LOCAL MATTERS

Fishing Good.—Fishing at Rock Hall with hook and line continues good. Several parties from Chestertown have made good catches there during the past two weeks. Mr. H. Clay Brown, of near Chestertown, holds the record thus far for the largest fish of the season—a rock which measured two feet in length and weighed five pounds. A TRANSCRIPT man witnessed the catching of this fish.

Rented His Truck Farm.—Mr. E. R. Anthony, one of Queen Anne's leading truckers, who furnishes Chestertown with a great quantity of its first-class vegetables, has rented his truck farm to Mr. John W. Jacobs, of Smyrna, Del., for next year. Mr. Anthony will erect Mr. Jacobs a house in the near future. Mr. Anthony will devote his time to his hot house and flower business next year and will reserve enough land for this purpose.

A Profitable Cow.—A Guernsey cow at the Delaware College farm, earned last year $665. Deducting $143 for feed and $43 for labor, she showa a net earning of $480 for the year. This cow produced in 365 consecutive days, 13,361 pounds of milk and 368.23 pounds of butter fat. The fact that the average cow of Delaware produces only 3,000 pounds of milk a year and about 130 pounds of butter fat makes the record of this cow especially noticeable.

Arrested for Robbery.—Lorenzo C. King, a Wilmington detective, came to Chestertown on Wednesday in search of Andrew Lively, a colored boy formerly of Chestertown, for robbing a store in Wilmington. Lively was located in Queen Annes county by Constable Jester and Deputy Sheriff Perkins, at the farm of Mr. Charles Leager, where he was employed as a farm hand. The officers stationed themselves at Chester bridge Thursday evening and arrested Lively as he was coming across the bridge to Chestertown. He was placed in jail for the night and carried to Wilmington by Detective King Friday morning. Lively had just completed a nine-months sentence in prison in Delaware, for stealing $30. The safe in the store he was arrested for robbing contained $2,000 in money, and was badly damaged by Lively in attempting to break the lock, but he failed to get it open.

THE Bradley Sweaters!

Ralston Smiles

A certain man in Pleasantville was known to give all clerks a chill. His gruff and grumpy line of chin was not the sort to revel in. In fact, when he went to a store the Boss would rather close the door.

We've seen him sit an hour, say and cuss and grunt and growl away, and vow he'd barefoot-it a while if shoes were not a better style. He'd kick at patent-leather cracks, and give their low-cut line some whacks, he'd growl at laces and a shape—he'd hang the whole durn shop in crepe. As fast as he was handed shoes, he'd kick and knock 'em and abuse. He say:—"the footgear in this town, beyond a doubt is running down. I buy so many pairs a year, you'd think they'd hold my trade more dear!"

One shop put in the Ralston line, and Mr. Grumpy-Grouch id "FINE," no more the fussing and the stew. He'd simply k and say:—"They do." Which only goes to prove, dear ends, that Ralstons start where trouble ends. s learn where Quality is found and promptly it around.

RALSTON SHOES

Invariably please the ultra-particular. A shoe-grouch is the very worst grouch on earth—Ralstons cure it.

NSANT & NEWSOME,

Progressive Head-to-Foot Outfitters, Chestertown, Md.

At a meeting of the bar of Kent county held on Saturday, Sept. 11, 1915, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That although his death on May 18th, 1915, at the ripe age of 88 years, more than 17 years after his retirement from the bench, and after all his active work in the community was over, was not unexpected, the sense of his loss to the bar and county is none the less deep and sincere: that his eminent legal ability, unremitting labor, forceful and concientious character as exhibited by him through 30 consecutive years on the bench in every county of this judicial circuit, left no question in any man's mind that the law had not been or would not be administered by him with the keenest sense of his responsibility with fortified great legal learning, quick perception and next to unerring judgment;

That this conviction in the minds of the people and bar of his time so impregnably established his reputation throughout the circuit, that it will take many a day before time can efface it, or moth or rust break through and steal it away. It endears as a rich legacy to his family and county, and as an inspiration to the lawyers and others of the circuit;

That this bar herein records its high estimate of his character and usefulness, together with its profound sense of the loss sustained by the profession and community by his disease, and express to his family its warmest sympathy;

That we request the chairman of the committee to present to the court at the October term these reflections that they may be recorded among the minutes of the court, and a copy thereof transmitted to the family.

WM. M. SLAY,
WM. W. BECK,
JOHN D. URIE,
