Varied activities fill town women's calendar

With Lula Jones Garret

There are many number of things occupying the minds of the local ladies, this week, as, for instance the slew of social affairs on the present agenda.

Wives and sweethearts of Alpha men are all a-twitter because they're to be the honored guests at a dinner dance on the 19th. Members of Delta Lambda graduate chapter will hold forth in Morgan Hall, and Bob Watts, chairman, says that he and his committee have planned something special for the girls.

The We Wives have issued cute bids to cocktails at Biddle Hall, Saturday night. It's a Valentine affair. There'll be breakfast at the close.

The hostesses will include Ada Weaver, Bettye Phillips, Ivy Grinage, Adelle Foreman, Gwendolyn Tarter, Ida Smith, Mae Dyson, Roberta Keets, Hiawatha Shaw, Margaret Hythe, Vernice Reynolds, Iris Carpenter, Lillian Ross, Anita Hawkins, Margaret Armstrong, Ruby Reid and Priscilla Lansey.

The ladies of Trinity chapter, Order of Eastern Star, has "an evening of novel entertainment" planned for the 19th, also. Daisy Bailey Jones, who is chairman, says there are all sorts of surprises in store. Cornelia Ringgold is co-chairman.

Come the 27th, and the whole of the Metropolitan Council, plus a number of guests, will head for Washington and the National Council of Negro Women's "Brotherhood Tea," which will have Mrs. Richard M. Nixon as guest of honor.

Invitations for the wedding reception of Melisande Manning (she's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Manning, Jr.) and Thomas C. Friend Jr. were in the mail, this week.

Miss Manning and Mr. Friend will have a quiet ceremony, but will greet scores of their friends at the reception on the 21st.

MURPHYS RETURN

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Murphy came home, this week, from Tuskegee (where they combined business with pleasure) and a winter vacation in the Carribean.

While in the Alabama city, Mrs. Murphy was guest of honor at bridge with Mrs. Mildred McMechen Allen, formerly of this city.

Other guests were Mesdames Ada Peters, Virginia Garrett, Nita Busby, Lil Branche, Vera Foster and Jeanne Lee.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Steele, brother-in-law and sister of Saul Perdue of Baltimore invited the Carl Murphys, Mrs. Dorothy Chenault and Thurgood Marshall of NYC to dinner in their Opelika, Ala. home.

Also present was Dr. Frank Clark, a dentist and Howard graduate, who was in the class with Dr. Albert O. Reid of Baltimore.

"SISTERLY YOURS"

AKA sorors have been having a bushel of fun at their series of "sisterly yours" parties, this week.

Epsilon Omega chapter has grown to such an extent (there are 123 active members) that it has become difficult to know each of the sorors well. Hence the entertainment committee cooked up the idea of a series of small parties for the sole purpose of becoming perfectly areuainted.

Hostesses Theresa Kennedy and Melissa Perdue combined their group, went to Melissa's Morgan Park home Saturday for a Dutch dinner.

They played cards (Florence Dennis took the prize) dined (baked beans being the piece de resistence—with of course, all the fixing) and generally had a round of fun.

Sarah Early, Betty Williams, Rosa Ray, Helena Hall, Alma Gray, Vivian Cook, Ida Collick, Courtnay Valentine, Ruby Walker and Florence were in this group.

Tuesday night, 'twas Erma Davis' home at which Flessie Dadmond and Mary Young, celebrated.

Vernicee Matthews and Rosalind Allen introduced a couple of games, at which prizes were garnered by Carolyn Smith and Elizabeth Allen, but other than that we had dined too heartily to do much other than exercise our vocal chords.

You'd never think the gals could cook, too, but you should have tasted Erma's chicken, Marian Gregory's corn pudding, Mary Young's coconut cake (though I think her mother created that, as well as the chocolate confection).

Even Vernice Matthews tossed a salad. To lend a seasonal touch there were ice molds, in the Valentine motif.

