100 attend HU diamond clinic

WASHINGTON—About 100 scholastic and collegiate baseball players attended a baseball clinic sponsored by the physical education department at Howard university.

Former major league baseball players served as instructors and gave tips on their specialties.

Jim Castiglia, one time catcher and Redskins football player, gave catching pointers.

Former Red Sox Ace

Warren (Curley) Ogden, former Boston Red Sox pitcher, now a scout with the Philadelphia Phillies, talked about pitching and outfield strategy.

Joe Judge, former Washington Nat first baseman, discussed the art of playing first base and general infield defensive strategy.

Max Bishop, ex-Philadelphia A's second-baseman, told the group about the movements of the second baseman and shortstop.

Bill Werber, former Boston Red Sox third baseman, commented on how to handle the hot corner.

Tom Johnson, Howard coach, discussed baserunning.

32 - Game Slate

The Howard baseball team faces a 32 - game slate that includes games with Yale university, Springfield college, and the University of Maine.

The Bisons finished second to A. and T. college in CIAA play last year.

6 Olympians in SAA indoor meet

Four members of the 1952 United States Olympic Team, plus two members of the Jamaica Olympic outfit, will take part in the 175th Infantry Regiment-South Atlantic Association annual indoor track meet here March 5.

The 60-yard dash will have Art Bragg, the Morgan State college great who saw action in the sprints at Helsinki. The mile run will feature while Bill Ashenfelter, Charley Capozzoli and Brownlee Ross.

The two Jamaicans are George Rhoden and Byron La Beach. Rhoden won the 400-meters in Finland and set a record. La Beach, a Morgan product like Bragg and Rhoden, took part in the Olympic sprint events.

Bison cagers kayo Bears quint, 73-67

By AL SWEENEY

Howard university's Bisons, although not in contention for CIAA's top honors, certainly should be considered as the year's biggest spoilers.

On Tuesday afternoon, during a game whose outcome was kicked about like the Bricker amendment the Bisons virtually knocked Morgan State's Bears out of the looming CIAA cage tournament, 73-67.

The game was a give-and-take thriller all the way. The Bisons trailed the Bears 36-35 at the half and knotted the count 51-all at end of the third period.

Maxique Paces Win

Emory Maxique, the 6-2 forward from Pine Bluff, Ark., split the cords for 32 points to pace the victors. It was Maxique's hot handed antics in the final three minutes of play that turned the tide for the Bisons.

With game in a 59-59 stalemate, lanky Maxique pushed in three sticker to send the overflow Howard partisans into a state of hysterics.

Fight Halts Game

The enthusiastic Bison supporters got so lathered that several of them started a sideline brawl with a few Morgan followers.

The exchange turned into a free-for-all causing the game to be halted with 23 seconds remaining.

Ernest (Sonny) Goodman, of Howard's public relations department, and Thomas Johnson, football coach, broke up the impromptu struggle permitting the game to end with Howard in front 73-67.

Ernie Garrett, half of Morgan's G - men team of Bob Gardner and Garrett, tallied 28 points. Tom Harris, 5-10 guard of Howard scored 22 points.

The loss was Morgan's tenth in 19 starts.
