HONEST VALUES

---AT---

Kilbourn, Bramble & Noland's

IF YOU READ THE PAPERS CAREFULLY you may have concluded that this store is somewhat remiss in its duty in having nothing to sell at less than its worth. Much as we regret that we have to sell $5 for $5 articles, and so on up to $10 and $15 for $10 and $15 articles, we're consoled by the knowledge that no other store gives so much value for the money as we do, and we have the further satisfaction of doing a STRAIGHT business with STRAIGHT goods at STRAIGHT prices.

Any man who wants good goods and his money's worth can come here and choose from the largest stock and widest variety in the county—every article here is high-grade and fully guaranteed.

Step in to-day or any day and see the goods that we are selling. Compare them with the "cut rate" offerings you see advertised. If you don't find better articles here for less money than elsewhere, then we won't expect your trade.

Furthermore, we accord the same service and attention to your "phone" orders, or your servants or children as we do to you in person. We seek the reputation of being the dependable store. Won't you let us "show you?"

HESSIAN FLY INJURY CAN BE PREVENTED.

Seasonable Planting Of Wheat Is Recommended.

NICHOLAS SCHMITZ,
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

The loss in this State of the 1915 wheat crop from the Hessian fly, while not generally as severe as in some years in the past, was nevertheless considerable, and should be taken as a warning of what may follow in another year. Now is the proper time to begin fighting this pest, and in order to combat it effectively something must be known of its life-history.

There are at least 2 generations of the fly each year, one in the fall and one the following spring. The spring generation may be considered as the children of the fall generation. At the present time the fly may be found in the wheat fields in what is known as the "flaxseed" stage, from which the adult will begin to emerge about the middle of August and continue to do so until sometime in October or later, depending upon the weather and latitude. The maximum emergence usually occurs the last 2 weeks in September or the first week in October, depending upon the locality. The usual recommendations given for combating the fly by discing or plowing under the stubble early in July or August are not practical in Maryland, because the majority of the stubble fields must be left on account of the grass crop they hold. The best methods that the Maryland farmer can employ are: First, seeding after the maximum period of adult emergence, and, second, crop rotations. Trapping the fly by sowing narrow strips of wheat and later plowing them under deeply and packing the land firmly by rolling will help when this is practical. All voluntary wheat should also be destroyed, or, what is perhaps better, it should not be allowed to grow.

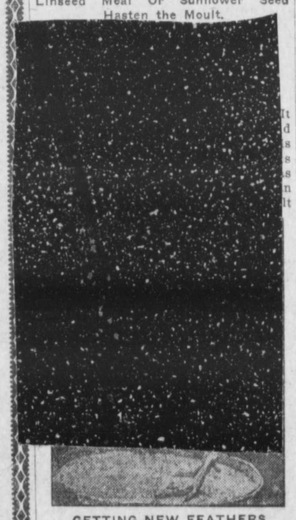

It must be remembered, however, that if one man makes every effort possible to destroy the fly the effectiveness of his work may largely be destroyed if his neighbor does not do the same thing, since the fly may go from one field to another to lay the egg which hatches into the magot that does the damage. Therefore the adoption of a date which will make a uniformly safe period for the sowing of wheat in each locality by all farmers is of greatest importance. From observations and reports of the State Entomologist, he has recommended the following dates in the surrounding country of the following cities and towns of the State:

Oakland	Sept. 12-19.
Hagerstown	Oct. 1- 7.
Frederick	Oct. 3-10.
Westminster	Sept. 25-Oct. 5.
Rockville	Oct. 2- 8.
Germantown	Oct. 2- 8.
Ellicott City	Oct. 2- 9.
LaPlata	Oct. 9-18.
Gockeysville	Oct. 3-10.
Bel Air	Oct. 2- 9.
Elkton	Oct. 2- 9.
Chestertown	Oct. 6-16.
Easton	Oct. 9-16.

Dates of sowing for adjoining sections to the above can be figured by moving forward the date of sowing 1 day for each 20 miles north and 1 day for each hundred feet in elevation from the given town.

FEEDING FOR THE MOULT.

Linseed Meal Or Sunflower Seed Hasten the Moult.

GETTING NEW FEATHERS.

naturally. Give the moulting hens plenty of feed rich in protein. The feathers contain large amounts of this product and make a heavy drain upon the bird's supply. The feathers will grow out after a fashion even though the hens are not fed a special feed, but they will not come through with the same degree of health and vitality they would have if properly cared for.

In addition to the regular rations give a small proportion of linseed meal. About 10 per cent. of the regular mash has been found to be good. This would be ten pounds of linseed meal to each ninety pounds of the mash mixture. If sunflower seeds are available they make an excellent moulting feed but it would hardly pay to buy them at present prices unless you are raising special exhibition stock.
