OUR COLONIAL SOLONS.

First Legislative Assembly Met at Jamestown, Va., In 1619.

The first representative legislative assembly ever held in America convened at Jamestown, Va., in July, 1619, a year before the pilgrims landed at Plymouth and a decade before the Massachusetts Bay colony was begun. It consisted of the governor, Sir George Yeardley, his council, two burgesses elected by each of the eleven incorporated plantations. The assembly sat in the chancel of the little church where five years before Pocahontas had been married to John Rolfe. John Twine, the clerk of the assembly, says in his official report:

"The most convenient place we coulde finde to sitt in was the quire of the church where Sir George Yeardley, the governour, being sett down in his accustomed place, those of the counsel of estate sate nexte him on both handes, excepte onely the secretary, then appointed speaker, who sate right before him, John Twine, clerke of the general assembly, being placed nexte the speaker, and Thomas Pierse, the sergeant, standing at the barre, to be ready for any service the assembly should require. But forasmuch as men's affairs doe little prosper where God's service is neglected, all the burgesses took their places in the quire till a prayer was said by Mr. Bucke, the minister, that it would please God to guide and sanctifie all our proceedings to his owne glory and the goode of this plantation."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Battleships Now and Then.

A battleship today is not the same as a battleship in Nelson's day. The old wooden three decker could only be destroyed by long and desperate close quarter fighting. It would stand hours of battering. It would take hundreds of shot and still be capable of fighting. But today one unlucky shot, one blow from a torpedo, and the great fighting machine is a heap of scrap iron.—London Graphic.

Weeping Willows.

The weeping willow, so called (scientific name S. babylonica), is a native of China, from which country it has been taken over most of the civilized earth. It varies in height and dimensions according to climate and soil and invariably maintains its drooping habit, the chief cause of its attractiveness.—New York American.

Discreet.

Tourist (after a long discussion with station master on the subject of catching a steamer)—So you would advise me to come back by the Sunday night train in order to catch the boat on Monday morning?

Station Master (severely)—A' wud advise nae mon tae profane the Sawbath, but A'll jist repeat—if ye wait till the Monday ye'll nae get the connection.—London Punch.

Something of a Curiosity.

"What made you send our friend, Mr. Bumshus, the Russian alphabet?"

"I thought it ought to interest him," replied Miss Cayenne. "It is the only thing I ever heard convinced him he did not assume to thoroughly understand."—Washington Star.

Evolution.

Little Tommy Tucker sang for his supper so successfully that friends raised a subscription and educated him for grand opera. Now he sings under the name of Signor Tommasino Tuckerino and is a famous lion.—Pittsburgh Post.

Cats.

Felix (the alley cat)—Don't it get your back up? Selim (the house cat)—What? Felix—Hearin' them scrappy dames call each other cats.—Kansas City Star.

Luck whines, labor whistles. Luc' relies on chance, labor on charactr.—Richard Cobden.

Wrong Preposition.

"People are so careless about the proper use of prepositions."

"Yes, I know they are. Fred told me he and his bride were going to live with the old man when he really meant on the old man."—Baltimore American.

Just Looking.

When a man looks at a woman it is because he wants to look at her; when a woman looks at a man it is because she wants him to look at her.—London Tatler.

Sometimes.

Tommy—Pop, a man and his wife are one, aren't they? Tommy's Pop—Yes, my son; sometimes one too many.—Philadelphia Record.

All's to be feared where all's to be gained.—Byron.

Investigating His Credit.

"Say, Brooks, can I borrow a little money from you until next pay day?"

"Why-er-yes, I suppose so. How much do you want?"

"None at all, dear boy. I only wanted to satisfy myself that my credit was good."—London Standard.

I worked with patience, which means almost power.—Mrs. Browning.

Tangible Asset.

"I believe I'll promote a transportation company."

"Land or water?"

"The latter, I think. For the former I'd need rails and right of way, but in a water proposition I'll have an ocean to start with."—Exchange.

