CONSTIPATED?

Then read how Clara Ligon of New York, N. Y. solved her problem!

"Most of the laxatives I tried in the past were either too harsh or too slow! Then I discovered gentle, speedy Sal Hepatica . . . and now I feel like a new person! It's the best relief I've ever had from constipation.

"Now, if I wake up with that headachy, logy feeling due to constipation, I take Sal Hepatica before breakfast, and get speedy, gentle relief—usually within an hour!"

Yes, take sparkling Sal Hepatica before breakfast and feel fine again . . . usually within an hour. Or, take it in the evening one-half hour before supper and feel fine again by bedtime! Sweetens your stomach, too! So keep Sal Hepatica handy in your medicine chest.

Safety agencies warn against holiday hazard

As part of the holiday hazards home safety campaign conducted by the Baltimore Safety Council, the Fire Department this week is distributing fire safety booklets through chain stores in Baltimore.

The plan was put into operation in an effort to induce the city to be on the alert for potential hazards that may mar the holiday season.

With regards to Christmas trees the Council offers this advice.

Safety Precautions

Keep the tree in a container of water and away from sources of heat; use only wiring in first class condition; turn lights off if no one is to be in the room; never permit smoking near the tree under any circumstances; and when the tree starts to dry out, get rid of it.

The Council further warns:

If decorations are to be used about the house do not permit them near chairs or places where people are apt to smoke, keep plenty of ash trays handy as an added precaution; and never use candles in windows or on the tree; and keep curtains or other flammable material pulled back at least six inches from any electric light.

Use non-flammable decorations only or fire proof them properly. This may be done by using a solution of nine ounces of borax and four ounces of boric acid in a gallon of water.

Once the solution is mixed, the fabric or material should be dipped in the solution, wrung by hand and allowed to dry. This is especially important in the case of costumes.

Driver gets record term

SALISBURY, Md.— The stiffest penalty in the 26-year history of People's Court was imposed here Monday on a driver who pleaded guilty to four charges of manslaughter that grew out of a traffic accident on Dec. 13.

Charles H. Roberts, 35, of Delmar, Md., was sentenced to 14 years in prison and fined $5,500, the maximum penalty allowed by the law. Failure to pay the fines would mean an additional year and five months in prison.

Roberts was sentenced after he waived a jury trial and pleaded to four charges of manslaughter, a count of leaving the scene of an accident and a final charge of swearing falsely to an affidavit when he obtained his driver's license in 1949.

Four In Death Car

The manslaughter charges were based on the deaths of Moses Freda, 31, a ministerial student from Green Lane, Pa., and his wife and their two daughters.

The Freda's automobile was struck as it moved with the green light at a Salisbury intersection. The vehicle was knocked into a filling station, turned over and caught fire.

Freda and his daughters were burned to death while Mrs. Freda, who was thrown from the car, died on the way to a local hospital.

Police said that when Roberts' car struck Freda's auto, he was moving at close to 65 miles an hour and went through the intersection on a red light.

Following the accident, Roberts fled to Laurel, Del., where he was arrested the next day.

State income tax forms out

J. Millard Tawes, comptroller of the treasury for Maryland announced this week, some 588,000 residents will receive reminders during the coming week that it is state income tax paying time again.

The forms are being sent to that many Marylanders for their use in filing their income tax returns to the State covering their 1953 income which is due on or before April 15, 1954.

The law requires a single person to file a state return when his gross income is in excess of $1,000. A married person must file a state return when the gross income of both husband and wife combined, is in excess of $2,000.

Businessmen

A person engaged in a business having gross sales or receipts of $5,000 or more, should file a return regardless of the amount of net profit.

Under the Maryland law married persons may file jointly or separately. It usually results into no tax savings if they file separately as the Maryland tax is not graduated and the taxpayer is not subject to higher taxes on higher brackets of income as under the Federal Law.

Forms for filing the 1953 reports are sent automatically to those who filed a return for 1952 only. New residents of Maryland or persons who were not required to file a return for last year, should write the Income Tax Division at Annapolis or 34 Hopkins pl., Baltimore, for a form if they are required to file for the year, 1953.

CHRISTMAS SCENE — To brighten up the tuberculosis wing at City Hospitals, Leroy Jackson, 30, of the 400 block 20th st., has painted several Christmas scenes which will lend a holiday touch to the hospital.
