BUSTAMIN

By JAMES HICKS

NEW YORK — Across the bars of Harlem they are saying that when W. C. Handy and his new bride marched down the aisle to the tune of Lohengrin, some of the members of Mr. Handy's family were outside the church moaning the St. Louis Blues.

The report is that some members of the family opposed the marriage because they felt the wedding would cut down on some of the do ra ms which Mr. Handy is said to have been lavishing on some of his kin for plenty of years.

Carole Drake Faulkner, once of the Joe Louis' daisy chain and currently the heart of Billy Eckstine, is said to be in Mexico — but not alone. Hang your eyes on that word alone in the last sentence. Can't tell you more now, but the headlines will explain what we mean any day now. The story has got to come out!

Dean-Messner Nuptials

Lucile Cromer beat the town on the interracial marriage of Mary Tobias Dean. Question: Did Poppa Channing H. Tobias approve the union?

Few people know it, but model Ruth King who makes plenty of look exhibiting her curves, still clings to her city job in the department of welfare. Ruth makes a cee note each week and she is too smart a gal to toss it up to rely on her curves.

Some models make $50 a day. Some models work only one day a month.

POLITICS

When Ann Hedgeman refused to accept another civil service's political job and went out and got one of her own, politicians in Harlem envisioned the dawn of a new day for the people uptown.

They pointed to the fact that Harlem now has two new leaders both young, who would stand up for the community first and use their power to work for its interests. These two men are Lloyd Dickens and Tony Rasmus.

Now comes a report that Tony is about to accept a measly $4,800 a year job and that Dickens has told Tammany Hell he will take housing commissioner Fred Weaver's job if someone twists his arm. How little can his big men get! If a district leader accepts $4,800, what kind of job can he offer his followers?

If Police Commissioner Billy Rowe is replaced (and we hope that he is not), he will be succeeded by either Police Lieutenant Mangum or radio personality Willie Bryant.

The appointment will turn on whether the mayor decides that he wants a cop to do a departmental job in that spot — or whether he wants a "hail fellow well met" to do a public relations job for the police department in that spot.

If it's a departmental job, Mangum will be the man. If it's public relations, Willie will get the nod. Both of them are great guys and either could do the job. The odds at present favor Mangum.

THE NEW YEAR

"Man of the Year" for 1953 is Thurgood Marshall. No explanation necessary. Our "Woman of the Year" is Mrs. Mary Church Terrell of Washington and a Harlem halo to those Philadelphia cotillion people (whatever they are) for honoring her.

Best dressed women of the year (Let's face it we can only speak for New York) is Etienne Johnson who runs the lingerie shop on the Theresa mezzanine. Always at the right place at the right time, wearing the right thing! She's from South Carolina and that should hold the New York women for a while!

The best administrator of an organization we ran across all year (and we met oodles of them) is Nannie Rice Burroughs of the National Baptist convention (women). All colored organizations could profit by a look at Nannie's books.

We submit the names of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bessman (Charlie runs the Savoy ballroom) as the two people who have done most for the Harlem community during the year.

No Headline Hunters

I could write a book on the nice little things they have done out of their own pocketbooks to help the little guy on the street. But Charlie and Bessie will have none of that. They help because they like to help — not for headlines.

Heading our list of "Unsung Heroes" of the year would be Dr. Carl Murphy and the policy committee of the National Negro Publishers association. Someday, someone will tell the story of what they have done to put over the school segregation cases now before the Supreme Court.

The boner of the year goes to the Elks' convention at Atlanta, which asked a high official in the Commerce Department at Washington to fly down to Atlanta and address one of the sessions.

When he arrived with his speech in his hand, he found that the Elks had actually forgotten he was to speak! They didn't even have a session scheduled for that time of day!

My "most fearful moment" of the year came in Las Vegas, Nev., in May at "zero minus one" that split second before an atomic bomb exploded just four miles from where I sat crouched in a slit trench with 19 other reporters — closer at that time than any other living American had ever been to an A-bomb explosion! I aged 10 years in that one awful second!

Nicest party of the year: The $15,000 shindig thrown at the Astor hotel for Thurgood Marshall by Calvert Distillers.

Political disappointment of the year: The Rev. Jimmy Robinson of Harlem, candidate for president of the borough of Manhattan. Disappointed because he was too blind to see that he meant more to Rudolph Halley's campaign than Halley meant to his candidacy.

Had to write him off as a "Sidney Carton" — a man of "great emotions and great abilities, incapable of their directed exercise."

