CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

I desire to express my appreciation to those who have favored me with their patronage since I have been engaged in the mercantile business at Fairlee. Without their assistance it would have been impossible for me to have succeeded. Now that I have sold out, I hope the general public will be as liberal with the new firm of Bramble, Kilbourn & Noland, to whom I have sold the business, as they have been with me.

All accounts due Kilbourn & Bramble and T. B. Kilbourn are payable to me. I must have prompt settlement, as it is necessary that the business of both firms be closed up.

T. B. KILBOURN.

LOCAL MATTERS

Cure For Boils.—The following is said to be a very effective cure for boils: One and a half tablespoonfuls of corn meal to ½ of a glass of water. Let stand over night and drink the water in morning for ten mornings.

Charged, With Stealing Money.—Hennie Hodges, a negro woman of the upper part of Queen Annes county, is in Centreville jail awaiting the action of the November circuit court, charged with stealing $12 from William Brown, of Chestertown. She was given a hearing before Justice James E. Johns, of Church Hill, who committed her to jail to await the action of the court.

Building New Concrete Bridge.—Work has been started on a handsome new concrete bridge to span the mill stream at Church Hill. When the State road between Centreville and Chestertown were completed, the wooden structure at the Church Hill mill was left. For a time it was strong enough to bear the burden of the rapidly increasing traffic, but during the last few months it weakened considerably. The old structure has been town away and within a few weeks a new bridge will be open for use.

Birthday Party.—Miss Emma Jarrell, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Jarrell, celebrated the tenth anniversary of her birth on Monday, October 4th. Miss Jarrell received quite a few presents, in the form of a watch, Bracelet, Opal Ring, Jewel Case, as well as various other presents, including writing paper, candy, etc. The following were present and were giving a treat to the movies with refreshments later: Emma Jarrell, Ernestine Jarrell, Sadie Brown, Anna Strog, Herbert Strong, Helen Simpers, Gladys Beauchamp, Cornelia Davis, Alice Rote, Claude Parks, Lloyd Connelly, Richard Twilley, Calvin Copper, Harry Graham.

Unlawful to Ship Game. — The county postmasters have recently received rigid orders from the United States Postal authorities regarding the shipment of birds and game by parcel post. The order reads: "Postmasters shall not accept for mailing any parcel containing the dead bodies, or parts thereof, of any wild animals or birds which have been killed or are offered for shipment in violation of the laws of the State in which the same were killed or offered for shipment. Provided, however, that the aforegoing shall not be construed to prevent the acceptance for mailing when the State law does not prohibit the shipment of game." In Maryland it is unlawful to ship game outside the State.

BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mr. Isaac Gibbs played first base for Middletown against Odessa last week.

Mr. E. R. Anthony picked several quarts of strawberries last week, while Mr. C. E. Kirby had a number of boxes on sale at his store.

The new Chestertown High School building is nearing completion. Mr. A. M. Culp expects to have it ready for occupancy by the 15th of November.

Messrs. T. V. Kibler and Spedden, of Washington College, played second and third baces for Camtridge against the Athletics last week, the latter easily winning.

The Chestertown Choral Club, Mr. W. W. Chapman, director, will meet at the High School Tuesday evenings to prepare for the rendition of a new cantata.

The big bus belonging to Graham, Clements & Sutton, has been thoroughly repaired and will probably make excursions to the world's series games at Philadelphia.

Mr. A. M. Culp expects to erect three more new residences on Kent Circle in the spring. These residences will make a decided improvement to that section of Chestertown.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Relief will be held Friday evening October 8th at the home of Mrs. G. H. Clark. A full attendance is requested as there is business of importance.

Fairlee Grange will have a homecoming day Weduesday, Oct. 20, at 7 P. M. when all the members are requested to be present. The children are especially invited. A great treat is in store for all.

