in town and made immediate plans for the Cristmas party.

The Christian Street YMCA furnished a room for the gathering, without charge. At the request of the AFRO, Breyer's provided free ice cream, Platt's Candys of 1336 South st., donated the "sweets."

HAPPY THREESOME — For the first time in two years the children of Mr. and Mrs. James Glasco at 2433 Barclay st., had toys to play with Thursday. Three of their five children, James, 6; Shirley, 3; and Randolph, 5, celebrated their last Christmas in 1951. Since then both parents have been ill with heart trouble and unable to work. In need of clothing, food, and money, more than 20 people came to their assistance this week after a story describing their condition appeared in the AFRO.

Among Other Contributors

Money came from the Philadelphia AFRO staff members, a large doll from the Bureau for Colored Children, Shoes from Shapiro's children store at 213-15 S. 52nd st. and clothes from Freda Women's apparel, 1516 South st.

Among individuals contributing either clothes or money or both were: Mrs. Mary F. Adams, Natie Sims, Mrs. Julia Evans, Mrs. Josie Smith, Mrs. Betty Stokes, Baby Timothy Haywood, Mrs. Ida Howerton, Mrs. Virginia Hudgeons and Mrs. Clara Smith.

There was not time enough for the Home Service League to go out and find a "real" Christmas tree. And so, they borrowed a cardboard Santa and with him created the true "spirit" of Christmas.

Susan Limps

Little Susan limped among more than 25 other children her own age, who came to share the festive occasion.

There was no hair on Susan's head. Instead, there were scars and long lacerations, marks of a brain operation performed, last June, at the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore.

The child's mother explained her limping. She said it resulted from a nerve injury during the operation, which cost $1,001.

In Appreciation

This was followed by daily radium treatments, costing $7.50 each.

"I am only a house wife and my husband is a merchant seaman. Without the financial help from kind hearted people, my little Susan might be dead this moment.

"I am grateful — truly, truly garteful," the mother said, almost in tears.

Little Susan has no idea that her mother is taking her back to the hospital Dec. 15 for a check up. Mrs. King is hoping the news will be good.

Earnestly Said

As the child stumbled among her playmates around Santa, mothers of the other children were almost breathless, believing Susan would fall to the floor and bring further injury to her self.

"Be careful . . . don't push her . . . don't, don't, don't" — all were spoken in the interest of the playmates, who did not seem to realize the condition of the little girl.

Still Susan's eyes were big and bright and clear. In themselves, they told no story of insanity. They appeared to indicate the atmosphere of the moment: life, happiness and many friends to play with.

Without Another Word

One woman said to another while viewing the gifts: "Santa has been very kind to Susan." The other replied in sympathy, "I wonder." Each, in turn, there after, fingered the pajamas, shoes, dresses, socks and under wear, then the were silent.

Whatever their thoughts might have been, it was truly Christmas for little Susan. She had a wonderful time. She laughed. She played and made new friends. And then is that ever-lasting question: When, how, why?

PULMONARY TB

"Death from pulmonary tuberculosis have been cut about 50 per cent since the end of World War II, but TB is still attacking 115,000 people in the United States every year.

spends the day and part of the night paying with her six dolls.

"We are taking her back to Hopkins for an examination this Tuesday, and I hope the doctors will have some good news," Mrs. Moon declared.

Among those who contributed to the family was the congregation of Trinity Baptist church, the Jolly Six Club, and 17 employees of the Consolidated Gas and Electric company.

Gas company contributors were: Walter Neal, Lennie Jefferson, Frank Golden, E. Epps, R. Rozzell, W. Bryant, G. Washington, E. Collins, E. Pinkney, E. Byrd, and H. Cook.

Also, R. Lunn, W. R. Johnson, W. Archer, T. Smith, W. James, and W. Donavant.

The following persons also visited the Moon home and left contributions:

Mesdames Doris Cain, 2317 Poplar Grove st.; Daisy Edwards 205 West st.; Lillian Jenkins, 735 21st st.; Naomi Force, Beulah Barber, Elna Jernigan, Linnie Copps, Mary Coleman, Miss Debra Williams, and Mr. DePall.

Others included Mrs. Elaine Smith, 422 Canal st., Washington, D.C.; Mrs. Hazel Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bright, George Williams, Mrs. Sarah Wheeler, Miss Ida Lewis, Jimmie Lewis, Arthur C. Jackson, and Mrs. Lee.

Letter Received

Three letters with contributions, enclosed were received from unidentified "friends." One of the contributors was Mrs. Dorisi King, mother of Susan King. The King child also has a brain tumor. Her condition was described in the AFRO 12 weeks ago.

The Moons recorded the names of most of their visitors. Mr. Glasco, however, failed to do so but was able to estimate that at least 20 people visited his home.

"I think God," he said, "that people have responded the way they have. They have been wonderful."

The five Glasco children all received clothing and toys. The mother of the family, Mrs. Shirley Glasco, received two pairs of shoes Tuesday, and a "couple of dresses Friday."

Mr. Glasco has not been so fortunate. So far he has received nothing. "I'm not bothered by that," he said, "I'm concerned about my family."