Best reporting on the New York scene: Colleague James Booker's terrific story on Model Mary Cunningham's shooting of her lover. Best column in nation: Editor Betty Phillips' touching first-hand report on the birth of her baby. The only time laymen have been closer to child birth was the day they themselves were born!

Happiest day of the year (June) June 5 — the day little Jimmy arrived by plane. Most undeserved award: Presentation of the Spingarn Medal to architect Paul Williams. Most disappointing speech: Paul Williams' acceptance of the award. (He said among other silly things: You can drive down the streets and look at the houses and tell what kind of people live in them. Wonder if he knows that Governor Jimmy Byrnes and Hampton Talmadge live in mansions?)

Slickest card deal I saw: The night a Baptist minister "wrapped up" everybody in a poker game at the Grand Calvert hotel during the Baptist convention.

The preacher also came up with one of the best cracks of the year. After he won the money he stood there with a fist full of bills and said "Bretheren there is only one way to double your money. Take it like this, fold it — and put it in your pocket!" Then he walked out on all the "sinners."

Cutest song of the year: A dead heat between Joni James' "My Love" and Nat King Cole's "Mona Lisa."

That's all!

FIGHTS WOUNDED LION WITH KNIFE

African native, 62, wins British medal for attempting to save employer's life

LONDON (NNPA) — A 62-year-old African watchman, who fought a wounded lion with a six-inch sheath knife on a farm in Tanganyika in an attempt to rescue his employer, has been awarded the George medal, it was announced Tuesday night.

The watchman, Saidi Bin Juma, worked for a South African farmer, A. De Beer, in the Singida district of Tanganyika.

Mr. De Beer and his son-in-law, Mr. Ras and Saidi were searching a wheatfield for a lion which had killed an animal and was its kill in wheat four feet high.

Lion Wounded

Mr. de Beer, unable to see the lion clearly, took a chance shot at it and wounded it in the leg. The lion charged, knocked him down and seized his head in its jaws.

According to the citation, Saidi "immediately dashed in, jumped on the lion's back, seized its ears and tried to pull it off its victim. The lion then turned on Saidi, threw him off, severely injuring his leg.

Resumes Attack

"The farmer was unconscious and so unable to get away during this diversion, and the lion returned to attack him. Saidi, although injured and with nothing but his small sheath knife in his hand, again leaped on the lion's back and hacked at its throat."

Not until then was Mr. Ras able to get in a shot which killed the lion. Saidi was taken to a hospital with a badly lacerated leg. Mr. de Beer died from injuries.

Group seeks buyer for $11,250 estate

By SAMUEL A. HAYNES
Editor, New Jersey AFRO

MONTVALE, N. J. — The NAACP legal staff in New York is desirous of selling a farm property here appraised at $11,250 bequeathed to the association by one of its ardent members, the late Constantine Ragosine, a farmer.

According to information supplied to the New Jersey AFRO-AMERICAN last week by Clifford R. Moore, a Trenton attorney, the NAACP desires to sell the property to clear debts against the estate and make the balance payable immediately to the association.

Mr. Moore, who is also a U. S. commissioner, is associated with Robert Carter of the NAACP's legal staff in disposing of the estate.

Appraisal of the property was made by the firm of Charles H. Borg, Inc., People's Trust Building, Hackensack, N.J.

Information On Estate

Mr. Ragosine died at the New Jersey State hospital at Greystone Park, at the age of 63.

This information on the estate and description of the property was given by Attorney Moore:

Mr. Ragosine's personal estate consists of cash in the bank and securities having a total value of $1,628.82. The outstanding obligation against the estate is approximately $2,000.

In addition, there is an outstanding Tax Sales Certificate of approximately $400 which constitutes a first lien against the property.

Highest Price Sought

Eugene T. Urbaniak, deputy attorney general of New Jersey has been appointed administrator.

The law of New Jersey provides that, if the personal estate is not sufficient to meet the debts of the deceased, then a lien is placed upon the premises, and the court directs a sale to meet the deficiency created by the personal debts.

Therefore, in this situation, it is to the advantage of the NAACP to secure the highest price for the premises.

The premises are located at No. 6 Middletown rd., in the Borough of Montvale Bergen county.

It is approximately five acres, having a frontage of 390 feet, more or less, on Middletown rd., approximately 629 feet on the North line, 655 feet on the South line, and approximately 304 feet across the rear or westerly line.

The house is a two-story frame clapboard residence, approximately 80 years old. It consists of a center hall, living room, dining room den and old-fashion kitchen on the first floor.

Other Facilities

There are two separate wings on the second floor, one wing having three small bedrooms and an old-fashioned bath.