Col. Wm. J. Vannort attended the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic last week in Washington. Col. Vannort took a very prominent part in that war and can tell some interesting events in connection with it.

A party from Cambridge being driven to Wilmingtan by a colored man stayed in Chestertown over night Sunday because the rear axle of the car broke down while they were crossing chester River Bridge. They resumed their journey Monday afternoon.

Alexander, the Phils' star pitcher, was to receive $2,000 bonus if he won 30 games this season. He has won his 30 game, and this little amount added to his $7,000 salary, and his world series money will make quite a respectable year's pay.

Mr. Leonard Needles, one of our congenial and expert decorators, last week completed a "Victrola room" for Mr. W. P. Newnam, Chestertown's music man. Mr. Newnam says that the room is the prettiest "Victrola room" on the Eastern Shore and invites the public to inspect it.

The Glee and Mandolin Clubs of Washington College will give an informal subscripton dance in the College Gymnasium on the evening of Saturday October 16th, for the benefit of said club. Tickets may be had upon application to James W. Dykes, chairman. Since arrangements have been made for a program dance, no single admissions will be sold.

The Chestertown base-ball team defeated the Galena champions on the Galena grounds Wednesday last—score 1 to 0. The batteries were—Galena: Horsey and Coburn; Chestertown: Blackway and Robinson. E. Thomas Massey, of Massey, umpired. It was conceded by those who witnessed the contest to have been one of the best played games ever played in the county.

Following a series of thefts at the Centreville Post-Office, which has baffled the Postmaster and his assistants since the latter part of last June, Raymond Hollis, a young negro of Centreville, was arrested last week, charged with stealing four dollars from the office cash draw. It is believed that his arrest cleared up the disappearance of over thirty dollars in currency since the 28th of June.

Mr. W. E. Moody requests us to inform our readers that he is pleased to state he is sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to attend to his made-to-measure clothing trade. Mr. Moody represents one of, if not the largest, exclusive made-to-order plants in the country. Hence, is in a position to offer large variety at inside prices. Fall and winter suits and overcoats now ready for inspection. Call at his office and let him show you.

Three of our elderly lady citizens met with accidents last week. Mrs. Reed, while at her household duties in the home of her daughter, Mrs. George W. McWhorter, tripped and fell, striking her head against an iron sink. Nothing serious resulted. The second was that of Mrs. Snitcher. While crossing High street, near the postoffice, she stepped on a banana skin, receiving a severe jolt and bruising her arm. The third was Mrs. Burke, mother of Messrs. Wm. A. and George Burke. In attempting to get down from a chair which she was using to get an article from a shelf, upset the chair and falling on it infected a severe gash in her stomach.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

MRS. JULIA C. BLACKISTON.

Mrs. Julia C. Blackiston, widow of the late John Blackiston, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Crouch, at Piney Neck, Oct. 1st, age 69 years. Mrs. Blackiston, since the death of her husband, had been conducting her store near Rock Hall, until failing health compelled her to take to her bed. Five weeks ago Mrs. Crouch moved her to her home where she could more tenderly administer to her sufferings. Mrs. Blackiston was the daughter of George and Mary Leary. She leaves one son Columbus A., and one daughter, Mrs. Charles Crouch; three brothers, Isaac L., James L. and Oregan P. Leary. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Rock Hall Adventis Church, of which the deceased had been a member. Services were conducted by Elder Shadel; Casey & Bro. undertakers. The bearers were: Isaac L., Jas. L. and Oregan P. Leary, brothers of the deceased; Jas. F., Elmer E. and Edward Leary, nephews.

Mother, thou art sweetly sleeping,
Free from pain and toil and care;
Dearest mother, how we miss thee!
Miss thee in the house of prayer.
Thou will sleep, but not forever;
Jesus died, and rose again;
Soon He'll come in clouds of glory—
Thou wilt rise with Him to reign.
Mother, then we hope to meet thee;
Then we'll take thee by the hand.
Then we'll twine our arms around thee
In that bright and happy land.