Two of the most prized possessions in the Glasco household can be found in the living room. They include a minature garage and filling station, and a junior size pool table. The family was also given a small dinette set.

Two of their contributions were from St. Paul Baptist church, and Mt. Zion Baptist church.

was abandoned- police found Kiltreil walking along the railroad tracks outside of town. In his pocket they found a slip of paper containing Harmanta's name and address.

Arrested and released in bail of $10,000 Harmanta failed to answer a summons to appear for trial. On a tip from Baltimore police he was arrested two weeks later near Enfield.

Police say that the Cotten brothers were taken for a "ride" by the rest of the gang when it became known that they were going to testify for the state. Mason and Slowe were seized in Baltimore last April.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

In the first Christmas Seal Sale in the United States in 1907, $3,000 was raised to aid a few needy tuberculosis patients. In 1952, the Christmas Seal Sale raised $23,200,000 to fight TB through health education, medical research, case finding, and rehabilitation.

for a civil court and asked Magistrate E. Everett Lane to deny the warrant request.

She testified that the furnishings she removed from the premises belonged to her, and that she had removed them only after consultation with her lawyer.

At that time, Magistrate Lane postponed a decision when both lawyers agreed to submit briefs supporting their contentions. In the meantime, the civil suit was filed and Magistrate Lane said, Thursday, he had received a letter from Dr. Gilkes asking that his request for a warrant be dismissed.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles
Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

End 6-year marriage after hubby moves to 2nd floor

Mrs. Lois Cockey of 2805 Denham Circle, who testified that James L. Cockey moved out of their apartment and set up housekeeping on the second floor of the same house, divorced him this week.

The wife said that they were married in 1946 and that the union ended in 1952 following an argument over his staying away from home until a late hour.

She said he left their apartment on the first floor of the two-apartment house they were buying, and remained away for a month. He moved back, but into the second floor apartment, where he is still living, she says.

Mr. Cockey agreed to pay her $1000 for her interest in the house.

Tard Deserted

Mrs. Dilcie Ann Tard of 2022 W. Fayette st. also won a divorce from Chastine Tard on grounds of desertion.

The couple, married in 1926, separated in 1951.

Mrs. Tard, represented by Mrs. Juanita Mitchell, attorney, said that he refused to pay rent, that they were on the verge of being put out of their home, and that he left.

She added that the desertion was not the first time he had left her, that he had left many times, but has not returned since Oct. 26, 1951.

Her maiden name, Bowman, was restored.

Roy S. Bond was attorney for John B. Crawford, 2005 Pulaski st., who divorced Mrs. Evelyn Crawford.

Mr. Crawford, 51, said that his 28-year-old wife left him in 1951, after two years of marriage.

Wins release when witness changes mind

Failure of the prosecution's chief witness to make a positive identification resulted on Wednesday in the dismissal of a man charged with "burglariously breaking and entering" an apartment with the intention of committing a felony.

Magistrate E. Everett Lane ordered Ollie Lipscomb, 41, of the 1600 block Harlem ave., released when Miss Majorie Martinez of the 1100 block Park ave., changed her mind several times on the question of Lipscomb's identity.

The charge against Lipscomb was made by Miss Dora Day of the Park ave. address, who said that a chemical analysis of several jars of her personal cosmetics, showed that the contents had been doctored with a liberal dose of lye.

Selected Lipscomb

She also charged that on the day the cosmetics had been tampered with, Miss Martinez had seen a man come from the direction of her (Miss Day's) apartment.

On Wednesday when Miss Martinez was asked to pick out the man she reportedly saw, she looked about the courtroom at Northwestern police station for several minutes before she selected Lipscomb.

A few moments later Miss Martinez told Magistrate Lane that Lipscomb was not the man, but a few minutes later she changed her mind again and said that Lipscomb was the man.

After listening to an argument by Lipscomb's lawyer, Michael Freedman, that the identification was faulty, Magistrate Lane dismissed the charge.

During her testimony, Miss Day said that at one time she and Lipscomb had been friends.

SUSPECT IN BURGLARY Spot

Charged with breaking into and taking $25 from a cash register at the Arundel Ice Cream Company 629 Ainsquith st., a week ago, Charles Allen, 19, of the 1500 block E. Monument st., pleaded not guilty and was held in bail of $1,000 in Northeastern police court on Thursday.

WOULD YOU PAY $50.00 FOR A BOTTLE OF RYE?
One man did! In 1937, a Baltimore moll-millionaire's wine cellar was sold at auction. A quart of Maryland straight rye bottled in 1911 sold for $50! The very same man who made that prized bottle of rye is making RYEBROOK, Maryland Straight Rye today! His name is Frank L. Wight. Ryebrook is the delightful result of Mr. Wight's 50 years of distilling experience. Real rye! True, traditional rye! "The Flavor Of Maryland Rye!" It wasn't cost you $50! In fact, it's only $4.75 a fifth, plus taxes. But no amount of money could buy finer, tastier rye!
Ryebrook is straight rye whiskey, 5 years old. 86 Proof. The Cockeysville Distilling Co., Inc., Cockeysville, Md.