MARYLAND WEEK.

Elaborate preparations are being made by Prof. T. B. Symons of the Maryland Agricultural College for "Maryland Week" which will be held in the Fifth Regiment Army, Baltimore, Nov. 16th, to 20th. This year there will be many more features of interest and instruction for the farmer, horticulturist and dairyman than in the previous exhibitions, while programs replete with surprises have been arranged for every day of the week.

The Club Exhibit Contest is one of the big features of the show. Various local organizations in different parts of the State go to Baltimore and make an exhibit in competition with each other. Numerous premiums and special prizes are offered in this contest.

A special dairy exhibit consisting of eight cows, will be installed in the Armory in order to demonstrate sanitary methods of milking, by the use of milking machines. Other interesting features for the dairymen will be the various methods of testing milk.

For those interested in bee keeping and raising honey, a most wonderful exhibit is promised. Live bees will be handled with bare hands and the best methods of treating bees will be discoursed upon by experts.

The United States Government will lend its assistance in many direct and indirect ways to help the show to be instructive to all visitors. The postmaster at Baltimore has promised a large booth exhibit showing the various ways Parcel Post can be utilized to the profit of the farmer and country dweller, showing in detail how packages of perishable and staple products may be packed to carry well.

Dr. F. W. Beasley, State Forester, will make an extensive exhibit showing fire prevention in forests, how to conserve the forests and replenish them; how to treat the farm wood lot so as to have all the wood needed for the present generation and still leave a good supply for those to come.

To the lovers of flowers this year's exhibition will especially appeal, as the weather has contributed to the art of the florist and the specimens to be shown will compare most favorably with the big chrysanthemum show at Madison Square Garden, New York.

The formal opening will take place Tuesday evening, Nov. 16th, at which Hon. Robert Crain, of Baltimore, will preside. Mayor Preston, of Baltimore, Governor Goldsborough and probably the Governor-elect will be present to make addresses. On Wednesday the horticultural societies will meet, with a splendid special program, supplemented by liberal distribution of fine fruits, including a gift of a big apple to each visitor. Thursday will be Crop Improvement Day, at which time the various new methods of handling soil and fertilizers will be discussed by experts. Experiences of prominent farmers will also be exchanged. Friday will be Dairymen's Day, Saturday, Truckers' Day. On Thursday night, there will be a special session devoted to hogs at which time there will be a wide discussion regarding the prevention and treatment of diseases of hogs, especially the hog cholera which is so prevalent.

Taking into consideration the magnificent exhibits promised, the elaborateness of the program, together with the splendid premiums offered, this year's meet will no doubt far eclipse all previous efforts.

Anyone interested in any of the various topics under discussion at these shows cannot afford, from a purely business standpoint to miss attendance, to say nothing of the keen enjoyment of viewing some of Nature's most beautiful products.

A Promising Filly.

John C. Green, a young farmer of Middletown, Del., is the owner of a three-year-old filly that has proved a sensation, and should make more horse history for St. George's hundred, the birthplace and training grounds of such prominent stars of the turf as Barnett B. R. T. C., Bedworth, Jr., June Bug and dozens more with less speed than these. This filly is a beautiful sorrel and is a pacer. She was broken as a two-year-old on the farm and during the past summer was taken up to be driven. She has been jogged on the dirt roads, which in that section are of the best, and has never been speeded more than a dozen times, all told. On Friday last she was taken to the McCoy kite-shaped track, at Kirkwood, and turned loose on a track for the first time in her life and was driven a half-mile in 1.07 by W. B. Biggs. After being cooled out she was taken back and driven a quarter in the phenomenal time of 32½ seconds.

She is handsomely bred, being by Prince March, 2.13¼, and out of a mare by Nutwood Prince. She has exactly the same breeding lines as R. T. C., who was bred and raised here and was worked on a farm until he was seven years old, and then went out and won more money in one season than any other horse in the world had won up to that time. He was sold to Thomas W. Murphy by W. B. Biggs for $5,000.