SON AND DAUGHTER.

A CHESTERTOWN BOY HONORED.

W. L. Baldwin Wins Over C. N. Cover at Maryland University.

The consolidated senior class of the law department, University of Maryland, was busy Saturday holding reconciliations after the long and rather heated election of officers Friday night at the opening of the department for the year.

Many ballots were cast at the election, and personal conflicts were narrowly averted several times. On the last ballot W. L. Baldwin, of Chestertown, defeated Charles N. Cover, of Baltimore, by 2 votes out of 78 ballots cast. Other officers are: W. G. Allen, of Towson, vice-president; Dudley G. Cooper, Baltimore, secretary; E. L. G. Wright, Baltimore, treasurer; A. W. Pardew, Baltimore, historian. It was a Washington College victory, as the president, vice-president, and historian are of the class of 1913 of that institution. Mr. W. L. Baldwin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, of Chestertown. He took first honor at Washington College in the graduating class of 1913.

W. C. WINS FIRST GAME.

Polytechnic Inst. Defeated by The Score of 30 to 0. Healy Starred For W. C.

ST. JOHNS PLAYS HERE ON NOVEMBER 13.

The Polytechnic Institute eleven, of Baltimore, was no match for Coach Kibler's team Saturday and was snowed under by the score of 30 to 0.

The defensive work of Healy at right tackle for Washington College was particularly brilliant, while Captain Larmore also did excellent.

The work of the entire backfield was very good, but the line seemed a little weak. Frampton played his first game in the backfield and ran the team well. A feature also was the forward passing of Enright and the catching of the throws by Bourland at left end. Cain who was substituted for Young at the beginnig of the second half, did good work at right end, receiving some good passes. Later F. R. Wallace was substituted for Frampton, but the latter returned again in the fourth quarter. White was substituted for Bourland, Gordy for Hooper, Caldwell for Schelberg and Errickson for Cain.

Washington was a little slow getting started, scoring only one touchdown in the first half.

At the beginning of the second half W. Wallace received the kick-off and ran back 85 yards for a touchdown. After this the ball was in Poly's territory most of the time. Four touchdowns were scored in the second half. Enright made the first, Frampton the second and W. Wallace the other three. Enright failed to kick goals.

Saturday Oct. 9, the W. C. eleven will journey to Westminster and tackle the Western Maryland College aggregation. As Western Maryland won from Poly by just one point more than Washington it looks like a good game is in prospect.

IN CAMPS AND ON TRAMPS.

Have you seen the fellows with the hats that punch into a different shape everytime they wear them, yet always a shape that's good and harmonions, and envied them? It's no secret—come in and put one on yourself.

Ralston Smiles

"A nobby dresser, Mr. Smith," remarked his pals in jealous tones, "from head to foot he seems to be the 'classiest' of those we see." And Smith, to tell the truth, looked FINE. His duds were envied down the line. The ladies bowed to him and smiled—a fact that made his Missus wild.

When Smith lounged in his club at night, and smoked and read with keen delight, the fellow members stood aside, to watch him in his pomp and pride. He KNEW that, rounding forty-eight, he still was quite a fashion plate. At last, one fellow took a chance, the night the club put on a dance. He cornered Smith, who then confessed, how he could always seem well-dressed.

"My son," said Smith, "this swagger stuff is half your SHOES and half a BLUFF. I've found that when your feet are shod, so well it makes the women nod—when shoes are trim and neat and nice, it's worth the bill at ANY price. A pair of Ralstons seem to shine above mere clothes and hats of mine. They tip me off in proper style, with comfort reckoned all th' while. You chaps with fritzy looking feet and shoes a rural shop could beat—get wise—look up a little place, where Ralstons help 'em win th' race, and pretty soon this feeling 'fit' will make an awful local hit."

ANOTHER SMILE NEXT WEEK.