The other wing has two bedrooms and an old-fashioned bath. There is also a front and side porch.

There is a basement only under a portion of the house, with a stone foundation, steam (coal) heating plant.

Other Services

All of the plumbing throughout the house is galvanized. All sinks and light fixtures are very old.

Bottle gas has been used, and water is obtained through a well with a handpump in the house to draw the water into a reserve tank. There are a few screens and storm sash.

The sewage is either septic tank or cesspool

The roof on the house itself is of a light Flintkote material over the old roof and looks to be in good condition, probably not over three or four years old. The decks over the porches are of tin or metal.

Many Out-Buildings

There are several outbuildings on the ground, such as:

A one-car garage (dirt floor), no doors; another garage-type building which is too shallow for modern cars, formerly used as a goat stall; a very large chicken house, and two smaller ones and a tool shed.

Most of these buildings are in need of repair and paint.

Trees Plentiful

There are a number of fruit trees, shade trees, spruce trees and flower bearing shrubs on the property which are badly neglected.

There are no sidewalks and the only improvements are electricity.

Middletown rd. is a county maintained road.

The property was assessed for $3,400 in 1952 on the Montvale Assessment Rolls for Constantine Ragosine as follows: land, $1,000; improvements, $2,400. Taxes for 1952 were $236.30.

Delaware's Most Courageous Woman

Here's machine shop at Claymont High School after Mrs. Bulah won her case and Delaware integrated the public schools.

Mrs. Fred Bulah's granddaughter had to walk two miles to catch a school bus. Children of neighboring white families boarded a bus at the corner.

Mrs. Bulah was aroused, so she wrote the school board. They didn't reply. She wrote to the governor. He referred her to the State Board of Education.

It replied it had no bus which went to her granddaughter's school.

She wrote back: "Then why can't she go to the elementary school where there is bus service?"

School authorities said the state constitution forbids colored and white children from going to the same school, and she was the first colored person to complain.

By now Mrs. Bulah was fuming.

She told the board "First one to complain or not, something has to be done about that state constitution."

Mrs. Bulah took her story to the NAACP which filed her suit in the Delaware Courts through Louis Redding.

The state court overruled the board of education. Ten-year-old Shirley Bulah was admitted to the nearest elementary school.

BARNETT—In loving memory of my dear wife, JENNIE J. who passed away four years ago, January 18, 1950:
Today my heart is heavy,
My home is lonely all of the time,
You always miss you dear;
None but God in Heaven can see,
Four long years have passed dear,
My heart yearns for you.
Loving Husband.
JOHN H. BARNETT

BEAMER—In loving memory of our mother and grandmother, CARRIE BEAMER, who passed away January 21, 1951:
We walked together, you and I,
In sorrow and in joy.
We shared our pains and happiness,
With love without alloy.
And death shall never end our love
For through the skies I see
Our glad reunion in the sky
For all eternity.
By Her Son, EDWARD
And Granddaughter, MARTHA

BELL—In loving memory of my dear wife MARGARET BELL, who departed this life, January 23, 1948:
God knows how much I miss her,
Never shall her memory fade;
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where she is laid.
WILLIAM A. BELL.

FOODY, FREDERICK, who passed away January 23, 1945:
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved,
From memory pass away.
Loving Mother,
LOUREN M. GRINAGE,
and Daughter,
STACIA GRINAGE FOOTE.

HOLLOWAY—In loving memory of my husband, REV. J. W. HOLLOWAY, founder of the John Wesley Baptist Church, who passed away January 23, 1950:

To remember my whole life through,
But the sweetness will linger forever.
As I cherish the image of you.
Devoted Wife,
MARY HOLLOWAY

KELLAM—In memory of CHARLES (TANGO), who passed away January 20, 1945:
You can never take away
Loving memories of you.
DEVOTED FAMILY

SNOWDEN—In loving memory of my dear husband, OLLIE, who passed away January 22, 1952:
When the evening shadows are falling
And I'm sitting all alone
In my heart there comes a longing
If you could come home.
Oft and oft my thoughts do wander
To your grave so far away.
Where I laid my dear husband.
Two years ago today.

TAYLOR—In loving memory of our dear mother, FRANCES E., who departed this life 27 years, November 23, 1927:
Though suffering, she breathed not a murmur
For the Comforter stood by her side,
And whispered: "Fear not, I am with you."
With me shalt thou ever abide."
On the river a pale boatman waits
She heard the soft dip of his oar;
Her feet on earth and sorrow behind her
Across to that beautiful shore.
Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name
In life we loved you dearly
In death we do the same.