And for this party, about were: Rorella Clark, Rosalind and Elizabeth Allen, Viola Wright, Esther Johnson, Marian Gregory, Dorothy Boone Flossie Dedmond, Erma Davis, Evelena Henderson.

Edythe Myers, Lillian Parrott, Vernice Matthews, Shirley Douglass, Lula Patterson, Marian Reid, Carolyn Smith, and a participating but absent sister, Jeanne Davis, who couldn't round up a baby sitter for the evening.

Another group, co-hosted by Mary Adams and Alice Coleman, had dinner at the Tijuana, went on to Agnes Patterson's for snacks, sips, cards and games in her club room.

Getting particularly acquainted was Ames Brown (here from Washington since her marriage to Dr. Benjamin Brown) only a few weeks affiliated with Epsilon Omega.

Others joining in the fun there were Edna Gray, who dined at Tijuana, but went on to the ACHR session; Beatrice Hurt, Sara Sampson, Maude Williams, Gladys Reid, Agnes Patterson and Gloria Carpenter, also with the hostesses.

DRINK Coca-Cola
"Sweetwater" Clifton
long-shot artist and famous professional basketball star, pauses to refresh with ice-cold Coca-Cola.
Basketball is a demanding game. A man must go full-speed for long periods of time, giving all his energy and all his strength to the job of winning the game.
The same thing is true in your job, whatever it may be. You, too, must go full-speed ... with all your energy and all your strength ... for long periods of time. To be at your best, you must take time out when you can to rest and relax. That's when most people head for the friendly red cooler and a frosty bottle of delicious, ice-cold Coca-Cola. And don't forget—take home a case or carton of Coke for the family.

Planned Parenthood opens annual fund-raising campaign

The Planned Parenthood Association, which has served women in this vicinity since 1927, will open its annual fund-raising campaign, this month.

Since 1951, however, both clinics have operated on a nonsegregated basis, with all being admitted. Last year the staff of twenty-five saw more than 3,600 patients.

Counseling Program

The aims of planned parenthood go far beyond the birth control aspect which has been so publicized. Child spacing is only one of the services rendered to the community.

Other facets of the organization include a fertility clinic, a marriage counseling service, premarital education, clinical training for medical students and nurses, and the support of research in human reproduction.

Fees charged are based upon the patients' ability to pay.

These clinics are supported solely by voluntary contributions received during the yearly campaign. Funds are needed desperately for research into new, safe and economical means of birth control as well as for supplies and professional help to needy patients. Contributions of any amount should be made payable and mailed to: Planned Parenthood Association of Baltimore, Inc., 1028 North Broadway, Baltimore 5, Md.

Committee Listed

The honorary chairman of the 1954 campaign is Dr. Nicholson J. Eastman, professor of Obstetrics at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. The executive chairman is Mrs. Louis B. Kohn, II.

Mrs. Norma Mitchner becomes bride of Lt. Adolphus Mullings

The marriage of Miss Norma Natalie Mitchner, daughter of Charles Mitchner and Mrs. Natalie Phelps, to Lt. Adolphus A. Millings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Millings of Greensboro, N.C., took place here, recently.

The ceremony took place in St. James Episcopal Church, Father Cedric Mills officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a waltz-length gown of white Chantilly lace over ivory satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a small bridal bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Oss Attends

Mrs. Ronald Oss, of Baltimore, the matron of honor, was attired in a waltz-length gown of rose with tucked bodice and bouffant skirt.

The other attendants, Miss Dorothelle Hanberg, of Hartford, Connecticut, and Miss Jane Staples, of Baltimore, wore identical gowns of peacock blue. All wore silver accessories and carried bouquets of roses.

Arthur White was the best man. The ushers were Lieutenants Elliott Ross and Nathaniel Scott.

Reception Held

The reception was held in the Bradford-Simms Lounge following the ceremony.
